That Oregon pears are meeting with an enthusiastic welcome in Eastern markets is indicated by the sale of fifteen cars of Rogue River Bartlett's at the best price received since 1907—$2 per box f. o. b. Medford. Probably the highest price ever received for pears in quantities was that paid to a Medford grower in 1910, when a car load of Anjou pears brought a total of $2,228.20 to the grower, being 5 cents each for all the pears in the car.

The excitement over Thaw's escape seems out of proportion to its cause. If he is insane he has committed a freak for which he is not responsible. If he is not insane, he is entitled under the law to his freedom. In either case a rational citizen ought to view his escapade with equanimity and, following Dogberry's sage advice, "thank God that he is rid of an arrant knave." To some it appears that Thaw has done his country a signal service by leaving it—if he will only stay away.—Oregonian.

SAVE IT? SPEND IT?

The way you accustom yourself to answer these questions between pay-days will determine much when your opportunity comes. Answering them with restraint and due consideration for your future, will find you ready at the favored moment. It is the person who yields always to the desire to spend who sees opportunity slip through his fingers after tantalizing him with its presence.
