Editor Review: The new Sunday School that started at East St. Johns has become a factor in that community for good. There were 43 present last Sunday. Mrs. T. J. Monahan, the superintendent, reports a great deal of enthusiasm. The teachers are: Mrs. Helen Ellridge, Mrs. G. A. Carter and Mrs. Chas. Bredeson. They hope to soon have preaching services in connection with the Sunday School. They are very much in need of an organ. If any one has one that they could loan or give to them it would be very much appreciated. Mr. Geo. A. Carter, of the First Trust & Savings Bank, is lending a helping hand and doing all he can to interest the people in the work. If some of the older ones would come, then we could have an Adult Bible Class. Let us all help the good work along.—Reporter.

COUNCIL MEETS

Matters of Importance Receive Attention

All members with the exception of Councilman Garlick were present at the regular meeting of the city council Tuesday evening, with Mayor Vincent presiding.

Mrs. Tufts asked that an adjustment be made on the assessment of her property on Burlington street to take care of the excess cost. It seems that her son, Moses Tufts, without her sanction or authority, signed a waiver petition for the improvement, and Mrs. Tufts claims that therefore she is only liable for payment up to fifty per cent of the assessed valuation. The matter was referred to the city recorder and attorney for recommendation.

D. C. Lewis asked that a committee be appointed to investigate damage that he claimed had been done to his property in improving Willamette boulevard, and for which he believed he was entitled to remuneration. The council decided that nothing could be done, since Mr. Lewis had filed no remonstrance before the contract was let.

The following bids were received on the improvement of Stanford street between Burr and Buchanan streets: Chas. Jackson, $740.94; V. W. Mason, $849.74; Cochran-Nutting Co., $740.94; Hahn & Rebman, $773.64. The contract was awarded to Mr. Jackson.

Bids on the improvement of St. Johns avenue between Edison and Seneca street: Chas. Jackson, $6217.11; Hahn & Rebman, $5696.47; Andrew & Harner, $5941.36; V. W. Mason, $6158.59; Cochran-Nutting Co., $6040.50. Hahn & Rebman were awarded the contract with the understanding all St. Johns labor be employed, as per resolution adopted by the council, and that the sidewalk on the north side of the street be not taken up until the new walk had been completed on the south side.

The school board, in a communication by Secretary Tanch, asked that better fire protection be afforded at the North School. As the council had made arrangements for the installation of several hydrants when St. Johns avenue is improved, no further action was taken.

A communication from S. C. Cook urged that ways and means be provided, if possible, to furnish the unemployed with labor during the coming winter. The suggestion was discussed to some extent, and upon motion of Councilman Waldref that a committee of three be appointed by the mayor to investigate possible opportunities in the way of locating property owners who would be willing to have timber cut on their land without cost for the wood, the mayor appointed Councilmen Waldref, Davis and Munson to act.

Bills totalling $745.83, the greater portion of which were for water and electricity, were allowed.

The water and light committee was authorized to secure bids on lighting at the city dock.

The engineer was directed to make necessary repairs on Columbia boulevard.

Engineer Burson stated that damage had been done to the sidewalk on Willamette boulevard by vehicles being driven over same, and the engineer and chairman of the street committee, Davis, were directed to adopt measures preventing a recurrence of such acts.

The committee on securing a

Death of W. Roy Hall

W. Roy Hall, a faithful and earnest worker in the United Evangelical church, in St. Johns, and a respected and promising young man of our city, died near Astoria, Oregon, November 8, 1914. Nearly a year ago he discovered that he was sorely afflicted with tuberculosis. He and his wife immediately left for Eastern Oregon for a more promising climate. After some months they returned to the State Sanitarium. Here he received no assurance of permanent relief and soon came home. After investigation they went to Astoria to a specialist, but the inroads made by the disease were too deeply seated to be overcome and he like so many others was forced to yield.

Roy was in the employ of the city of Portland when he fell a prey to the ravages of the "White Plague." His business career was one of constant promotion and had he been spared, gave promise of rising to positions of usefulness for which there is so much demand today, for men of quality. He was a little past twenty-six years old. His estimable wife stood, constantly, by him during his struggles. His father, mother, and two sisters, Mrs. May Marcy and Miss Hazel Hall, and other relatives survive him. The funeral was in the United Evangelical church, the pastor preaching the sermon. His, the Philo Christo Sunday School class, had charge of the floral tributes, coming from friends, his Sunday School class, the Sunday School, United Artisans, Free Masons, and others which were elaborate, betokening the esteem in which he was held. The Free Masons conducted the burial at the Riverview cemetery.—J. A. Goode.

Catholic Church Notes

Next Sunday, November 15th, a class of little children will receive their first Holy Communion at the eight o'clock Mass; at the same time all the children of the parish will receive Holy Communion in a body. The high Mass will be at the usual hour, half past ten; sermon on the gospel of the Sunday.

At the evening services at 7:30 p. m. the boys, vested choir will sing as usual, the sermon being the third of a series of lectures on the Bible. On this Sunday evening, among other things, this question will be answered: Whether the Catholic church does or ever has forbidden any one to read the Bible.

Non-Catholics are always welcome. They are not required to take any active part in our services; nothing is asked of them except polite, respectful attention, and silence. We never speak in our churches without necessity.—Reporter.

price on the water plant and equipment reported that the price asked was $150,000, which was figured up as follows: $122,000 valuation placed by the Railroad Commission; $7,500 of pipe not included in the Commission's finding, $16,200 worth of pipe laid since the finding by the Commission. It was decided to give the matter a week's consideration.

Reports of the recorder, treasurer and chief of police for the month of October were read and accepted.

A resolution providing for the improvement of Macrum avenue was adopted.

Encourage the Dramatic Club by coming to the play entitled, "The Village Lawyer."
