It's What You Think

If you think you're beaten, you are,
If you think you dare not, you don't,
If you'd like to win, but think you can't,
It's almost a cinch you won't,
If you think you'll lose, you're lost,
For out of the world we find
Success begins with a fellow's will,
It's all in the state of mind.
If you think you're outclassed, you are;
You've got to think high to rise,
You're got to be sure of yourself before
You can ever win a prize.
Life's battles don't always go
To the stronger or faster man;
But soon or late the man who wins,
Is the man who thinks he can.

The little daughter of a college professor had been taught to pray for the things which she desired. It was very dry and hot and everybody was looking anxiously for rain. Suddenly it occurred to the little miss that she could pray for rain, and she acted on her impulse at once. Shortly after there came a terrific thunder shower. Streets were gullied out, trees were blown down and other damage was done. After the shower, the child's mother found her standing at the window looking out, with a rueful face, upon the debris, and heard her say, in an awe-struck voice: "Oh, Lord, what have I done?"

Bachelor—"Does your wife ever admit that you're boss in the house?"

Henpeck—"Only at night when she thinks she hears burglars downstairs."—From The People's Home Journal.

What to Give

This Christmas is Essentially A Children's Christmas

For the sake of the Children let it be a happy Christmas. They cannot conceive the meaning of war, and that is as it should be. Spend your money for the things that go to make the children contented and happy. But for your friends and the older members of the family be just as practical as though the war was at our door.
