

Makes His Declaration For United States Senator

The following is the declaration of D. C. Lewis, of St. Johns, Republican candidate for State Representative, which he has forwarded to the Secretary of the State:

For Renomination:
The paramount issue, at this time, is the war and how to win it. Peace, with honor to our country, and to this end every energy of the people should be bent, and every power of the State exerted. Those who have gone to the front, or are preparing to do so, and those to follow, until victory comes, must be cared for, and every protection possible thrown around them and every right safeguarded and guaranteed—no sacrifice is too great.

Among other things let the right of the ballot go with them as an object lesson to the world of the fairness of our institutions. Generous provisions should be made for their dependents, and in doing these things let us not forget the older boys, now turned grey, who fought our battles before.

As I now see the situation, very little legislation is needed. I would rather prevent the passage of a bad bill than stand sponsor for new legislation of an experimental character. If experience and time have demonstrated that any of our laws are unworkable, clumsy, expensive or lacking in some essential, such laws should be amended or repealed.

In the past I have favored and worked for legislation looking to the extension of the State's commerce and the growth in importance of Portland as a Port. We should have greater ocean commerce and more river transportation facilities, and any fair measure that will aid in extending our ocean, or river, or rail transportation facilities or that will give us ships, and aid in increasing the importance of Portland as a Port, and trading, jobbing and manufacturing center, will receive my earnest support. I am for Portland ships on the high seas. I also believe in internal improvements, good schools, fair laws, well enforced, and a government with as few restrictions and few officials as possible. These things are much desired essentials to a well regulated and happy community.

The war has revived and stimulated some old industries and brought new ones to our State. No law should be passed that will cripple their output or importance. Let us encourage industries instead of hindering them; but in all legislation concerning industries, the individuals who work in them are entitled to as much consideration as the industries themselves, for without intelligent and healthy men and women our industries would be of little value. Fairness, courage and honesty in dealing with every public question that may come before the legislature should be the guiding spirit of every legislator, and to this end I pledge myself. My slogan will be: "I will vote for the right, I will oppose the wrong."

FACE the FACTS

LET us face the facts. The war situation is critical. Unless the Allies fight as they never yet have fought, defeat threatens. Hungry men cannot fight at their best; nor hungry nations. France, England, and Italy are going hungry unless we feed them.

Wheat Savings—They must have wheat. It is the best food to fight on. It is the easiest to ship. We alone can spare it to them. By saving just a little—less than a quarter of what we ate last year—we can support those who are fighting our battles. And we can do it without stinting ourselves. We have only to substitute another food just as good.

The Corn of Plenty—Corn is that food. There's a surplus of it. Providence has been generous in the hour of our need. It has given us corn in such bounty as was never known before. Tons of corn. Trainloads of corn. Five hundred million bushels over and above our regular needs. All we have to do is to learn to appreciate it. Was ever patriotic duty made so easy? And so clear?

America's Own Food—Corn! It is the true American food. The Indians, hardest of races, lived on it. Our forefathers adopted the diet and conquered a continent. For a great section of our country it has long been the staff of life. How well the South fought on it, history tells. Now it can help America win a world war.

Learn Something—Corn! It isn't one food. It's a dozen. It's a cereal. It's a vegetable. It's a bread. It's a dessert. It's nutritious; more food value in it, dollar for dollar, than meat or eggs or most other vegetables. It's good to eat; how good you don't know until you've had corn-bread properly cooked. Best of all, it's plentiful and it's patriotic.

Corn's Infinite Variety—How much do you know about corn? About how good it is? About the many delicious ways of cooking it? And what you miss by not knowing more about it? Here are a few of its uses:

There are at least fifty ways to use corn meal to make good dishes for dinner, supper, lunch or breakfast. Here are some suggestions:
