Local News.

Electric Vacuum Cleaner for rent. H. F. Clark.

Miss Florence Wass of Seattle visited at the K. C. Couch home and with other friends in St. Johns last week.

For the first time in its history St. Johns had a lady mail carrier the first of this week, substituting for Arthur Frank, who has been called to the army service.

Word from John F. Brownley states that he is now located at Madison Barracks in New York. He plays a French horn in the Barracks Post Band, is getting along fine and is well pleased with Uncle Sam's service.

The funeral services of Charles Beebe, who met death on West Burlington street the first part of last week, were held at the parlors of Miller & Tracey last Thursday at 11:30 a. m., interment taking place at Multnomah Park cemetery.

The Dock Commission is advertising for bids for constructing the road leading to the Municipal Terminal at St. Johns. It will consist of about 2000 square yards of hardsurfacing and 5000 cubic yards of grading. Bids are asked on asphalt, concrete and macadam.

Advertisers will please note the fact that where five publications occur in one month, which happens about four times a year, all advertising will be charged for the extra insertion. Hereafter a month will mean four publications. Heretofore the extra issue has been practically a dead loss to the publisher.

Russell Poff dropped in to St. Johns last week from Virginia, where he is on the battleship Connecticut. Russell was on a short furlough and his coming was a delightful surprise to his father, John Poff, and sister. He is surely looking as if Uncle Sam's service was agreeing with him perfectly. Russell's many friends were glad to see him once more. He left Tuesday for his battleship.

Six weeks spent at grain elevator centers of the east and south has convinced Frank I. Randall, assistant secretary of the commission of public docks, that Portland's new 1,000,000-bushel grain elevator, now being built at the St. Johns municipal terminal, will meet all requirements. He was sent by the commission to make a study of elevator systems elsewhere with particular reference to handling grain, costs and general organization.

The Roll of Honor does not appear in the paper this week, as there are a number of names to be added to the list, all of whom we have not yet been able to obtain. As soon as the list is completed it will appear again as usual. Parents and friends are urged to hand in the names of any from St. Johns who are in the army or naval service, either through enlistment or draft. The Review is anxious to have the list fully complete.

More than 75 years of age, feeble in body, ill many months but but active in mind, Charles Nichols, a resident of the Peninsula district, has determined not to die until one great event is on the records. "Keep me alive, doctor," he appealed to his physician, Dr. I. N. Palmer. "I don't fear to die and I'm ready to go so far as my affairs are concerned, but I want to live until the kaiser is licked. On the day that I hear he has surrendered, I'll fold my hands. It won't be long."—Journal.

Bids for the following street improvements and sewers were opened by the Auditors at the regular meeting held June 26: Improvement of Syracuse street from Catinin street to Weyerhaeuser avenue by grading and sidewalks—United Contracting Co., $3,815.11; S. Simonsen $3,755.82. Improvement of Allegheny street from Central avenue to Fessenden street by grading and sidewalks—J. H. Johnson, $3,631.46; The United Contracting Company, $3,570.72.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Hendricks of Pe Ell, Wash., are arranging to move back to St. Johns within the next few days. Our people will be glad to again welcome them to our midst.

Rev. Burton of the Baptist church delivered a splendid sermon at the city hall plot Sunday evening, and it was listened to with much interest by the good sized audience in attendance.

D. N. Byerlee of Oswego, Oregon, was a pleasant caller at this office one day last week. He was formerly a well known citizen of this place and for several years associated with the Review. He this week accepted a position at the local ship yards.

Harry Mansfield, who was in the barbering business here when St. Johns was a "baby," dropped into town the first of the week and he lost no time in again establishing himself in business in St. Johns, purchasing the establishment of H. A. Tripp, opposite the St. Johns Hardware store on Jersey street. For the past two years Harry had been in business in Spokane. His old time friends are pleased to have him return to his old stamping ground. The "old timers" are coming back—Hendricks, Melkejohn, Dan, Byerlee, Mansfield, and others—coming back to be with St. Johns when it is reaching the stage of development that was only a hope in the days of yore.
