Dear Mary:—

You'll just have to run over soon and see my new rugs. I'm so tickled!

I was passing H. F. CLARK'S window and the exquisite designs stopped me. I went straight in and bought three new rugs and told my husband about it afterwards. When he saw them on the floor he, too, was pleased.

They have just got in a lot of rug "beauties." Do go and see them. You'll thank me for giving you the "tip."

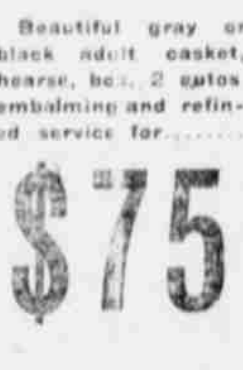

Your Pal—HELEN.

Reconstruction in Europe

By Mrs. Rose Benjamin.

Altogether 100,000 people are here to be cared for, many of them Armenians. The Friends' plan is to erect small wooden houses, provide seeds for planting and try to get them established where they are. In France the work of the Friends has been along the Marne. American saw mills have made it possible to construct 15 houses per week, and crude furniture in immense quantities. Grain has been harvested in the South Dakota way, and an experimental farm of five hundred acres is being put into operation, where American Friends are teaching French peasants modern farm methods. In other localities Friends are leading in reconstruction work not only farms, but of schools and public institutions. Not many lucid accounts of conditions in Russia have come across the sea, but the brightest spot in the picture is the work the Y. M. C. A. is doing there. Driven from one place they go to another, and wherever they are a hut is opened and the men come flocking in. When are the Americans coming is the question continually asked by the Russians. Many refugees owe their lives to the Secretaries. At Mourmansk the Y. M. provided ship fares for a family of Armenians who had been seven months fleeing from their native land. At Kiev the Association was paying for the care of a woman who had gone insane from mistreatment by German soldiers. At Archangel the Y. M. C. A. but is all that stands between the soldiers and complete stagnation. When the news from Russia reaches us it will be seen what really constructive work is being done there by the Y. M. C. A. They have also started Missionary propaganda in the base camps in France. There are indications of deep interest, proving the worth of this effort as a recruiting agency for the mission field. In one large camp in northern France an ambitious experiment registered a large degree of success. This was a missionary exhibition held each evening for a week in a Y. M. C. A. hut. Nearly 50 "Hutment" Naval and Military homes reading and rest rooms are operated by the Salvation Army in France. These centers are located wherever most accessible to soldiers. A worker and his wife usually compose the staff. The woman makes pies, cookies and doughnuts, sews on buttons and seeks in every way to fill the place of mother to the soldier. Her husband co-operates in all the work.

Over 2,000,000 women and children are now directly replacing men in England. These are recruited from industries made unnecessary by the war. The same has been true of France. As for France, the chosen country for democratic experiments, the favorite soil for revolution in ideas, one need not worry about results of hold solutions.

The question of Alcohol is still pending. It will soon claim its solution. The abolition of alcohol which is a veritable poison will soon be imposed, for if it is prohibited to the soldier why should it be permitted to the soldier who has become a citizen. After the war there should be world revivals. If the religious forces could be mobilized, endued with power by the spirit of God, and the Nations aroused, thrilled, rallied as in war, placing all resources at the service of the Church for war upon the "principalities power of the prince of this world" then indeed would some of the most vexing problems of our time be happily solved. O! Lord, revive thy work in the midst of years; in the midst of the years make known in wrath, remember mercy.

The St. Johns Terminal! Let's Boost For It

Have you been to the St. Johns Terminal during the loading of the West Munham? Have you seen them stow away in that boat car load after car load of rails? Have you seen them putting into the hold two river-boat loads of paper, Oregon paper? Have you seen train load after train load of machinery go down into that hold? Have you seen that string, two strings of whole trains waiting to be unloaded at the St. Johns Terminal? Hundreds of cars have been unloaded there during the last ten days. Have you seen the immense lot of equipment that will be going into the construction that is yet to be developed? If you have not seen any of this you should be ashamed to call St. Johns your home. If you have seen it and picniced on the shore where the Dock now stands then you should be proud to live in St. Johns. And you should boost for that Terminal every day of your life. Always call it the St. Johns Terminal. If you have a visitor take him out to see it. If salesmen call on any of our fellow merchants see that they know about this St. Johns Terminal. Persuade them to see it.

Have you heard the story of the Kimberly mines? You may travel the world over and come back here to St. Johns and find a Kimberly mine.

We are giving this space to this subject because we believe in it and because occasional reflection confirms the belief that a "Prophet is not without honor save in his own country."

For Walls and Ceilings

A Painted Finish is Best

A lustreless oil paint finish is ideal for walls and ceilings. It is artistic and sanitary. It is economical because its durability renders frequent re-decoration unnecessary.

ACME QUALITY

NO-LUSTRE FINISH

is a sanitary, lustreless, oil paint made especially for walls and ceilings. It can be applied over plaster, wall board, metal, canvas, wood, or any surface upon which paint can be used.
