RIGHT HAND RULE.

The Way It is Applied in Driving and In Navigation.

London's drivers, sitting on the right wide of the driver's sent, turn to the left. Why? In order that looking down at the right side of the vehicle they may gauge to a fraction of an inch the hubs of a vehicle meeting them. In the United States the driver still preserves the right side of the sent and in turning to the right of the roadway has the least knowledge of where his bubs may be in passing.

But in international navigation the right hand rules always obtain. It is the narrow channel winding into a port where the extremest of emphasis ing placed "The Gospel Roll" beside is laid upon the vessel keeping to starboard, no matter how many crooks and turns and loops the channel may make.

This was illustrated in a collision on the Whangpoo river, in China, when the Pekin and the Normandie collided. The Normandie was descending the stream, keeping to starboard. The Pekin was ascending the channel, keeping to its starboard. At a sharp turn in the channel the two boats collided. The Pekin's master declared that owing to the sharp bend in the river it was a "crossing" case, in which the Normandle was to binme,

In the house of lords, however, it was held that the right of any channel of any degree of sinussity lay at the right of the channel's center; that, therefore, when the Pekin failed to observe the rule in the sharp bend and "cut across" It became an offender against the law and must pay damages.-Chicago Tribune.

EYE OF THE CAMERA.

The Picture It Brought From Out a Dark Cavern.

Dr. Francis Clark told an interesting story of a youth living in Maine who was out in the woods one day taking photographs of attractive bits of scenery. He came upon the mouth of a little cavern between the rocks, and he said to himself, "I will see what sort of picture I cay get out of that cave," and as it was a dark day be decided to take a "time exposure" instend of a "snapshot." Steadying the camera upon his knee as well as he could at the edge of the cave, he gave the sensitive plate a long, deliberate look at the semidarkness within. Then be continued his tramp through the woods and after a few hours returned to his camp. Several weeks afterward, when developing his plates, you can imagine his astonishment to see in the picture, In the very center of the cavern, with arched back and bristling fur and within springing distance of the spot where he had balanced his camera, a huge Canada lynx that might easily have destroyed his life. And yet he came and went and saw no signs of danger.-Christian Herald.

Proving a Statement. A certain minister, who is an emphatic preacher, is at times at a loss to give his utterances proper weight. For instance, he'll say:

This statement is as true as is the night which will follow day," or "as true as that the trees will bud in is yet on his or her way to church." the edifice and swept grandly up the of it. aisle. The doctor's face assumed an "I told you so" appearance. The congregation began to smile, then to laugh. Sympathy for the embarrassed lady, however, soon subdued the apparently uncontrollable mirth.

The Parrots of Mexico.

What the wild pigeon once was in point of numbers to the United States the parrot, of varying shades of color and all sizes, is to old Mexico. Flights of these birds frequently darken the midday sun to the hot country, and they become so tame around the camps of engineers that the birds are given individual names and soon become regular pets. Whenever the parrots desert the forest and alight on the ground in the open spaces of the jungie the natives recognize their actions as sure warning of an impending earthquake. American engineers indorse this belief and assert that serious accidents which might have been averted have resulted when the warn ing of the birds was noted, but un-

A Line on Mother. "I don't see how I'm over to get : chance again with this boy around." walled the little widow with the small "The other day a man I like awfully well asked me how old the town was that we came from. The boy spoke up without giving me a chance to put in a word: "'I don't know just how old it is." he said, but it must be pretty old be cause mamma was born in it." -- New York Press.

Had His Hands Full.

Judge-Why didn't you seize the thief when you found him? Policeman-How could 1? I had my club in one hand and my revolver in the other!-Filegende Blatter. A Disaster.

Hostess-Mr. Squibs is going to sing a comic song. Guest-1 knew something would happen. I upset the sait at the dinner table. - Stray Stories.

REVIEW'S LEGAL BLANKS

The following list of legal blanks are kept for sale at this office and others will be added as the demand

Deeds, Realty and Chattel Mortgages, Satisfaction of Mortgages, Contracts for Sale of Realty, Bills

All these blanks at the uniform price of 30c per dozen.

