

An Expression of Appreciation

To our kind friends and patrons:
We desire to express our appreciation of the generous support accorded us during the past season. Our success has been far beyond our fondest anticipation.
We have expanded our business based on our confidence in, and our knowledge of the progressiveness and fair mindedness of the citizens of St. Johns.
The people of this community have always demonstrated a desire to patronize a substantial and progressive firm, who were able and anxious to do well by them.
We have always followed the policy of gradually improving the quality of our goods and to keep our stock somewhat larger than the actual requirements. This policy gives our customers a decided advantage in being able to choose from large selections of patterns and grades, it also enables ourselves and our customers to buy superior goods at attractive prices.
It is indeed gratifying to note the increased demand on the part of our people for high grade furniture.
We therefore start the New Year highly resolved to put forth renewed energy in conducting an establishment in keeping with this progressive and flourishing Community.

We Wish you a Happy New Year

Prof. C. H. Boyd spent a few days in Goldendale, Wash., this week.
William Anderson left Monday for Hillsboro, where he will remain for some time.
Mr. and Mrs. Jud Kay of Broken Bow, Neb., are visiting their niece, Mrs. F. Kirkpatrick.
Allen Murray of Catlin, Wash., was a guest of his son, Edgar, on Richmond street, last Friday.
Mrs. George Lynn of Hood River was a guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. N. Byerlee over Christmas.
Mr. and Mrs. D. Ellis Young of Klamath Falls are guests at the home of F. W. Valentine on Charleston street.
The card party to be given by the Pythian Sisters has been postponed until the third Thursday evening of January.
A fine new billiard table has been added to the equipment of the St. Johns Commercial Club, and it is quite popular with the members.
Former Constable Mitchell was in St. Johns greeting old friends the latter part of last week. He is now located in the state of Washington.
The city primary election will be held March 7th, and registration will begin January 31st. The political pot will soon begin to boil once more.
J. Edgar Muck is home for the holidays from O. A. C. He is the son of Henry Muck, the efficient policeman, and is Pacific Coast inter-collegiate 158 pound champion wrestler. He will return to college this week.
With the tariff and currency questions that have been agitating the country for so long, now settled, the new year just beginning should prove to be one of the best in the country's history.
Fire destroyed the residence of M. Mackey on Burr street at 2:45 Monday morning. The building was under course of construction, and was practically a total loss. The origin of the fire is unknown.
Do not forget the Mothers' meeting at the city hall next Monday at 2:30. The subject is the first one on our new program for the year, "The Drug Habit." The paper is by Mrs. Dr. Brown, and will be very helpful to all of us. Our new programs are now ready for distribution. Come and get one.—Reporter.

Owing to the holiday season the news matter in the Review this week is quite limited.
English suffragettes must carry a match and a piece of sandpaper with them wherever they go.
Harry Thaw must begin to have about the same taste for experts that a small boy has for castor oil.
The British scientist who says wearing clothes "is a bad habit should be patient. We are getting away from it.
When Thomas A. Edison stops work he becomes sick. The great inventor could overcome that by working for somebody else at $1.75 a day.
The Bachelor Club held its second annual banquet at the St. Johns hotel last Saturday evening, and it was a most enjoyable affair.
The half price period of the Review closed January first, and the paper is now one dollar per year, as of yore. A large number of new subscribers have been added to the list.
Elmer Howard, 824 N. Edison street, secured the 10 pound roast offered by the Metropolitan Meat Market for the nearest guess on the weight of an enormous beef displayed in the market. Mr. Howard guessed the exact weight—985 pounds. Two others guessed the proper weight, but Mr. Howard's guess was first on the list.
The New Jersey statute authorizing the sterilization of feeble-minded, epileptics, criminals and other defectives, has been declared unconstitutional by the Supreme Court, as contrary to the Fourteenth Amendment to the Constitution. Justice Garrison declared that such a provision might be extended to include those regarded as undesirable by a majority of a prevailing Legislature. — Physical Culture.

The revival services of the M. E. Church are to begin and continue from the watch night services held Wednesday night, a full account of which will be given next week. Services at 7:45 Thursday and Friday nights of this week. No services Saturday night. Sunday morning regular services: Sunday School 9:50; communion service after the sermon at 11 a. m. Dr. J. W. McDougal of Portland, district superintendent, will be present to preach the sermon and conduct the communion service, assisted by the pastor, the Rev. W. Edwin Ingalls. A cordial welcome to all.

Death of Mrs. Cole

Mrs. Sophia Cole, a pioneer citizen of St. Johns, died at her home on Salem street at 3:15 Monday afternoon. She was born in Bellefleur, Ireland, September 19, 1828, and was therefore aged 85 years, 3 months and 10 days of age at the time of her death. Her husband preceded her to the grave about 14 years ago. Mrs. Cole had resided in St. Johns for the past twenty years, and was well liked by all who knew her. Her death was caused from paralysis, superinduced by an attack of pneumonia, and for three weeks prior to her death was unable to speak. She was the mother of eight children, five of whom are living, as follows: Rev. G. M. Cole of New Zealand, Rev. C. J. Cole of Eugene, W. A. Cole, a business man of Victoria, B. C.; E. S. Cole, an engineer of Seattle, Wash., and Miss Eliza Cole of St. Johns. For twenty years the deceased had been a member of the Adventist church. Owing to the Adventist church not being available, the funeral service was held in Congregational church Wednesday, Elder T. H. Starbuck, an old friend of the family officiating. W. H. Hamilton, who has been an intimate friend for the past forty years, was the undertaker in charge. Interment took place in Columbia cemetery. Many beautiful floral pieces were tendered by friends of the deceased.

The subject at the Baptist church Sunday morning will be: "Life's Greatest Work;" in the evening, a New Year's sermon. By special request the choir will repeat the anthem, "Who is This That Cometh?" by Howe; also "Oh, How Lovely is Zion" by McPhail, will be rendered. All are heartily welcome.

20th Century Fireplace

There are places here and places there
And places all over the world;
Places for water, places for fire,
Places where the smoke is curled.

In speaking of fireplaces,
I'll tell you a thing that is true:
Perrine's Vacuum Fireplace,
Is just the thing for you.

It burns either coal or wood,
It sweeps the cold like a broom;
It places the heat where you want it—
All around the room.

It gives pure ventilation,
You don't feel like being blue;
You have no scintillation,
For it all goes up the flue.

You're before a perfect fireplace,
The best there is to be had;
You take your lot with a good grace,
Think the world is not so bad.

—George C. Perrine, Jackson, Mich., Rural route No. 5.

Description of 20th Century Fireplace

The fireplace is so formed that the heat is suborned
Or induced back into the room,
Where the oxygen is burned,
A vacuum is formed,
That hugs the smoke back like a broom.

The draft is drawn from the basement,
It gives us pure, fresh hot air
With no cold coming in at the casement,
The pressure keeps it out there.

Everything is just to suit you,
For your comfort there is no lack;
There's no more burning your faces,
At the same time freezing your back.

Perrine's Vacuum Fireplace
Is certainly a wonder;
Indeed, it is a surprise,
For sure it is no back number,
For the wise still patronize.

—George C. Perrine, Jackson, Mich., Rural route No. 5.
