The "murder" (merger) question will be placed upon the ballot at the April election, as per action of the city council Tuesday evening.

Noyes Babbitt, the well known shoemaker, was taken to the St. Johns Sanitarium the first of the week, said to be suffering from an attack of rheumatism.

Every one of the warring nations accuses this country of favoring the other side. And poor old Uncle Sam is literally busting his gallus in a frantic effort to straddle the fence.

Mrs. E. S. Wright and children now occupy the Hendricks building on South Ivanhoe street, recently vacated by E. L. Strickland.

The dance given by the Women of Woodcraft in the skating rink last Friday evening was a most enjoyable one and all had a good time.

Sunday was a glorious day, and old Sol did himself proud. It seemed like everybody that owned an auto was out enjoying the beautiful February weather.

When William Allen heard that a Kansas politician was drafting a bill making it only a misdemeanor to kill an editor in the Sunflower state, White expressed this opinion: "The bill is too drastic. There ought to be a closed season to protect the editor when mating and caring for his young."—New York Mail.

The St. Johns Fire Department defeated the High School team in an interesting and exciting game of basket ball last Saturday evening in the skating rink by a score of 15 to 10. The game was a hard fought one from start to finish, and watched with keen interest by a large number in attendance. After the game a jitney dance was inaugurated, and many availed themselves of the opportunity to "trip the light, fantastic toe."

A man carrying an "unfair" banner was a curiosity in front of the skating rink last Saturday night while the dance was being held. It seemed that the musicians employed had not become members of the Portland Musicians' Association, hence the adornment at the exterior of the rink. The man likely needed by her husband, and two sons, W. M. and G. V. Bellinger, besides mother, two brothers and two sisters. The funeral took place Tuesday; interment at Oregon City.

The girl who is unkind to her mother isn't worth a tinker's doggone. This isn't written in any part of the Bible, but it's written in the history of thousands and thousands of misfit homes. If one of you boys ever run across a girl with her face full of roses, with eyes that would dim the lustre of a Southern sky and with a voice that would make the song of an angel seem discordant, and she says as she comes to the door: "I can't go for a few minutes; I've got to help mother with the dishes," don't give her up. Stick to her like a burr to a mule's tail. Just sit down on the door step and wait. If she joins you in two or three minutes, so much the better; but if you have to stay there on the door step for a half hour or an hour, you just wait for her. If you don't somebody else will and in time you'll realize what you have lost. Wait for her, boy. She's worth it.—Ex.

One of the good things that has been suggested this session of the Legislature is a proposal to compel insurance companies to pay in full all losses up to the full amount insured. That is absolutely right. There is no reason why any insurance agent should collect a premium on an amount that his company does not mean to pay. If your agent insures your $1500 house for $2500, at his own suggestion, and takes your premium for it there is no reason why his company should not stand for the full amount. You stood your risk when you paid a exorbitant premium. The company does no more when it is called upon to pay an exorbitant loss. The outcome of a law that will regulate the matter in that way will be that smaller premiums will be paid, thereby saving the insured public a large sum of useless expenditure. It will also save the company expense in securing an adjustment of losses, as well as the insured, and the whole business can be finished up as soon as the company satisfied itself that there is a genuine liability. A simple check will do the business.—Beaver State Herald.

We desire to express our sincere thanks to the ladies of the W. C. T. U. for floral tributes and kind words of sympathy and also to other friends for kindness and sympathy extended during the illness and death of our beloved wife and mother. —L. N. Bellinger, W. M. Bellinger and G. V. Bellinger.

This year Lent began on February 17, Ash Wednesday, which marks the beginning of a period of abstinence and self sacrifice for church members. In the Catholic churches especially the Lenten period will be strictly observed, and there will be a general lull in social gayeties until after Easter.

