Local News.

Every Wednesday is double stamp day at Currins.

The new library building will cost $15,000, instead of $25,000, as first reported.

Dr. B. F. Rambo and family leave today in his auto for Tillamook. They expect to be gone about two weeks.

Captain B. L. Snow, who has been confined to his home with a severe attack of illness, is able to be about again and is almost as sprightly and full of fire and vigor as ever.

Many St. Johns folks took in the grocers' picnic at Bonneville last week. The principal stores of the city were closed for the occasion. All report a most delightful time.

Rev. Paul Rood, a former local boy, preached a most interesting sermon in the Congregational church last Sunday morning. He is pastor of a Swedish Mission in Chicago.

The so-called vice clique, which made an unsavory mess last Fall in Portland will probably never be punished. Two who were convicted and given penitentiary terms are at liberty, the supreme court having reversed the trial court. Their names are Dr. Harry Start and E. E. Wedemeyer. A third, E. S. J. McAllister, has just been turned loose without bonds or a trial by Judge McGinn.—Gresham Outlook.

Deputy Game Warden Frank Ervin is still active in pursuing violators of the game laws in this vicinity. Last Friday before Judge Williams' court, Lewis Garnsey was convicted of fishing without a license on Oregon Slough and was fined $25 and costs. On the same day Nick Spahn was convicted of fishing without an alien license and received the same punishment. It pays to observe the law, otherwise fishing is a pretty expensive pastime.

Mrs. Percy Douglass almost won the automobile in the Telegram picture contest which closed recently. Out of the 77 answers she was incorrect in only one instance, and the right answer to that one she had secured but overlooked it when she sent her answers in. Her total number of answers was 121 less than had the winner of the auto. However, Mrs. Douglass received a handsome photograph for her efforts but the disappointment in finding that she had overlooked the answer that would have brought her first prize was not small.

M. T. Chase of Vancouver has purchased the P. A. Bredeen grocery store on North Jersey street.

Thos. Autzen has returned from an extended sojourn at the principal cities of Europe. He reports a most delightful time.

G. W. Richter and family have moved from Newberg to 933 South Jersey street, and will make this city their permanent home.

The city authorities have been doing splendid work in having weeds cut throughout the city. The improvement is most marked.

Joseph Bickner, who has been spending most of his time in the gold fields of Southern Oregon, was a visitor in St. Johns the latter part of last week.

A number of benedicts held a delightful dance in the rink last Friday evening. Sneed's three-piece orchestra furnished pleasing music for the occasion.

W. E. Whelan and family left yesterday morning for California where they will make their home in Alameda. Their many friends here were sorry to see them depart.

At a meeting of the stockholders of the Peninsula National Bank yesterday morning, Thos. Autzen was elected director in place of Robt. Treat Platt, who was forced to resign owing to the stress of other business demanding his attention.

The St. Johns Pharmacy baseball team defeated the Portsmouth club on the local grounds Sunday by a score of 9 to 4. The game was an interesting one, the star feature of which was a difficult one-handed catch in left field by Foss of the locals. The Business Men's club played a game on the Dawson street grounds at the same time. Their opponents were the Stilletos of Portland, the latter winning by a score of 8 to 4.

One would naturally expect the G. A. R. and its allied societies would have lost interest in their society after so many years, but they did not seem to at their county convention last Saturday. Over two hundred veterans registered and nearly three hundred joined the auxiliary, the W. R. C. and Ladies of G. A. R., uniting to make the annual picnic a success. H. B. Compson W. R. C. received five new members at its last meeting.—Press Correspondent.

Edward Wilson of Willamette boulevard has the thanks of the editor for a most delicious mess of roasting ears, which he raised at his home. The ears were fully developed, and of the Golden West variety. Mr. Wilson states that he has been using the corn since July 23, which is certainly some early in the season for sweet corn.

40 acres, oak timber and brush, easily cleared; can all be cultivated; four miles from Oakland, Douglas county, Oregon; to trade for house and lot or vacant lots in St. Johns. Will give good trade. This is a chance for some young fellow to make a farm home. We will assume street improvements or small mortgage.—McKinney & Davis.

Constable J. F. Mitchell had the misfortune to break his right leg below the knee yesterday afternoon. He was in the act of assisting in getting the hose cart out of the city hall horse house preparatory to taking it to a blacksmith shop for repairs, when the wheel struck a small stone swerving the cart to one side and catching the heel of Mr. Mitchell, throwing him to the ground and twisting and breaking several bones in his leg. The injury is a most painful one.

The Mothers' meeting at the city hall next Monday will be of interest to all the residents of St. Johns. The general subject is Town Planning, and the papers are: My Idea of a Beautiful Town—Mrs. A. P. Surrier. How Some Other Towns Have Been Made Beautiful—Mrs. Myrtle Weeks. What Can We Do to Make St. Johns Beautiful—Miss Lulu Magone. The discussion will be led by Mrs. J. Schrimmer, and we hope a goodly number will come prepared to help out in the discussion. These meetings can be made very profitable if we all take an interest in these things.—Cor.

THINK OF THE PROFIT

Think of the profit you will gain in a few years by maintaining a savings account at the Peninsula National Bank.

The sum you accumulate will, in itself, be a profit on your living, possibly clear profit, for without a savings account you may not have it at all.

And then your savings here will pay year after year, an assured interest return—profit on your profit. Opportunity beckons you to this Bank. Will you respond to it?

