A. W. Markle, Editor
Published Every Friday
Subscription price $1.00 per year.

The Review is entered at post office in Portland, Oregon, as mail matter of the second class under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

David A. Dickson and Miss Ida Mable Killebrew were united in the holy bonds of matrimony at the office of Dr. Jones Thursday afternoon, April 25th, Dr. H. F. Jones officiating. Roy Crouhley acted in the capacity of best man, and Miss Grace Dickson, sister of the groom, acted as bridesmaid. After the ceremony was performed an elegant wedding dinner, at which a number of the relatives and near friends of the happy young couple participated, was served at the home of the groom. For a number of years the groom was a faithful and capable member of the Review force, but for the past year or so has been aiding Uncle Sam in ship construction, at the present time holding a good position at the local ship plant. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Dickson of North St. Johns, and in every way a fine young man, well liked by all who know him. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Killebrew of North Willamette boulevard, and has many friends in St. Johns. The newly wedded couple have taken up their residence on Fessenden street. The Review joins with their hosts of friends in wishing them a most happy and pleasant voyage down the stream of life together.

It was a gallon of coin and currency the Grant Smith-Porter Ship Company workers dug from their overalls for the relief of Mrs. Jennie McLaughlin, mother of two boys serving their country in France. All day Thursday and until noon Friday a committee of the shipbuilders circulated among their fellows collecting the contributions. These were sealed in a close fitting box without being counted. The committee then journeyed by automobile to the home of Mrs. McLaughlin, 604 Third street. The patriot mother was told that she might as well accept the money, since it would, if she did not take it personally, be deposited to her credit in a bank. Though she said that her immediate needs had been provided for, the argument of the visitors induced Mrs. McLaughlin to accompany them to the Hibernia Savings Bank. There the box was opened. It was found that the gifts aggregated $232.27. The committee which had charge of the philanthropic enterprise consisted of E. F. Bowman, George Ford, Douglas Young and Creed T. Evans.

United Evangelical Church. A. P. Layton, Pastor. The pastor will again take up the study of the Second Coming of Christ in his Sunday morning services. Subject for next Sunday will be, "The Rapture and Revelation Periods Defined." On Sunday evening, he will speak upon the "Trinity" or "The Three Bellicent Ages." A cordial invitation is extended to the public, and especially the strangers, to attend these services as we believe that in spite of the great world's war that is being waged, when we are mobilizing all our resources and men in one mighty effort to save the world for democracy it is also necessary that we mobilize all the forces that make for righteousness for the great reconstruction period that must follow the successful termination of the war, and prepare ourselves for the coming of Christ's Kingdom upon Earth. Will you join in this great struggle against the common enemy of mankind?—Reported.

The Knights and Ladies of Security gave an open meeting to the public last Monday night. One of the largest crowds in the history of the council was present. The council now has its own orchestra consisting of three pieces, one of the best to be found anywhere. They received a good many applications at this meeting. Their Liberty Loan Dance was a grand success. They made enough to buy a larger Bond than they expected. They had some of the best known men in Portland at their last meeting, such as Judge Mo row, Judge McGinn, Attorneys Moulton and Moore, Representative Lewis and W. W. Hall. They all are active members in the Knights and Ladies of Security and say we are the liveliest bunch in Portland. Don't forget the Juveniles class every Saturday at 2:30 p. m. in Bickner's Hall. Bring the little ones and let them join the Booster Council of Juveniles.—Reporter.

A. W. LAFFERTY,

Who Will Beat C. N. McArthur For Congress May 17.

A. W. Lafferty, born poor, the son of a Union soldier who served four years with three of his brothers in the Civil War, and who felt the sting of the bullet.

Inf., now in France, and who has his standing offer on file in the War Department offering to go to the trenches in this war in any capacity.

Adding a third piledriver and crew to his force and then sending to Seattle for a fourth outfit, while he is prepared to obtain a fifth here if necessary. J. A. McEachern, who is constructing the first pier at the St. Johns Municipal Terminal, has impressed the Commission of Public Docks that he is earnestly endeavoring to hasten the big job. Mr. McEachern has promised that if men and material are to be depended on he will have the pier ready for use September 1.—Portland Abstract.
