Bonham & Currier have announced that Wednesday afternoon of each week their stores will be closed during the summer months. Other leading stores are closing on Thursday afternoons. It is believed that later on most all lines of business will take a half holiday during the summer, excepting the industrial plants. Portland merchants are adopting a like rule. This is splendid thing to do, and the patrons will no doubt appreciate the public spiritedness of the business men, as well as the employees. The Review has decided to fall in line, also, but as the middle of the week is our busiest we shall have to utilize Saturday afternoons instead. Therefore, the Review office will be closed each Saturday afternoon until further notice.

Roses.

The month of roses again is here; The sweetest time of all the year; With perfume sweet and beauty rare, Beautiful roses grow everywhere. They fill our yards with gorgeous bloom. The air is laden with sweet perfume. They grow in rows and hedges deep, And sometimes in at our windows peep. They climb over wall and sill, Even to the roof they climb with skill. They cover cottage or elegant home, With myriads of perfect bloom. They bloom for rich and poor the same. Of every color, race and name; Then treat them kindly, give them care, And they'll fill your yards with roses fair. Oh, how we love the beautiful rose; It is the sweetest flower that grows. We're glad when the month of June is here, The sweetest time of all the year. —Edith Hufford.

SCHOOL NOTES

Happenings Told In An Interesting Way

Under the direction of Mrs. G. M. Hall the class play of the graduating class of the James High is progressing quite well. The play, "The Juniors," is to be given Tuesday, June 24, and will be part of the program for the last week of school. For the last two weeks regular rehearsals have been held and everything points toward an interesting and successful production. Several of the cast are showing unsuspected dramatic talent. The following is the cast of the play:
Edward Moore—Basil Smith.
"Jimmie" Monroe—John McGregor.
"Thin" Smith—Frank Bugbee.
"Demosthenes"—Merwyn—T. Cochran.
"Silk" Ricketts—Wilbur Belinger.
"Willy" Rockwell—Cyril Magone.
Thomas J. Highfield—Eugene Thurmond.
President Fowler—Flavius West.
Janet Hale—Luelle Whelan.
Mabel Gray—Lulu Day.
Verda Griswald—Edna Hollenbeck.
Violet—Florence Wans.
The graduating class of 1913 was delightfully entertained by the second term Juniors on last Friday evening at the High School. The lower hall was beautifully decorated with ferns and ivy, with a huge jardiniere filled with moss roses, the class flower, had the place of honor under the fountain. Refreshments were served in the Faculty room, and needless to say, were thoroughly enjoyed by all present. A pink moss rose at each place again showed recognition of the Seniors. After an hour most satisfactorily spent at this beautiful table, the party broke up, not, however, until the appreciation of the Seniors had been shown in a lusty cheer for the Junior class. This was followed by cheers from all for the Seniors, the Faculty, and last, but not least, for James John High. Although there were heaps of good things left after the party disbanded, we understand very little of anything was found when the Juniors appeared on the scene next morning to straighten things up. Another pleasant party was given Saturday evening, June 7, when the Freshmen entertained the upper classmen. The program was divided into two parts, the first being the play, "A Case of Suspension," given by ten of the historic stars of the Freshman class. Jonas, the hired man of the play, was ably represented by George Hufford, with black beard and pitchfork. Lillian Hodgins as Miss Judkins made a very prim old fashioned teacher. The second part was a mock commencement in which personages to be present at the real graduation were tellingly impersonated. After a ten minute intermission came the mock commencement. This portion of the program consisted of the reading of the class valedictory, salutatory, history, prophecy, will and poem by the various mock graduates, and of the presentation of the diplomas. Musical numbers on the program were a violin solo by Flavius West and a song by the girls' glee club. After the program refreshments were served in the laboratory, which was beautifully decorated for the occasion. At a late hour all departed, declaring the entertainment one of the best ever given at James John High. Everett Smith has returned to James John and again resumed the routine work of school. All the students were glad to learn that on Wednesday and Thursday afternoons of this week there was to be no school. Every one was supposed to take in the Rose Show in these afternoons. Saturday afternoon C. Magone, our star athlete, will participate in the P. N. A. athletic meet, held on the Multnomah field. The drawing class of the first term Freshmen presented Mr. Fry with a large desk blotter, which was the product of their combined efforts. J. H. Ackerman, president of the State Normal School of Multnomah and former State Superintendent, will deliver the Commencement address in the High School auditorium Thursday evening, June 27. F. P. Drinker, President of the Board of Education, will present the diplomas to the graduates.

The M. S. Dollar discharged a large cargo of sulphur for the Crown Columbia Paper Co., the recent lessees of the dock, at the dock last week. It was surprising the floor space required to house a ship load of sulphur, the entire floor space of the large dock being completely covered. A number of visitors witnessed the discharging of the first cargo to unload at the city dock.

The Best Light At The Lowest Cost

ELECTRIC LIGHT is the most suitable for homes, offices, shops and other places needing light. Electricity can be used in any quantity, large or small, thereby furnishing any required amount of light. Furthermore, electric lamps can be located in any place, thus affording any desired distribution of light.

No other lamps possess these qualifications, therefore it is not surprising that electric lamps are rapidly replacing all others in modern establishments.