A Buttered Book

How the Rev. Mr. Johnston, a Scot tish minister and the author of nu merous books, succeeded in getting one of his works reviewed by Alexander Russel, the distinguished editor of the Scotsman, is told by the writer of "Fatnous Editors." A member of Mr. Johnston's congre gation was an old and valued servant in Mr. Russel's family. When the prencher published his new book he asked this member to bring it under the notice of her master, with the request to review it in the columns of the Scotsman. Glad to be of service to her master, the good woman lost no time in making her wish known to the celebrated editor and next morn-his breakfast cup When at breakfast Mr. Russel took up the book and remarked, with a merry twinkle in his eye, "Helen, this is an awful dry roll which you have given me this morning."

"Perhaps It is, sir," the servant quickly replied, "but you can butter it weel on both sides." Next morning an excellent review appeared.

Conkling and Thurman. Senator Roscoe Conkling was once ddressing the senate in an impassioned manner and seemed to direct his remarks to Senator Thurman. At ength the latter got irritated.

"Does the senator from New York," he roared, "expect me to answer him every time he turns to me?"

For a moment Mr. Conkling hesitat ed, and everybody expected a territic explosion. Then, with an air of ex quisite courtesy, he replied:

"When I speak of the law I turn to the senator from Ohlo as the Mussul man turns toward Mecca. I turn to him as I do to the English common law as the world's most copious fountain of human Jurisprudence."

The usually decorous senate broke Into a storm of applause, and the Thurman eye moistened a little. The two statesmen were the best of friends and greatly enjoyed each other's society when "off duty."

A Wetter if Not a Better Man. A little man in the west of England rushed to the river last summer, swearing loudly that he would drown him When he had waded in to the depth of his waist his wife, who had followed him, seized him by the hair, and then, as a local editor described it, she led him back till he reached a place where the water was about two feet deep, where she pulled him over buckward and soused him under and pulled his head up again. 'Drown yourself (down he went), leaving me to father the brats! (Another plunge.) Get drunk (another souser and start for the river! (Another dip.) Better use the water instead of rum! (Another dip and shake of the head.) I'll l'arn ye to leave me a widow!" After sozzling him to her heart's content she led him out a wetter if not a better man and escorted him into the house and closed the

The Gordian Knot.

The famous Gordian knot was made of leather taken from some part of the barness belonging to the charlot of Gordius, king of Phrygla. It seems that this knot was so tied that the ends of the leather thoug were not vis Sometimes it happens that the doc- thie, hence the difficulty in loosening tor has more statements than he has it. Many must have tried to untile it. illustrations to give them weight. On | for its fame as a "sticker" at last one such occasion he remarked, "This | reached the great oracle, which declar is as true as the"- Here the doctor | ed that the lucky experimenter should halted. He paused a few moments, be rewarded by the kingship of Perand then his face illumined-"as true sia. Alexander, trying his hand and as is the statement that some member | meeting with no better success than the others, drew his sword and cut A few moments later a lady entered Into the knot until he found the ends

> Right to the Point. When the lord chief justice visited treland he was often entertained by a hospitable gentleman who had an old butler, who took the privilege of speaking his mind freely. On one occasion the claret did not quite meet the host's approval, so he called the ancient but ler and said:

> "I told you you were to put the best duret on the table. Is this the best?" "No, sorr, it is not the best claret." replied the old fellow, "but it's the best ye've got."-London Tit-Bits.

Cnew He Was Worshiped.

"In Paris Mr. Whistler and an English painter got into a very turbulent argument about Velasquez at a studio tea," said an artist. "Mr. Whistler at one point in the argument praised him self extravagantly. The Englishman, listoning, succred and said at the end: 'It's a good thing we can't see our elves as others see us

"isn't it, though?" said Mr. Whistler, I know in my case I should grow in tolerably conceited.""

Theology and the Thermometer.

A point of theology is raised by 8h Francis Younghusband in "India and Tiber." "An interesting detail," he says, speaking of the religion of the untives. "is that their hell is not hot. but cold. If it were bot the inhabitants of frozen Tibet would all flock

Clever Auntie.