Mrs. L. N. Bellinger died at the home of her mother in Sellwood Friday of last week of heart failure. She was born near Salem, Oregon, January 22, 1859, and for eight years resided with her family in St. Johns. Last Fall she went to Corvallis to keep house for her two sons, who are attending college there. She returned during the holidays, and not feeling very well, she was prevailed upon to remain with her mother ever since. Mrs. Bellinger was a true Christian lady, and was well liked by all who knew her. She is survived by her husband, and two sons, W. M. and G. V. Bellinger, besides mother, two brothers and two sisters. The funeral took place Tuesday; interment at Oregon City.

Lincoln's Birthday

Lincoln's birthday was appropriately observed by the local G. A. R. in the high school auditorium last Friday, when an interesting program was rendered.

"Do you remember" when Lincoln died? Men and women and children cried.

A loving father he seemed to all. The rich, the poor, the great, the small.

Homely, they said; he might have been, His life was as free as a child's from sin.

An honest man, where'er he be, Is always beautiful to see. His arms were long, made to embrace

Alike the white and colored race. His hands were large, they had to be To break the chains of slavery. So were his feet, he had to stand

When nation's rocked as if on sand; All the schemes had gone to naught. When Lincoln's work was nobly wrought.

He spoke the words which made men free, Then came the victory he ne'er should see. One greater man has lived and died.

He was the Christ we crucified." Found—On Fessenden street. Package of photographs. Owner may have same by calling at this office and paying for this ad.

CITIZENS OF ST. JOHNS

Should remember that all must register again in order to vote this Spring at the primary and general city election. The books are open now at the city hall. Don't put it off until the last minute. The registration books for the primary election closes the last day of the present month, so register now while you think of it. Remember, last year's registration does not entitle you to vote this year.

There is probability that a vote may be taken on the purchase of the local water plant, so every citizen in St. Johns eligible to vote should register, and not impose on his friends by having to be sworn in on election day. DO IT NOW.

ORDINANCE NO. 641

An Ordinance Amending Section X of Ordinance No. 214 as Amended by Ordinance 278, Which Ordinance 214 is Entitled "An Ordinance for Carrying Into Effect in the City of St. Johns the Initiative and Referendum Powers Reserved to the Legal Voters of Municipalities by Section 1-A of Article IV of the Constitution of the State of Oregon and to Enact and Amend Their Municipal Charters Reserved to the Legal Voters of Cities and Towns of Section II of Article XI of the Constitution of the State of Oregon, and Providing a Penalty for the Violation of This Act." Which Ordinance was Passed by the City Council and Approved by the Mayor of the City of St. Johns, on the 2nd Day of Feb., 1909.

majority of the legal voters voting upon that question; nor shall any proposition submitted to the people for the purchase or acquisition of any public utility be effective unless it shall have been approved by at least two-thirds of the legal voters voting upon the question, in favor of such proposal.

The Recorder shall mail copies of such proposed charter amendments or proposed acquisitions of public utilities, as aforesaid, as provided in Section VIII by ordinance 214, with ballot number and title in full, not later than twelve days before the election at which such amendments or proposed acquisitions of public utilities are to be voted upon.

The ballot title of such amendments or proposed acquisitions of public utilities shall be prepared by the City Attorney, and shall contain not more than one hundred words.

Passed by the Council this 16th day of Feb. 1915.
Approved by the Mayor this 17th day of Feb. 1915.
A. W. VINCENT, Mayor.

To Sell or Exchange

I have some choice unincumbered property in Sheridan, Yamhill county, Oregon, that I wish to sell or exchange for desirable property in St. Johns. Sheridan is in the Willamette Valley, fifty-seven miles south-west of Portland. It is a thriving town of 1500 people, has a most excellent surrounding farming community, has large dairy interests, extensive lumbering interests and thousands of acres nearby have been planted to fruit which is just coming into bearing. For further information, call on DR. W. J. GILSTRAP, First National Bank bldg., St. Johns, Oregon.

Wanted—An industrious man who can earn $100 per month and expenses retailing our products to farmer. Must have some means for starting expenses and furnish bond signed by two responsible men. Address W. T. Rawleigh Company, Oakland, Cal., giving age, occupation and references. Bring in your job printing while you think of it. Don't wait until you are entirely out. We are equipped to turn out neat and tasty printing promptly at Portland prices, or less.
