THE RESULT

Summary of the Votes Cast Saturday

More interest than was expected was taken in the primary election held last Saturday. Out of 1171 voters registered, about 740 availed themselves of the opportunity to vote. This is a far greater percentage than is usually the case at primary elections, 25 to 30 per cent being the rule in late years. The beautiful weather, coupled with the fact that the polls kept open an hour longer in the evening than previously, were strong factors in getting the vote out. As is invariably the case where full tickets are not in the field, numerous citizens received complimentary votes for the various offices. The ladies who served on the election boards performed their new duties as well as the men. Everything passed off in a smooth and pleasant manner, with no friction of any kind.

West Side Notes

From the Linnton Leader.

J. T. Harbin, superintendent of the rock quarry, will build a blacksmith shop at Whitwood, where he will do the work of the quarry as well as that of the public there.

J. C. Polson, who resides at Willamette station, Portland, has purchased several acres of land on the Cornell road, and is now clearing the same and is contemplating building a fine residence thereon. He will also put out a fine apple orchard, berries and grapes on the place.

The new pump house for the Kennedy Construction company, situated at the corner of Markle street and the Springville road, is nearing completion, and will be ready for use in a few days. The house is built of first class brick with a solid cement floor, and is apparently built for all time.

Mr. Olson, who owns an acre of land on the Springville road, between Markle and Mansfield streets at Whitwood, has built out of small fir logs a very nice, commodious little bungalow, and when the trees and brush are cleared away, it will afford one of the most sightly and unique homes that can be found on the heights, and will be envied by many who chance to pass that way.

F. Rothlisberger is busy these days grading and leveling down the yard about his home just above the Claremont hotel. He is making it a beauty spot for pleasure seekers the coming summer. He is also building a pony railroad leading up to his place to save his patrons the tiresome climb. Fred will serve soft drinks, candies and cigars, and have games for those who come. He expects to have it in readiness by May 1st next. The grounds will be furnished with seats and field glasses, and back of the grounds are many nooks for those who wish to lounge in the shade and partake of the clear, sweet mountain air as it is wafted in gentle zephyrs through the pines and firs of the hillside. Capt Snow, one of St. Johns' oldest attorneys, made us a pleasant call on Monday. Cap reports this the first business trip over on this side of the river for a long time. And, by the way, he says he can see wonderful changes for the betterment of Whitwood and its surroundings. He is looking fine, and we think him good for about 30 years or more yet.

Edling-Hathaway

At the home of the bride's parents, in the presence of immediate relatives of the groom and bride Tuesday noon, March 3rd, a quiet wedding was solemnized when Karl Edling and Kleah L. Hathaway were united in marriage. Rev. Sittler of Long Creek, Oregon, officiated. The groom is a bright, energetic young man of sterling qualities, and is the son of Valentine Edling of Germany, while the bride, who is well and favorably known, both in St. Johns and Portland, is the daughter of Frank Hathaway, merchant at Ritter, Oregon. Mr. and Mrs. Edling will reside in Montana after May first.

THE LIBRARY

Interesting Notes for the Library Patrons

Library hours: Afternoon—12 to 5:30. Evening—7 to 9. Sunday—2:30 to 5:30 for reading only.

Lecture in the Library auditorium 8 o'clock Wednesday evening, March 18; Oregon Ferns by A. R. Sweetser. Prof. Sweetser is the head of the botanical department of the University of Oregon. This lecture, which has proved popular at other libraries in the county, is illustrated with lantern slides. All library lectures are free.

Monday evening, March 16, the Bonville System gives a lecture in the auditorium. Story hours for the children every Saturday afternoon in the auditorium. Three o'clock for children of the third grade and below; four o'clock for children of the fourth grade and above.

The books which were in the window exhibit on Jersey street may now be had at the library. The lecture on the great dipper by Prof. Dunne and the attractive photographs of astronomical observations now on display in the auditorium are causing a noticeable increase in the call for books on popular astronomy.

