THE REVIEW is entered at post office in Portland, Oregon, as mail matter of the second class under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

Mr. Vacant Property Owner, what are you doing aboutconstructing a dwelling on your lot, and thus doing your bit toward relieving the stress for St. Johns habitation? Are you doing anything, or contemplating doing anything about it? Some of the vacant lot owners are now completing plans to aid in the movement for more new houses in St. Johns. Why not you? If you are hesitating because of lack of funds, the Peninsula Security Co. of St. Johns will help you out. Ask Mr. Drinker about it. From all indications, if five hundred more houses were erected in St. Johns this year, it is assured that every one would find a tenant. The local ship plant at the present time has more than 3000 employes on its pay roll, with more being added right along; the elevator system is working three shifts and a large number of men; the woolen mills is greatly enlarging its capacity, the Peninsula Iron Works is running three shifts, the saw mills, Portland Manufacturing plant, the Cooperage plant and other industries are operating to full capacity, so there is evidence in abundance that vacant houses will not go and at the same time become a public benefactor. The opporit may be had.

This has happened in other parts of the city, and why not in St. Johns?

Deatness Cannot Be Cured by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased periods of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by reassitutional remedies.
