

St. Johns is Calling You
Is second in number of industries.
Is seventh in population.

ST. JOHNS REVIEW

Devoted to the interests of the Peninsula, the Manufacturing Center of the Northwest

VOL. 10

ST. JOHNS, OREGON, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 9, 1914.

NO 46

St. Johns is Calling You

Has seven churches.
Has a most promising future.
Distinctively a manufacturing city.

COUNCIL MEETS

Matters of Importance Receive Attention

All members were present at the regular meeting of the city council Tuesday evening, with Mayor Vincent presiding.
A petition for the installation of a fire hydrant at the corner of Powers street and Oregonian avenue was referred to the water and light committee.

Maple Leaf Party

Miss Blanche Edlefsen entertained in a delightful manner with a maple leaf party at her home on Saturday evening in honor of her friend, Miss Maisie Peterson, who will leave for her home in Missoula, Mont., in a few days after a year spent in St. Johns.

Don't Feel Abused

Listen, daughter. Don't cry and don't make your mother think that her little lamb has been abused. Yes, I know that the stranger spoke to you. Disrespectfully, you say? Called you "Kiddo!" Well, daughter, perhaps the man thought you answered to the name of "Kiddo."

Building Permits

No. 50—To Joseph Martin to erect a dwelling on Astor street between Midway and Oregonian avenues; cost $500.

Dangerous Amendment

Among the dangerous amendments to the constitution that are found among the 29 measures on the Oregon ballot is one proposing to take over in the name of the state all lands between high and low water on navigable streams.

Marks for Schemers

Oregon industry and thrift, it seems, are the particular marks against which the schemers and the tinkers are directing their shafts this fall. The man who is trying to make a living for himself and his family and to put a little money by in the bank for a rainy day is threatened with a universal, eight hour law that will not permit even his children to work more than eight hours out of the twenty-four.

Death of Jacob Luiten

Jacob Luiten died at his home at 626 East Richmond street on Friday, October 2, 1914, aged 61 years, 4 months and 13 days. He had been ill for a couple of weeks but it was believed he was improving when death came suddenly from pneumonia.

Some men would not care to be judged by the letters they wrote during their courtship.

Fair Better Than Ever

The past week has seen the windup of practically all the county fairs to be held in the state this season. More than three quarters of the counties in the state have had an exhibit of some sort and in every instance the quality of the products shown has been fully up to grade, and the staging of same has been better than ever.

Making Good Progress

Preliminary work on the West-er Copperage plant near the dry dock is progressing right along. The dredging and filling has taken longer than was at first anticipated, and it will probably be two or three weeks yet before this part of the work is completed.

Death of Jacob Luiten

Jacob Luiten died at his home at 626 East Richmond street on Friday, October 2, 1914, aged 61 years, 4 months and 13 days. He had been ill for a couple of weeks but it was believed he was improving when death came suddenly from pneumonia.

A brass shield on the largest single piece flag pole in the world was unveiled on the Oregon site of the Panama Exposition on September 22, and the fifty foot flag was raised to the top of the pole.

Cyclone Cold Cure—that's all, St. John's Pharmacy.

HIGH SCHOOL

Incidents of High School Interestingly Told

The new settlers at High School were entertained last Friday evening at the "James John Roundup and Agricultural Show." The gymnasium was appropriately decorated with maple leaves, corn stalks and Fall products.

Death of Jacob Luiten

Jacob Luiten died at his home at 626 East Richmond street on Friday, October 2, 1914, aged 61 years, 4 months and 13 days. He had been ill for a couple of weeks but it was believed he was improving when death came suddenly from pneumonia.

Death of Jacob Luiten

Jacob Luiten died at his home at 626 East Richmond street on Friday, October 2, 1914, aged 61 years, 4 months and 13 days. He had been ill for a couple of weeks but it was believed he was improving when death came suddenly from pneumonia.

The pupils of Georgia Rich Lydick, assisted by Elmer Sneed, violinist, and Miss Hortense Ingalls, vocalist, will give a piano recital at the First Baptist Church Friday evening, October 18th.

If the government wants more revenue to keep the wolf from the Star Spangled door step, a tax on politicians is suggested.

Finely Stocked Stores

One has only to visit the three stores of the enterprising firm of Bonham & Currier on Jersey street to be assured of the fact that it is no longer necessary for the most fastidious of St. Johns people to go to Portland for anything in the line of wearing apparel or delicacies to tempt the most capricious appetite.

Death of Jacob Luiten

Jacob Luiten died at his home at 626 East Richmond street on Friday, October 2, 1914, aged 61 years, 4 months and 13 days. He had been ill for a couple of weeks but it was believed he was improving when death came suddenly from pneumonia.

Death of Jacob Luiten

Jacob Luiten died at his home at 626 East Richmond street on Friday, October 2, 1914, aged 61 years, 4 months and 13 days. He had been ill for a couple of weeks but it was believed he was improving when death came suddenly from pneumonia.

The United States Census Department at Washington has just issued a bulletin dealing with the ownership of Multnomah county homes. The important facts contained in the bulletin relating to this county are as follows: There are 46,595 homes in Multnomah county. Of this number 1491 are farm homes.

Friday, October 2, the choir and the S. P. I. class of the Christian church surprised Miss Viola Westhefer at her home. The evening was spent in new games and singing of popular songs.

THE LIBRARY

Interesting Notes for the Library Patrons

Hours—12-5:30; 7-9; Sundays, 2:30-5:30.
It is especially desirable in the evenings to keep the library quiet for adult readers and students. For this reason children under twelve are requested to exchange their books in the afternoons and not to visit the library in the evenings unless attended by their parents or other adults.