That the St. Johns Review is a popular paper is demonstrated by the fact that it is the only library periodical which must be watched in order to prevent articles from being surreptitiously clipped. If necessary, it will be kept at the desk to be asked for by each reader in order to avoid the shears of the vandal.

New Poultry Books: Crane—6,000 laying hens on one acre, "Crane's System," 1912.

Hogan—Call of the hen, or The science of the selection and breeding of poultry 1913. Jackson—Chicken money; how to make farm flocks profitable, 1913.

Robinson—Principles and practice of poultry culture, 1912. Woods—How to raise chicks, 1912.

Gardening Books: The library has the best authorities on fertilizers, spraying, pruning and treatment of garden pests. O'Kane's book on Injurious Insects is invaluable to the home gardener as well as being written in such an interesting fashion as to hold the attention of even he who has no bugs to fight. There are also books on best methods of vegetable and flower gardening and separate treatises on the various vegetables for those who wish to specialize. Ask for our rose books and sweet pea books. Greineis—How to make the garden pay—will give the busiest and the laziest man the ambition to go digging for garden gold.

St. Johns Looking Up

From Sunday's Oregonian:

"The outlook for St. Johns this year is excellent in all lines," said J. F. Gilmore, real estate man, who has lived there for the last eight years. He has studied the situation closely, and says the improvement in conditions is genuine. Mr. Gilmore reports that he has recently made four cash sales which aggregate $5000.

"The most significant feature of these sales is that they were all cash. Two were for lots and houses and the others were for vacant lots. I have made more sales during the months of January and February of this year than any corresponding months for the last eight years since I have been in business in St. Johns. Several new stores have been opened in St. Johns recently. We hope to have another large woolen mill in St. Johns before another year. A man from the East has been investigating conditions here, and was favorably impressed. He has in view a two acre site here. He left for the East to take up the money end of the plan to erect the woolen mill. The more factories we can get here the better, as they will furnish jobs for skilled men. The St. Johns Commercial Club is growing in membership nearly every meeting. It has taken up the matter of having the Columbia boulevard paved from St. Johns to Rose Park, a distance of about seven miles. It will carry a hard surface pavement along and through the manufacturing and industrial districts. It has appointed an efficient committee to take up the matter with the County Commissioners. Also the club has taken up the matter of a roadway to the Union Meat Company's plant, for which there is a right of way along the North Bank railway. St. Johns should have an entrance to the interstate bridge.

Work has been started on the improvement of the Willamette boulevard. The gas company is laying its mains on the street in advance of the paving of the street. Other utilities will be laid also in advance of the improvement. The cost of this improvement will be $18,000.

Several residence sales have been made in St. Johns recently. Mrs. C. A. Kreyer bought two lots in Point View of H. C. Bade for $800. L. F. Clark sold a lot to Arthur Clark in Chipman's Addition, nominal price stated. Annie J. Jenison sold a lot in Clifford's Addition for $350. The East St. Johns Land Company sold to Ivan Iljef two lots in East St. Johns for $800. J. W. Breeding sold to J. H. Wiwberg a half lot in Oak Park Addition for $600. The Hazel Cloud Investment Company sold to C. W. Borders a lot in St. Cloud Heights Ad. to St. Johns for a nominal price. East St. Johns Land Company sold two lots in East St. Johns to Frank H. Brown for $850. The most important building built was that of the Star Sand Company on the waterfront, a warehouse dock, at a cost of $15,000.

The matter of purchasing an auto combination chemical fire engine and selection of parks for St. Johns is under consideration, and will be decided at the special city election.

COUNCIL MEETS

Matters of Importance Receive Attention

All members were present at the regular meeting of the city council Tuesday evening, Mayor Bredeson presiding.

A petition signed by a number of property owners asked that the water company be directed to lay four inch water mains on North Willamette boulevard in advance of the hard surface improvement now under way. The matter was referred to the water and light committee.