COUNCIL MEETS

Matters of Importance
Receive Attention

All members of the city council were present at the regular weekly meeting Tuesday evening, with Mayor Bredeson presiding.

A communication from several property owners on Crawford street stated that they would not remonstrate against the hard surfacing of the street between Pittsburg and Burlington provided the excavation work was done at the city's expense. This street was macadamized about fifteen months ago, and the property owners felt that it was an imposition to require them to pay for removal of a portion of the crushed rock so soon after it had been laid. As the city needed the rock for repair work, it was decided to pay from the general fund such sum as was necessary to place the street at the proper grade for hard surfacing. The city engineer estimated that the cost of such work would not exceed $190. A resolution was adopted providing for this contingency.

The Peninsula Iron Works asked that the P. R. L. & P. Co. be instructed to remove the electric light poles in the way of the proposed sidetrack on Bradford street, and the recorder was directed to so notify the company. James E. Kirk agreed to accept $200 for a strip off his land on North Willamette boulevard for street purposes, and the city attorney was instructed to arrange for the transfer.

A strong protest was lodged against the proposed improvement of East Polk street, Attorney B. L. Snow appealing for the remonstrators, and Attorney P. C. Stroud represented the property owners desiring the improvement. Quite a legal battle ensued. Matter was finally held over for one week in order to ascertain the actual amount of property represented by the remonstrance.

Chief of Police Allen, in behalf of the police department, asked for vacations of ten days for each member of the police department, which was granted, with the understanding that only one member be absent at one time.

A resolution was ordered drafted for the improvement of Central avenue between John street and the south city limits by cement walk and curb.

A resolution to improve East Burlington street from Jersey to Central avenue by sidewalk and curb was adopted.

A resolution appointing John Poff, Daniel Brecht and L. N. Bellinger viewers on the proposed opening of St. Johns avenue, was adopted.

A fire hydrant was ordered installed at the corner of E. Burr street and Willamette boulevard.

An ordinance prohibiting the carrying of liquor into pool and card rooms was ordered drawn. G. L. Perrine remonstrated against the city paying for cleaning up the streets in front of the business houses and compelling the residents to clean up at their own expense, which he declared was class legislation and unfair. No action taken.

The following bills were ordered paid:

O. J. Gatzmyer, filing answer, case Dealeet vs. City, $5.50; Geo. McCallam, labor and material for police lockers, $21.85; County clerk, filing three deeds, $5; Fay Robinson, cutting weeds, $15; L. Van Duzen, ditto, $15; B. Wanless, ditto, $15; H. Williams, ditto, $15; Paul Nelson, ditto, $15; A. A. Wilson, ditto, $13.75; J. J. Jerabek, cutting weeds and work on police lockers, $16.55; C. F. Brooks, cutting weeds, $5; A. B. Strait, ditto, $15; E. Jones, ditto, $13.75; Fred Ziegler, ditto, $15; W. A. Flynn, ditto, $15; Bert Simmons, inspecting Richmond street, $15; G. H. Lemon, inspecting Fessenden street, $30; Bert Olin, work on street, $6.25; Bailey Mfg. Co., paint for city dock, $310.20; Studebaker Bros., repairs to street sprinkler, $3; E. C. Robison, work on street, $15; John Kline, ditto, $15; Geo. Skaar, ditto, $15; Fred Brown, work on city dock, $24; J. M. Walker, ditto, $24; St. Johns Water Co., water for months of April, May and June, $676.81, making a total of $1333.66.

The Two Fire Places

The following poem was presented to G. L. Perrine by an uncle who is eighty years of age: I sat before a modern fire place With vacuum draught and mantle of grace, And while I was musing my thoughts were turned To the distant past, as the fire burned.

To the old stone fire place of my boyhood days, When hide and seek and all such plays, With snap and ketch'em and blind man's buff, Never realizing that we had enough.

The old stone fire place with its mantle and hearth In young memory's vaults is the dearest on earth; With back log and forestick and brands of bright fire, It thrills with emotion my heart's tuneful lyre.

Their familiar faces draw near one by one; Their stories, their fancies through my memory run; The old family Bible is taken down from the stand, With an air of respect and a trembling hand.

And circling around that old fire place Joined parents and children thanking God for His grace, Consecrating themselves and their children to God, To walk in the way the Prophets have trod.

And now as I sit before a fire place so fine, Presented to me by one so lovingly kind, My heart joins in with our forefathers' prayers That God in His mercy for children would care.

And the prayers that have ascended on that dear old sod, That we be an unbroken family in the Kingdom of God, My heart says Amen with my kinsmen of yore As I sit tonight, just past four score.

And as I am musing I come face to face With the dear ones gone by as their faces I trace, Again I'm a boy around the beloved old hearth, Popping corn, cracking nuts in boisterous mirth.

But all of a sudden I jump in surprise; Two soft arms around my neck, two mischievous eyes, "Good night, grandpa, I am going to bed."

To dispel all my reveries that was all that was said, And I want to say a word of thanks to the one That has made it possible under the sun That we may sit this winter with our feet to the fire—Our dear brother's son, the son of his sire.

These lines are dedicated to G. L. Perrine, My dear namesake, son of Jacob in line, Whose mother, Jane Lincoln, in memory dear, Was a kin to A. Lincoln, seems very clear.