Traveler-It seems wonderful that Japanese dentists can take out teeth with their fingers. Little Jack-Auntle can take out hers with her fingers every one of 'em!

Perfection. Perfection does not exist. To understand it is the triumph of human intelligence; to desire to possess it is the most dangerous kind of madness.-Alfred de Musset.

Sin every day takes out a patent for some new invention.-Whipple.

The Bungalow Store

408 N. Jersey St.

Warranty deeds, Quit Claim Groceries, Confectionery, Ice Cream Fruit, Cigars, Tobacco, Etc.

E. F. Moore, Prop.

Parliamentary Joke by a New South

tect native flowers from ruthless destruction. The honorable member upbuttonhole?

The introducer of the bill promptly offered to extend the list to include So half the shellfish on the coast, including the periwinkle, were added to the flowers worthy of protec-

DON'T MIND BIG NOISES.

But Slight, Rustling Sounds Make Gi

Among the curious characteristics of the giraffe is its strange indifference peculiar "scariness" with reference to notice, but should it be approached by a woman whose skirts give out but the slightest rustle the sound thereof causes the giraffe to start up with

Officials of a zoological institution, silimited near a canal, tell of a curious instance of this peculiarity of giraffes After a terrible explosion of gunpow der on a barge on the canal the scep ers were astonished to observe that the giraffes took little notice of the tremendous blast. They jumped to their feet, but almost at once lay down again when they found that nothing extraordinary had happened in their inclosure. But were a keeper at night to creep along outside that Inclosure in his stocking feet the queer bensts would exhibit such terror that one would imagine them about to dash themselves in terror against the fences. Giraffes fear the lurking foe, and a blg bang scares them hardly at all. To them the faint, rustling sound is a to ken of the greatest danger. In that respect they are like deer.-New York

Holland is to me one of the most in teresting countries in Europe, writes George R. Sims. Apart from the exeltement of having to do a bit of Blondin, with the edge of a canal for your tight rope, at intervals of a few minutes all day long, the Dutch themselves furnish you never ending study. I love to see the little Dutch boy of six smoking his clay pipe or his cigar as he clings to his mamma's skirt. There is something at once novel and startling in finding Dutch cheese and a penny bun placed in front of every guest at the breakfast table. In a land where a public company is a Maatschappij and nearly every house of restauration announces that the thirsty traveler can there obtain "Tapperij, Slitterij and Slemp," there is ai-

Oath of the Turkish Doctor. The oath which young doctors take in Turkey when they come before the medical examining board contains the following piedge: "That when I am called at the same time by two differ ent patients, the one rich and the other poor, I will accept the call of the poor without taking into consideration the money offered and will do my best for his treatment, and that I will never decline to answer any call, day or night. during the reign of common diseases or of an epidemic of contagious dis-

Keeping His Word.

Fishing Luck.

"Yes. Counting those that got away and those we threw back, we almost

Her Criticism. "I wish Fritz would write his figures plainer. I can't possibly tell from his letter whether it is 1,000 or 10,000 in order to insure a change of advertisement the copy for such change should reach this office not later than Wednesday, at 3 o'clock p. m. Please remember this and save the printer

You get full weight and first quality at the Central market. Just try awhile.

Wales Solon. Australia once had a great public loke, which was played openly in the New South Wales state parliament by a member who afterward became at torney general.

A bill had been introduced to pro rose and sympathized. He informed the introducer of the bill-a somewhat pempous gentleman-that be heartly approved. But why these invidious distinctions? The bill protected-and he quoted all the botanical names in the bill.

But why were other flowers equally deserving neglected? Why were-and here he reeled off a long list of the Latin names for cockles, mussels, oys ters, etc,-why were these sweet flowers to be blighted in their bloom by being plucked by any prowling excursionist who wanted something in his

The officials of the house discovered the boox next day and set it right. But the joke was too good to be kept quiet, and all Australia chuckled at the expense of the pompous legislator -London Answers.

raffes Tremble With Fear.

to loud noises as contrasted with its slight sounds. Noisy sounds, like that of a man walking near in hobnatied boots, the giraffe does not appear to pricked ears and eyes distended in ways something to amuse you.

