Interesting Lecture

Monday last in the rooms of the East St. Johns Improvement Association was given a demonstration and lecture on the subject of Canning Fruits and Vegetables by Miss Helen Cowgill, Assistant State Leader of Boys' and Girls' Work in Oregon. This work is maintained by the cooperation of the U. S. Department of Agriculture and the Oregon Agricultural College. This lecture was highly appreciated by the many people present and deserves more than passing notice.

Various methods are used in canning and the apparatus can be assembled to suit the convenience or experience of the operator. All fruits and most vegetables can be preserved in this way. Absolute sterilization of the material to be preserved is the first requisite after care to select good fresh fruit or vegetables. Miss Cowgill used an aluminum pressure cooker of small size in demonstrating this lec-

Communication

Editor St. Johns Review:

I note that a certain gentleman, Mr. N. R. Zimmerman "cannot accept the 'fling' you took at the Menace," when you were so rash as to reprint a clipping unfavorable to that slimy sheet. No doubt the "protest" met with hearty approbation from the devotees of the vile publication in question, but the great mass of American people, Protestant and non-Catholic, are too fair-minded to approve the "Menace's" campaign of falsehood, which belies millions of American citizens, slanders innocent women, and by other satanic means, tries to spread hatred and dissension among different classes of our citizens.

I am prepared to prove to any disinterested jury or committee that could be selected by agreement between this man and one representing myself, that the Menace is a lying, immoral sheet, an assassin of truth, and a stigma upon those who uphold it. If Mr. Zimmerman can refute my proofs of the above proposition to the satisfaction of the jury mentioned above, I can secure for him a present of one thousand dollars. As a guarantee of good faith on my part, I am willing to deposit fifty dollars before hand. This is certainly a liberal offer. Would Mr. Zimmerman please come out courageously and take advantage of it?—Yours truly, Daniel Hogan, 408 Tioga street, St. Johns.

ture. Rather favors the cold pack method in handling any material whether cooked in an open boiler or under pressure. In using a boiler for cooking the products, but 212 degrees of heat can be obtained, which requires a long time to break down the bacterial organisms in all fruit or vegetable matter, whereas, with some form of pressure boiler a higher degree of heat may be obtained and quicker work accomplished and in most cases an improved appearance in the product. In addition to these lectures this department of the College represented by Miss Cowgill assists to start off local clubs devoted to technical education in the home. The practical value of knowing how to care for surplus fruit and vegetable products is fully recognized by students of domestic economy and it is a pleasure to the Review to call attention to this lecture, and commend the East St. Johns Improvement Association for its effort along these educational lines.
