

THE REVIEW is entered at post office in Portland, Oregon, as mail matter of the second class under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

One of the seemingly most unwarranted and selfish propositions that has been launched for some time is the proposed closing of the Columbia Slough near the Interstate bridge—unwarranted because it closes a water way, when dyking on both sides of the stream would apparently produce the result sought, although more expensive. And yet it would seem that the sand that could be procured by dredging from the Slough would offset the cost of dyking. Selfish because it would seem to benefit the promoters at the expense of the property owners on this side of the proposed dam. It has been declared by some that the Columbia Slough is not what might properly be termed a navigable stream, and yet if it were not so the government would not have jurisdiction over it, nor would the city of Portland have spent somewhere between $5,000 and $6,000 in the past in making surveys for a sewer outlet. It is not the present importance of this waterway that is at stake so much as that of the future. D. C. Lewis has pointed out that the Erie Canal at one time was only of slight width and four feet in depth, while at the present time it is thirty feet or more in depth, of considerably greater width, and its value as a navigable stream is extremely vast. So it will be with the Columbia Slough of the future, if left unclosed. As more expansion takes place and more water frontage is needed the Slough will be dredged and widened. A most important feature that should not be lost sight of is that the Slough is paralleled for a considerable distance with the railroad line only about 1000 feet removed from it. And by reason of the elevator system in North St. Johns this railroad is a common user, which means that industrial plants could be located on Columbia Slough with the ground between the industry and the railroad back of it available for store house purposes and the opportunity to connect a spur of only one thousand or so feet in length to connect the industry with the common user railroad line with the switching charge eliminated. Nothing could be more ideal. The closing of the Slough, for this reason alone, would seem the height of folly. It has not been the policy of the government in the past to close waterways or permit them to be closed that may be developed into much importance. On the contrary it yearly spends great sums of money in making them more navigable and of greater benefit to the general public. And so in this instance, if the important features and possibilities of the Columbia Slough are brought clearly and distinctly before the government officials, there can be no doubt that the closing of the Columbia Slough will in no wise take place.

The so-called show that had been holding forth on North Jersey street for about ten days has folded its tents and departed for greener pastures, taking with it thousands of dimes that would much better have been employed in buying W. S. S.

A. W. Davis has had a fine sample of African lily displayed at his realty office for the past several days. It stands about 16 inches high, deep maroon in color, perfectly black spine, and exudes a perfume similar to a glue factory. It is strangely beautiful in appearance and was grown by Mr. Davis, who has several of them.

The ladies of the Women's Christian Temperance Union will meet next Monday at the home of Mrs. Deleyger, near Sifton, Wash. It is to be an all day meeting. All are invited to go. We meet at the St. Johns Hardware store at nine o'clock, all ready to take the car. We expect to have an excellent program and a good time. We only take sandwiches. Mrs. Deleyger will have something good to go with them. Everybody come.—Reporter.

Mrs. Alva O. Beam died at her home, Friday, June 7th, of heart trouble, from which she was a sufferer for some years. She was born in New York state August 31, 1834, and consequently was 74 years, 9 months and 7 days of age at the time of her death. Besides her husband she is survived by two sons, Frank and H. D. Beam. The funeral services took place Sunday morning at the M. E. Church. The body was taken to the crematory, Miller & Tracy being in charge.

Miss Evelyn Gordon, daughter of Rev. W. S. Gordon of Astoria, is visiting Mrs. Dora Larsen for a few days on her way home from Salem where she has been attending Willamette University.

The Children's Day service of the Baptist Sunday School was held last Sunday. A very delightful program was rendered. The Rose Drill by the primary girls, and the Flag drill by the boys were especially attractive. John Borden and Donald Smith sang two pleasing little songs, other children gave recitations and songs and Miss Vesta Simmons a piano solo in her usual capable manner, while Rev. Burton and Mrs. Burton added to the program with a vocal solo. The Sunday School will present a service flag to the Church at a patriotic service June 23rd. The services next Sunday will be as usual. The Pastor will give helpful messages and the orchestra will assist with the music.—Reporter.

The most exciting base ball of the season occurred at the local grounds June 9th, when the local team defeated the Foundation club by a score of 4 to 2. Barham, the local twirler, was at his best, and had the edge on "Lefty" James, the opposing pitcher, throughout the contest. Had it not been for a rule adopted before the game the local score would have been higher, for both Shea and Clyne knocked the ball over the fence and neither scored, as two bases was all that was permitted. Barham certainly deserves great credit for his splendid work in the box. In the second game Foundation won out by a score of 6 to 0, which left the local club and Foundation tied still for the pennant lead. Foundation won the tug of war by several inches. They outweighed the locals. The attendance was the largest of the season. Foundation brought a large aggregation of rooters with megaphones and cow bells with them.

Charles R. Mason, a ship carpenter at the Grant Smith-Porter shipyard, was almost instantly killed last Friday morning when he fell 30 feet from a scaffold, striking on his head. He was loosening a guide timber from the hoisting rope when it suddenly swung around and knocked him from the scaffold. He sustained a compound fracture of the skull. He died before the company's emergency hospital was reached. He is survived by a wife and young child. Until recently he had lived at the Washab hotel, but moved a few days ago.

SUMMONS

In the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon for the County of Multnomah. Elsie Anthony, plaintiff, vs Thomas M. Anthony, defendant.

To Thomas M. Anthony, Defendant above named:

In the name of the State of Oregon, you are hereby required to appear in the above entitled Court and answer the Complaint filed against you in the above entitled suit, on or before the expiration of six weeks from the date of the first publication of this summons. If you fail to appear and answer said Complaint or otherwise plead within said time, for want thereof, the plaintiff will apply to the above entitled Court for the relief prayed for in her said Complaint, to-wit:

For a decree dissolving absolutely the bonds of matrimony heretofore and now existing between you and the plaintiff; that you be required to contribute $15.00 a month to plaintiff for the support of your daughter Dorothy, until she arrives at the age of eighteen years; that the plaintiff be given the custody of said child, and that she have other and different relief as she may be entitled to in equity.

This summons is served upon you by publication of the same in the St. Johns Review, a weekly newspaper of general circulation, printed, published and circulated in Multnomah County, State of Oregon, pursuant to an order of Honorable Robert G. Morrow, Presiding Judge of the above named Court, dated and entered the 6th day of June, 1918, which directs that Summons be published in said paper for six consecutive weeks and requires you to appear and answer said Complaint on or before the expiration of six weeks from the date of first publication of this Summons. The date of first publication is June 8th, 1918, and the six weeks thereafter in which you are allowed to appear and answer said Complaint or otherwise plead will expire July 20th, 1918.

GEORGE J. PERKINS, Attorney for Plaintiff. Resident of Oregon, Post Office address 1117 Board of Trade Bldg., Portland, Ore. Date of first publication June 7, last July 19, 1918.

Any gift from the folk back home means a lot to the boy.
When you send him tobacco, let it be good tobacco—tobacco worth sending all that long way—the flav, compressed plug of Real Gravelly.
Give any man a chew of Real Gravelly, and he will tell you that the kind he needs.
Ordinary plug is false economy. It costs less per pound, but it is not good. Gravelly is a small chew of it that a boy likes. Gravelly, because a small chew of it is a long chew. Gravelly, because it has a long life and a little to your smoking tobacco. It will give flavor—improve your smoking.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running ear or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and the tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever, and deafness is the result. It is not cured by cathartics, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Halls Catarrh Cure. Sold by circulation, free.