Many Things Different In Heiland.

"Henry, you owe me $5. You remember that bet you made me last week that you wouldn't smoke any more for a menth. Well, I saw you walking down the street last night smoking a big cigar." "I'm not smoking any more: I'm simply smoking the usual amount."-Exchange.

Aunt Prisms-I am shocked at you. Maude. You permitted young Mr. Jones to kiss you. Mande-He only just touched me on the nose, auntle, Aunt Prisms-It was quite out of place, my dear. Maude-He knew it was, auntie. But you came in so suddenly, you see.

"Have any tuck on your fishing got seven."-Detroit Free Press.

kisses that he sends me."-Fliegende Blatter.

NOTICE TO ADVERTISERS.

Pay your subscription.

Ladies' Store that we will offer at saving prices. Our Men's Toggery will continue making special prices on the odd lines of remains a few lines of hosiery at the

In the meantime, we are working on our inventory with a view to getting it finished so we can get ready the best lines for fall we have yet shown. The Florsheim Shoes and Peck Clothing for fall are and will be here on display after September.

shoes and underwear.

We have placed in stock a large assortment of the Richardson Embroidery Patterns and shall endeavor to merit the patronage of the St. Johns' ladies on these at our Ladies' Store.

BONHAM & CURRIER

THE SULZER IMPEACHMENT

State affairs in New York present a humiliating spectacle, That great commonwealth is almost without a state government. The deadly struggle between Governor Sulzer and Boss Murphy has produced chaos. Administrative functions are paralyzed. Salaries are unpaid, through Murphy's order to his state controller not to pay them. There is no money for transport of prisoners, for similar reasons,

The highway department is paralyzed for lack of men and funds. The prison department is powerless, though conditions at Sing Sing are frightful. The labor department is crippled, because Murphy's legislature refuses to confirm the governor's appointments.

The governor's appointing power is practically reduced to the naming of his own stenographer and a few clerks. He is stripped by Murphy of his power of appointment, by the course of the legislature in remaining in session, or adjourning only for recesses, which has the same effect as continuous session. The process keeps in office Murphy proteges whom the governor could dismiss and supersede with interim appointments.

No governor of any state was ever so completely at bay. It is done by Murphy, who holds no office, who was never given any commission by the people of New York, who, in fact, has no visible means of support. Though without a solitary credential, he is for the time being exercising a greater power in governing the state of New York than is the legally elected governor. Murphy delivers orders to the legislature, and it obeys. He has ordained the destruction of the governor, and the legislature has brought impeachment proceedings. Though the people elected Sulzer governor and though the constitution directs that their choice shall state executive, Murphy is in practical control. His government is government by an invisible power.

The fight is the fight of the people of New York against Tammany and the Republican machine. It is the fight Hughes had to face. Dix was destroyed by the same struggle. He cast his lot with Tammany, and, with the sentiment against the organization mounting. Murphy jet-tisoned him at the last conven-

After his inauguration Sulzer had to choose between Tammany and the anti-Tammany sides, and he cast his lot with the independents. It brought the wrath of the Barnes and Murphy bipartisan combine upon him. He refused to make Murphy appointments, and Murphy declared that Sulzer would be out of office in six months. With implacable fury, the fight for his removal is now on. The Murphy charges against Sulzer are serious. Sulzer is accused of using campaign funds for speculating in Wall Street stocks. The charges are by brokers who are angry because of legislation procured by Sulzer restricting their business. Sulzer denies part of the charges and offers explanation of others.

Yet, in spite of his splendid fight for district primaries and clean government. Sulzer is under a cloud. His adminsitration is compromised. Murphy's empire, above the New York constitution, the New York people and the New York laws, has at the first onset fought the governor to his knees. The above editorial, copied from the Oregon Daily Journal August 12, 1913, shows the deplorable conditions existing under the present financial system. which makes possible a minority control. Under the Bonville 99 Year System these conditions would not be possible, because the control is vested in the majority. No ONE man rule ob-

(Paid Advertisement)