The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Huege, of Linnton, died Saturday afternoon, aged ten days. Miller & Tracey had charge of the remains.

C. R. Chadwick and son, of St. Johns captured first, second and third prize at the recent live stock show in Portland on their steel gray Flemish Giant rabbits.

If are looking for a finely located home, modern, and adjoining the business district of St. Johns, and have $500 to pay down, we can direct you to the owner. The balance may be paid on satisfactory terms. If you want a good home, call in. Now is the time to buy.

The illustrated lecture recently given in the Baptist church by Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Thomason was a grand success. The house was crowded to the doors. The pictures were delightful, coming at this season of the year. Mr. and Mrs. Thomason sang several pleasing duets which everyone enjoyed immensely.

The Portland Optimist says: "Why not charge ten cents on the Mt. Scott and St. Johns routes and let the other routes pay the five cents? Why pay for the other fellow's joy rides?" If the Optimist man had to "joy ride" to and from Portland each day as many St. Johnsites have to do, he would be howling for free rides instead of trying to charge us double for the "privilege."

Thomas Chadwick, of Manchester, N. H., who is 92 years old, and his son, William, who is just turning 61, were before Judge Battis here at Salem, Mass., charged with mutual assault and battery. William and his father got into an altercation over the food conservation campaign. Both lost their young tempers and gave each other black eyes and swollen noses. A policeman had to step in and lock both up. Judge Battis sent them home after they had promised not to quarrel again. Young Mr. Chadwick took all the blame. "Boy-like" he told the court, "I got excited and punched father, and naturally he punched back and believe me, judge, he has some wallop left."—Daily Press.

A PERSIAN BEAUTY

May be either of the feminine gender, or a rug. In the case in hand it is the latter. We are apt to grow a little bit enthusiastic when we begin talking about rugs for we have many that are beauties. To appreciate them you have to see them, and we hope that you will favor us with a call.
