Stock and Prices Talk

In any locality you will find the usual small cash grocery but St. Johns has the advantage of having a Cash Grocery Store that commands business and capital enough so that anything in the Grocery Line that appeals to the palate of any one is carried constantly. The Scales & Currier Cash Grocery is operated by men who think Groceries and talk Groceries as well as live on Groceries and live among the Groceries most of the time. The Scales & Currier firm know exactly what it costs to sell Groceries for Cash; there is no indefinite sum to enter in the calculated cost because of some people who do not pay their bills. When your selling cost is known to a certainty, when goods can be bought in quantities and when the owners are daily active in the conduct of the business and when years of experience is considered, is it not just common sense and reasonable when it is said you can save money by paying cash for your Groceries at the Cash and Carry Grabateria. Try it a month and see how much you will save over the old method of having the red tape of a charge account.

J. F. Gillmore, the well known realty man, has returned from a month's sojourn in Texas, spending most of his time in the famous Ranger oil fields, near Fort Worth. He has some wonderful stories to tell of fortunes made over night by a number of his old time friends and school mates there. He says there are from 1000 to 1500 producing oil wells right at the g. g. and the wells extend about 25 miles each way. As an instance of the value being attained for land in that neighborhood, Mr. Gillmore says that his brother-in-law, Henry Tullos, was offered a half million dollars cash for his 2000 acres, which offer was instantly refused. So impressed with the situation and prospects there was Mr. Gillmore, that he purchased thirteen acres of promising land, and is now anxiously awaiting the result of a well being drilled adjoining his line.
