"WET" LEAGUE IN FIGHT OVER COIN

Only Two "Taxpayers and Wage Earners"

BREWERS PUT UP FUNDS

KNOWING THAT OREGON DRY MEANS BETTER BUSI-NESS FOR ALL LINES SAVE ONLY SALOONS.

BY ORTON E. GOODWIN.

The great campaign to make Oregon "wet" has failed.

The exposure by Dr. Cora Talbott, secretary of the "Taxpayers' and Wage Earners' League," that the organization consisted of two persons, Mrs. Duniway and Dr. Talbott, and was fi-nanced by the brewers and distillers to make Oregon "wet," threw the fat into the fire.

The brewers and distillers know that all kinds of business save theirs is better in a dry town.

They know this has been proved by figures and facts from Salem, Oregon City, Roseburg, Albany, Newberg, Ashland, Corvallis, Pendleton and many other towns.

Organization Spreads Untruths. So they organized the "Taxpayers' and Wage Earners' League" to spread misinformation about Oregon dry. They know bank deposits in dry towns have increased in number and amount. They know bad debts are almost unknown in all dry towns. They know collections are better. They know arrests from drunkenness are almost unknown. They know every dry town in Ore-

So, they became desperate.

Taxpayers' League Is "Joke." Then they organized the joke "Taxpayers' and Wage Earners' League." Dr. Talbott was secretary. She became disgusted when she learned money was being collected by the brewers and distilleries by the use of her name, and she resigned.

Then Mrs. Duniway advertised lavishly, announcing that the money the "league" was using was provided by the brewers.

The campaign of misinformation carried on by employes of the league, who are also employes of the breweries and distilleries, is now known all over Oregon.

Brewers Spending Your Money. Every man, woman and child has to spend $20 a year with the saloons.

If you do not drink, some one else has to pay YOUR share.

So, it is YOUR money the Oregon brewers and Eastern distilleries have been using to persuade YOU Oregon wet will do YOU good. It is believed they expect to spend over $200,000 of YOUR

They know Oregon dry will put them out of business and help every other kind of business in the state. Although the breweries and distilleries know Oregon dry is for better business, prosperity and more work, they are fighting it.

No Saloons; Better Business. We have had bad times with the saloon, haven't we? Why not try no saloon? It can't make things things better.

worse and is certain to make The reason is: Money spent on the saloon cannot be spent for groceries. Money spent in the saloons-much of itgoes East. Money spent for dry goods and groceries stays in the towns and makes better business. The members of the Committee of

One Hundred are all Oregonians. Most of them are business men. They ask you to vote Oregon dry, because they know, as the brewers also know, that Oregon dry means better business, lower taxes, more work and a return to pros-

The Committee of One Hundred

"If you want to find out what dry Oregon will do for Oregon, go to Roseburg and see what dry Roseburg has accomplished."

Here's what it has done. It has cut down the bank deposits by over $500,000, in spite of the fact that there are now four banks to the two in existence when Roseburg had licensed saloons, and that the population has increased in proportion to the settling up of Southern Oregon by new settlers and im-

When Roseburg had licensed sa oons the tax levy, on one-third of the valuation was two mills. Since Roseburg has gone dry the tax levy has varied from eight to ten mills on a full valuation; and in addition occupation taxes have been steadily

The Committee of One Hundred boasts that dry Roseburg has erected a $115,000 hotel. The hotel was erected in 1913, stood idle and tenantless for four months, and was rescued from the bankruptcy court by liberal business men of the city, among whom were E. L. Parrot, C. W. Parks, Joseph Micelli, A. N. Orcott and Henry Hart, all of whom are radically opposed to a dry town.

The Committee of One Hundred also boasts of the armory as an achievement. The armory was built by state, county and city funds combined, and is not yet completed.

Over 140 leading business men have signed a petition calling for a local option election in Roseburg this year, and such an election will be

Many empty store buildings are to be found on the leading business streets-a condition that never existed when Roseburg had licensed saloons. Scores of dwelling houses are vacant for the first time in the history of the city.

John Hunter, a leading contractor and formerly a supporter of the drys, is now advertising in Roseburg pasessed valuation. Another property owner has of-fered four parcels of inside property for sale at less than the assessed valuation, and has not even received a tender.

