The looking glass has received more attention during the past couple of months than during any previous period in St. Johns. The reason has been to ascertain if a freckle might not have been transformed into a smallpox eruption over night.

A hillside scenic driveway 200 feet wide, a trolley line to run along it, new industries and a number of new residences and business structures are a few of the things scheduled to take place on the West Side of the river this year.

During the month of March the subscription price of the Review will again be reduced to fifty cents for one year. This will afford an opportunity for those who failed to take advantage of the low rate offered in December to do so. The reason for this reduction is that times have not yet brightened up as they will later, and there are a number of people in St. Johns who would like to take the paper, possibly, who are really not able to pay one dollar for it. And we want to give our advertisers the best possible service. A gratifying number were added to the list in December, and it is expected that many more will be added during this low rate period. We will be glad for any helpful suggestion, and while you are helping us you might get something helpful in return.—Reporter.

A smallpox quarantine placard tacked on the front of the house is certainly an adornment not universally coveted, but still it possesses a certain amount of usefulness, nevertheless. For instance, it is remarkable how few are the burglaries attempted in that neighborhood. Tramps pass up such houses on the jump; book agents never ring the bell; bill collectors forget that such a patron ever existed, while even the candidate passes sorrowfully on.

The studio, to which she invites the public to inspect after it is ready for opening, will be handsome in all its appointments.

Every citizen entitled to the right of suffrage should make it his business to exercise that right. It is a debt you owe to yourself and to your city. Will Speak Sunday

That our Lord intended his disciples to understand that for some purpose, in some manner, and at some time he would come again is generally admitted and believed by all familiar with the Scriptures. But opinions differ greatly as to why and how and when he "will come again."

Some expect a personal second coming of the Lord; others say he came again at Pentecost, or at the destruction of Jerusalem, and quite a number believe that when sinners are converted that forms a part of the coming of Christ, and when all have been converted then he will have fully come.

Mr. McKecher, a thorough Bible student, has made "The Manner of the Lord's Second Coming" a subject of special study. His lecture teems with Scripture quotations, sound reasoning and solid facts. He speaks under the auspices of the International Bible Students' Association; he insists that his lectures to the public be absolutely free and that no money getting scheme of any kind, not even a collection, be connected therewith.

Commercial Club Meets

The Commercial club held its monthly meeting Wednesday evening, and a fair attendance was present. Representatives of the Portland Labor Press were present in an attempt to interest the Club in taking a page of advertising in its columns in a special issue to be gotten out March 16th, at a stipulated price of $140 per page. The club decided the time was too short to take advantage of the offer. The committee on the extension of Columbia boulevard to the Columbia slough, consisting of H. E. Pennell, Thos. Autzen and A. S. Benson, were instructed to interview the county commissioners and ascertain what help might be expected from the county authorities. Three new members were taken into the Club. It was decided to inaugurate a determined campaign toward securing a larger membership, and on motion a committee of five was to be appointed by President Bonham to serve during the month of March as a corps for securing new members, and this committee to appoint a like committee to serve during the month of April, and so on until the end of the year. The following were appointed to serve for March: C. A. Fry, Deane H. Knowles, H. E. Pennell, O. J. Gatzmeyer and Secretary Hiller.

West Side Notes

From the Linnton Leader.

The old rock crusher owned by the city of St. Johns, which was used for a time at the quarry, but of late is out of commission and in the way at the quarry, the city thought best to remove it to a more convenient place where it could be cared for and shown to prospective buyers in case they wished to sell it. In moving it the crusher was loaded upon a heavy truck while some distance up the hill, then a wire cable was attached to the truck and it was started on its journey, with several men on the tongue to guide it down. It had not gone far when the cable broke and the weight of the crusher forced the truck two-thirds of the way down the hill. The men on the tongue seeing their peril, fled for safety. The truck turned turtle and came near landing in the end of Doc Smith's saloon, and nearly scared the wits out of some of Doc's customers. The crusher was quite badly damaged.

Prospects look bright for the Hillside Drive, which has been taking its promoters so long to get started. Almost everything has been removed that hindered the actual construction work beginning, and it is hoped that construction work will begin within two or three weeks. This will mean vastly more to our city than at first would be imagined. Next week we will try to give our readers something of the history of this big improvement.

E. L. Green and son Donald, a boy about 13 years of age, while delivering goods at Bob Munson's store at Whitwood Monday of this week, with a team owned by Mr. Green, met with quite a serious accident. While turning around the horses became frightened and tipped the wagon over, throwing the man and boy beneath the feet of the horses, where they became entangled in the rigging and sustained several flesh wounds, but on examination found no bones broken. At last accounts both were at their home, 614 North Hayes street, St. Johns, and doing well.

A Chicken Coop Question

Editor Review: Would it not be a good idea if the city council would pass an ordinance whereby no citizen should be allowed to maintain a chicken coop or yard within fifty feet or more of any dwelling? Would not such a law enhance the sanitary conditions of the city, and prove a big factor in preventing the spread of disease? It is a well established fact that the chicken, with the single exception of the hog, is the dirtiest and most unsanitary domestic creature in existence, and if they must be kept within the city limits, there appears to be no good reason why they should not be confined within a safe distance from any habitation. In the Eastern cities and towns fifty feet is invariably the minimum. A recommendation from the board of health along this line would be welcomed.