City Attorney Gatzmyer reported on the status of the proposed opening of Decatur street, and stated that the matter had been dropped in 1911 owing to objection on the part of property owners, and that an easement for sewer laying had been promised. The report was accepted, and no further action taken at this time.

A resolution directing the engineer to prepare the necessary data for the improvement of Burr street between Dawson and Banks streets was ordered drafted for presentation next week.

A report of the city treasurer showed that a balance of $1609 remained in the general fund. The canvassers of the primary election returns, consisting of P. T. Hanson, P. W. Hinman and Recorder F. A. Rice, made their report, showing a couple of minor changes over the results attained by the election boards.

A bill from Dr. L. E. Graves for $100 as remuneration for services rendered during the small-pox scourge was referred to the finance committee, as some uncertainty existed among the councilmen as to just what the city physician was expected to perform for her regular salary, and what constituted additional services.

A deficiency appearing in the interest fund, and an ordinance was ordered drafted providing for transferring $2000 from the bond sinking fund to the interest fund.

The city recorder read letters from the city officials of The Dalles, Roseburg, Vancouver, Albany, Medford and one or two other cities showing that the engineer's salary in these places ranged from $125 to $175 per month.

An ordinance fixing the salaries of the various city officials for the ensuing term, and eliminating the office of street commissioner was passed. The only change made over the present rate of salaries was to increase the engineer's salary from $112.50 to $125 per month. Alderman Munson made a motion that the councilmen's wage be reduced to one dollar per week, but it was voted down, five to two. Alderman Wright then made a motion that the Mayor receive $5 per week and the councilmen $3 per week, but this was lost on a four to three vote.

An ordinance providing the time and manner of improving Mohawk street between Central avenue and Fessenden street was passed.

An ordinance providing the time and place for holding the general city election April 6th, and appointing election boards to serve thereat was passed. D. C. Lewis gave as his opinion that the hours of keeping the polls open should be changed from 9 to 7 to 7, in order to give the working man a better opportunity to get to the polls, but as the charter fixes the hours, no change could be effected.

An ordinance was passed providing for voting upon bonds for the purchase of a triple combination auto fire engine at the city election, as was also ordinances placing the Jaeger, Caples, Cook, Catlin-Markwart tracts and a block of ground for a plaza west of the city hall, on the ballot April 6th.

A resolution authorizing the Mayor to sell the road roller and rock crusher apparatus owned by the city was adopted.

A committee consisting of Councilmen Martin and Garlick and Recorder Rice and A. W. Markle was appointed to write an explanation and instructions as to how the different measures may be voted upon, for the benefit of the voters.

The Panama Tolls

Editor Review: After due thought and careful consideration and having been impounded by a large number of men for an opinion as to the justness of the message placed before Congress upon the Panama Canal toll, I enter upon this subject with deliberation and thought, and offer what follows as an opinion of mine written from a law point of view.

It is a well known fact in 1901 there was a treaty made and entered into between the United States and Great Britain settling the question of toll, called the canal toll, as between these two great contracting parties and all other nations who would pledge themselves to respect and obey the treaty made between the above named parties. The wording of said treaty I quote word for word, that all who may read this letter may read and judge for themselves as to the meaning of the text of said treaty, which reads as follows, to wit:

"The government of the United States and Great Britain, having not only desired in entering into this convention to accomplish a particular object, but also to establish a general principle, they hereby agree to extend their protection, by treaty stipulations, to any other practicable communications, whether by canal or railway, across the isthmus which connects North and South America, and especially to the inter-ocean communications, should the same prove to be practicable, whether by canal or railway, which are now proposed to be established by the way of Tehamtepec or Panama. In granting, however, their joint protection to any canal or railways as are by this act specified, it is always understood by the United States and Great Britain that the parties constructing or owning the same shall impose no other charges or conditions of traffic thereupon than the aforesaid governments shall approve of as just and equitable, and that the same canals or railways being open to the citizens and subjects of the United States and Great Britain on equal terms, shall also be open on like terms to the citizens and subjects of every other state which is willing to grant thereto such protection as the United States and Great Britain engage to afford."