One of the leaders of the dry forces in Roseburg is a man who as a former agent of the Albany brewery made his fortune, and who today is the owner of a drug store. He was at one time prominent in politics, was repudiated by the voters of Douglas County, and is now said to be seeking to place lieutenants in office through the dry move-

Too Many Consumers Now In the Cities

"GET MORE PEOPLE ON THE A far deeper patriotism than SOIL" IS THE SLOGAN OF THE CANDIDATE FOR UNITED STATES SENATOR.

Conditions are more or less crude; we are virtually the last frontier and not yet have we been able to bring to bear sufficient influence at Washington to produce results which will, when had, enable us as a state to forge to the forefront, as we should do.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. a manner that would bring results.
An untiring worker, far-sighted and earnest, Mr. Hanley would, as United States Senator, throw himself into the Senatorial whirl, not as a social lion, but as a representative of the people of Oregon, determined to get for Oregon that which rightfully belongs to Oregon people and Oregon enterprises. people and Oregon enterprises.

"I am a candidate for the office of United States Senator because a great many people thought I ought to be"—the statement of Bill Hanley is true, just as all of his statements are true; he is not seeking the position because he particularly wants it merely to gratify a whim.

A great many people have de-cided that he SHOULD be United States Senator from Oregon, for many reasons, but, summed up, chiefly because he knows what the state needs and he is big enough and clever enough to get it.

Not a Politician, Says Wm. Hanley

BY WILLIAM HANLEY.

I'm not a millionaire or a politician. I haven't been picked for Senator by any special set and I'm not looking for a job. But a lot of things coming to Oregon are long overdue, so I'm going after them; and you fellows know that I generally get what I go after. I listed as many of them as I could think of, in a platform which you can get and paste in your hats so you'll know every day what I'm after in Washington.

I'll not be there trying to slip something over for private interests, for I won't have any debts of that kind to pay, and I won't be lying awake nights to catch the ground swells from home in order to know how to vote. Tremors of that kind are generally set in mo-into the Congressional Record on how to farm or how to wrest a living from the virgin soil, but those who have represented Oregon in the national legislative assemblies would scarcely know plow should they see one; consequently, they are ignorant of our real needs.

While Mr. Hanley is able to express himself clearly and emphatically on any important subject, he makes no pretensions to being a "spell-binder." As a United States Senator, however, trust him to make his influence felt for his state in the right way. Not flowery language, but results is the crying need of the hour for Oregon.

Bill Hanley On Education

It must have been some one who wants the Senatorial job to go where it will do the most good to the incumbent and his friends who said my education was too short to get me anywhere in Washing-ton. Whoever it was, it reminds to get me anywhere in Washington. Whoever it was, it reminds me of a couple of graduates from an Eastern college whose fathers sent them to me for some Western experience, I told the foreman to put them on the payroll, give them something soft to do and keep the other boys from riding them too hard. In a few days he sent them to build a fence around some haystacks. About a week later we were riding by those This is not an assertion made to get votes, but is based on the fact that Mr. Hanley is of the people and he has always worked for the people and probably has done more to help the state as a private citizen than most public officials have done in their careers as such. Having been found always fighting the battle of the people as a private citizen, helping to upbuild the state as a matter of patriotic concern, it may be safely figured that as United States Senator he would not change his course, but that he would, because of the great responsibility thus placed upon him be all the more aggressive in the other.

A man will not change in a night, especially the type of man like Mr. Hanley, but will pursue a safe and dependable course as a public servant, just as he has done in his own business, of which he has made a noteworthy success.

Getting for Oregon her share of the necessities that go to make a great state, such as the return of the millions of dollars gained from this commonwealth by the sale of timber lands, long diverted to build up other states, would be to Mr. Hanley a matter of the most serious business. He would go about it in

A HANLEYGRAM.

You can't make yourself bigger by making anybody else smaller!

The public servants in the national Senate. But I want to add this about my not getting somewhere: My trouble, particularly in Eastern cities, has always been to keep from getting somewhere too much. A few years ago all the Western governors went on an excursion East and took me along and none of them got anywhere that I didn't. In fact, I think they overworked me, when it came to answering questions about conditions in the great Northwest and the hopes and needs of the people out here. They seemed to consider that my long suit, and being men and not near men, they were not shocked at my delivery of goods. If the things I noted down in my platform are what you want, climb on my wagon before the seats are all gone, and leave it to me to get there with them. Big men are not the ones I shy at, however long they are on education, for I don't think education spoils that kind, and, as Burns would say, "A man's a man for a' that."
