The Meat Bill is one of the large items in the family budget

but less than 10 cents per week of it goes to the packer in profits.

In converting live stock into meat and getting it into the hands of the retail dealer, the packer performs a complex and essential service with the maximum of efficiency.

Had Quite An Experience

H. E. Harris, the well known local ice manufacturer, recently received a letter from his son, Claud, of which the following is a part:

"When we stood off of Sandy Hook yesterday afternoon and came up the old North river in the dark and saw the Statute of Liberty all lit up at the entrance of the harbor, I believe it was one of the happiest moments of my life. I left here the 29th of last January in a submarine chaser. We crossed over under our own power, sometimes in convoy and sometimes not. We crossed along the Irish coast in search of submarines and experienced a lot of hardships. Later we went south and was in the Mediterranean sea when the Jacob Jones was sunk. We rescued three of the crew and took them aboard. A week after that we were run down in the night and sunk. All of the crew escaped except the chief machinist mate. He was sleeping at the time. I was on watch with another machinist. Both of us escaped with only bruises, and we were sure lucky. We were the last to leave except the officer, who stepped into the life boat right behind me. We were in that open boat all night and was picked up by a mine layer, and that was what we finally came into New York on. I have been pretty sick from exposure, but will get over that in a short time."

An Interesting Program

Easter exercises were held in the morning at the Evangelical church and the program arranged by the Superintendent of the Sunday School and kindergarten and primary superintendent was excellent. The little ones seemed at their very best, and why not, for such is the kingdom of heaven. In the evening, the Sans Dieu Rein class had charge of the program under the direction of the president of the class, Miss Ruth Edmondson, and she deserves credit for the manner in which she conducted the exercises. Then was music by the orchestra, patriotic songs by the choir in which the audience joined, a duet by Mrs. Daisy Hoskins and Mr. Ransom Young, a reading by Mrs. Hall and also one by Miss Wagner, a talk by the pastor in which he commended the class for what they had done and what they meant to the church, also in regard to the young men who had left the class at their country's call and were now at the front, presentation of a Service flag in memory of the boys who belonged to the class, reading of a poem by Mrs. Hall, composed by Miss Etta Patterson, a class member, which will appear next week. The decorations were beautiful and much credit is due the chairman of the committee, Mrs. W. S. Montgomery, and Mr. Roy Turrell and Lawrence Layton, who helped and also brought a beautiful palm and presented it to church. Our conference is now in session presided over by Bishop Swengel, of Harrisburg, Pa. Services every day and evening. Come and enjoy the service.—Reporter.

A Sudden Death

J. Elmont McCulley died at the St. Vincents hospital March 29th, aged 20 years, 2 months and 29 days. He was born in Nebraska, and had been living with his mother and step father, Robert Rakes, at the foot of New York street. Elmont was a fine young man, quiet and unassuming, and was well liked by all who knew him. He had been employed at the dry docks. Quite recently he has been afflicted with appendicitis, and upon the advice of several physicians, underwent an operation at the St. Vincents hospital. The operation was said to be a fine success, and when his mother visited him on last Friday, he was out of bed and in a most cheerful mood, for the attending physician assured him that he could leave the hospital for his home on Sunday last. But a few hours later the mother received a message that he had passed away. The funeral services were held at the Christian church Monday afternoon at 2:30 Dr. Jones preaching the sermon. A large concourse of the young man's friends were in attendance. Interment took place at the Columbia cemetery, the St. Johns Undertaking Co. in charge.