Thus you see, or can see, that under this Article VIII, called the Clayton-Bulwer treaty, was made and entered into in 1901. Remember this treaty was made and signed by Theodore Roosevelt, or while he was President of the United States.

To make it plain to the readers of this article, I now say while this treaty above quoted was in full force and effect, Congress passed the so-called Canal Act in 1912, an act exempting United States coastwise traders from paying toll in passing over, across or through by way of canal or railway, the toll exemption, which is a violation of the treaty of 1901 between the United States and Great Britain.

It is seen clearly that the act of 1912 was and is a violation of the treaty made and entered into between the United States and Great Britain, which is now in full force and effect. It is also apparent that the canal treaty exempting coastwise traders should be repealed for the reasons above set forth. It is also well known that there are those who are eager to criticize the present administration and charge that the administration is catering to the good graces of England, when the facts are that Congress should repeal said act, which is in violation of the treaty of 1901. I hold that Congress should do right because it is right, and not through fear; and it seems fitting that the President of the United States, seeing the violation of the treaty of 1901 by the act of 1912, should use his whole influence as the head of the nation to show to the world that the nation which he represents cannot afford, if it is a powerful nation to insist upon unfair dealing.

HIGH SCHOOL

Items of Interest Regarding School Doings

Saturday evening the boys' basket ball team defeated the Sellwood Y. M. C. A. 21 to 18. It was the fastest game of the season.

Six of the basket ball girls, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. White, left for Silverton Saturday afternoon with enthusiasm enough to defeat any team. The day was extremely beautiful and every minute of the trip was enjoyed to the fullest extent, except for a few moments of foreboding before their arrival. The Silverton girls played a fine game but J. J. H. S. girls managed to carry off a score of 6 to 19. The results of the game kept a number of the girls awake a good share of the night, but they were all ready bright and early to catch the morning train home. The Silverton girls proved to be as hospitable as they were good players.

Wednesday the boys' team goes to Washougal, and Friday the girls go to Gresham. One week from Friday both Gresham teams play return games on our floor. The pupils of the James John High School wondered at Principal Fry's mysterious absence on last Friday, but later the mystery was cleared when they learned of his marriage to Miss Elizabeth B. Books of York, Pennsylvania. The pupils of the High School certainly wish Mr. and Mrs. Fry a long and prosperous life.

Tuesday the pupils of the High School were released for the last two periods in the afternoon in response to a petition for a holiday. They went to Columbia Slough, accompanied by the teachers, and here a lunch was served and all had a jolly time.

Muriel Noble is welcome as a new member of the entering Freshman class. Dr. Thomas Green, giving the fifth number of the Britt Lyceum course, delivered his lecture on "The Burden of the Nations" Friday evening, March 6th, in the High School auditorium. The subject was well handled. Dr. Green has just recently taken a sixteen months' journey around the world, having as his purpose the study of the attitude of each of the great nations toward international peace. It is to be regretted that a larger audience did not greet him, for the address was splendidly worth while.—Reporter.

Had a Jolly Time

The Order of Moose held an interesting session in the rink Thursday evening of last week. After the business of the evening, in which 31 new members were initiated, five exciting boxing matches were pulled off, the star bout being between two marines from the Boston, who put up a rattling exhibition. Cooky and Verne Hall; Lowell Anderson and Norman Nelson; Raymond McCarty and Johnson, and Anderson and Aiken all put up interesting and exciting contests. Moose pictures were shown at the Multnomah for the edification of the Order, and they were said to be most interesting and entertaining. Feasting, story and song followed at the rink. A visiting Moose from Portland entertained the crowd by singing a song in three languages, and the Moose orchestra from Portland rendered delightful music. About 275 were in attendance, including the degree team, band and orchestra from Portland. Everybody enjoyed the event immensely.
