

ST. JOHNS REVIEW

VOLUME 15

ST. JOHNS, PORTLAND, OREGON, FRIDAY, OCTOBER 3, 1919.

NUMBER 47

News in General

Patronize the Review advertisers.

September has been a most delightful month.

Russell Drinker has entered the University of Washington.

Mr. Galloway is building an addition to his home on South Ivanhoe street.

The Review is your paper, and will be just as newsworthy as you care to make it.

St. Johns is growing as rapidly in population as its housing facilities will permit.

Born—To Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Lindley, 507 East Polk street, Sept. 20, a daughter.

A young son arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Kerns, 126 Allegheny street, Sept. 17th.

If you need printing done, remember this office turns out neat and tasty printing at prices most reasonable.

People will soon be able to sleep an hour later in the mornings, which will no doubt be agreeable all around.

Sugar was a minus quantity here for some days the past week. It would seem that a sugar refinery in Portland would not be a bad thing.

James Dickson, who is at the Good Samaritan hospital, where he successfully underwent an operation last week, is still steadily improving.

Dr. and Mrs. Irvine have taken up their residence near the Emanuel hospital. The doctor will assist at that hospital for the next year or so.

Portland gets $35,000 knitting mills plant.

People of St. Johns, we would recommend that you read carefully every business announcement in this paper, and then decide to do all your trading with them so far as they are able to supply your wants. They are deserving of it.

Locey R. Decker, a shipyard worker, and brother of Carl Decker, of St. Johns, has just inherited $250,000 in money and property from an uncle who died recently in Minneapolis, says a Portland paper. Mr. Decker lives on East Gilsan street.

A strange kind of rain made its appearance in Portland last Saturday morning. It resembled a mixture of dust and water. Many explanations have been offered, from lava dust to plain mud. Whatever it was it certainly made a mess of some windows and autos. One thing is certain—it was not gold dust.

The Review is being distributed this week to the homes of St. Johns free of charge, and will be so distributed for some time to come. The idea is to gain a better acquaintance with all the people of St. Johns, both on the part of the Review and the business men whose announcements appear in this issue.

Advertising in the Review is based on weekly rates, and not monthly. It costs a certain amount each week to get out the Review, and if there are five publications in a month, advertisers are charged with five weeks' service instead of one month. Otherwise it would prove a serious burden to get out five papers in one month, and receive pay for only four.

Petition of the sales and supply division, United States shipping board, to build a storage warehouse of frame construction, 50 feet wide and 160 feet long, at its storage station in the old Grant Smith-Porter shipyard was granted. Twelve existing buildings of frame construction will be removed before the new structure is constructed, it was agreed.

The frost will soon be on the pumpkin.

J. Verdegan is repairing dwelling on Oswego street.

News items of special importance are sure scarce this week in St. Johns.

Carl Thompson has taken out a permit to repair residence at 827 North Edison.

Mrs. Rolph of South Syracuse street left the first of the week for an extended visit in Oskosh, Wis.

The Western Cooperaage Company has taken out a permit to repair dry kilns at an estimated cost of $10,000.

What is undoubtedly a record crop of D'Anjou pears from one acre of orchard has been harvested by Mrs. Gladys Brock of Hood River. From this acre Mrs. Brock secured 1340 boxes of pears of the highest grade. They were marketed through the Apple Growers' association, which vouches for the record. Her receipts will be approximately $4020, which will leave a margin of profit of well over $3000.

We would be glad to have the citizens of St. Johns send in news items they may have knowledge of. We want all the news going, but cannot get it except through the cooperation of our citizens. So if you have visitors at your home, it is a matter of courtesy to them that mention of their visit be made in the home paper. If any member of your family anticipates making a visit to a distance, let us know about it. If you have a birth or death, or accident occurs in your household, knowledge of the fact would be appreciated. Weddings, parties or social gatherings also are of general interest.

The Peninsula Lumber company is enlarging its hotel at the foot of McKenna avenue.

The Peninsula Lumber company is erecting a club house at 1415 McKenna avenue at a cost of $6,000.

N.R. Comello is erecting handsome five room bungalow at 523 South Jersey street, and has the same well under way of construction.

Advertisers desiring to change copy must have same in this office not later than Wednesday evening of each week. Otherwise a change cannot be guaranteed.

Miss Georgia Rich has opened a studio suite, 512 Bush and Lane building, corner Broadway and Alder streets, to accommodate a growing class in the city, also a number of students from out of town. Miss Fredia Bratyl of Gresham, who was assistant librarian at St. Johns the past year, is studying with Miss Rich and will be heard in recital this season. Miss Ethel Knoff, who has been heard by St. Johns music lovers a number of times, will be presented in recital before the holidays, to be assisted by John Oliver, a talented violinist of St. Johns. A number of pupils will be presented in recital to be given in the city in October, the date to be announced later. Miss Rich prepares and presents her pupils in public recitals.

Albany—60 stand apary produced 8500 lbs. honey this season.

Corvallis—Agricultural college gets $30,000 for another dormitory.

The free show at the Multnomah Monday and Tuesday evenings drew large audiences. The new serial was declared to be "a dandy." Manager McCredie is surely deserving of credit for his untiring efforts in putting on high class attractions here.

T. J. Autzen, A. Larowe, P. H. Edlefsen and J. N. Edlefsen motored down to Blind Slough Sunday to spend a few days deer hunting. They report the roads in fairly good condition and were successful in getting a deer. Camp was made at Larkin Green logging camp.

Lumbermen who are in close touch with trade conditions predict that before the end of the year the mills in Oregon and Washington will be swamped with business. In fact, they report that orders now being offered would keep the entire industry running at capacity if there were cars enough to carry the product away. As soon as the car situation improves the volume of orders accepted by the mills will increase.

This week inaugurates a new feature in the library story hour for the children. Stories about music and musicians will be told the first story hour of each month, and these will be illustrated with records on the Victrola. The first music story hour included the story of "Pan and his Pipes," and delightful flute records were played. The story of the early life of Mozart was also told and some of the lovely minuets of Mozart were played. The children will be given an appreciation of good music in this way.

Arguments on the application of the city of Portland for an extension of the St. Johns line of the Portland Railway, Light & Power company, from its present terminus to the St. Johns terminal will be heard before the public service commission at the courthouse in Portland at 1 o'clock, October 10. The city, in its application, declares the extension to be necessary for the accommodation of the employees at the municipal dock and elevator. The railway company opposes the extension as being too expensive and as involving further losses in operation.

Local advertising will be charged for at two cents per word, words in capitals counting one word and a half. So count your words when sending in a local ad. to the Review during the "Get Better Acquainted" campaign.

Rapid progress is being made in the construction of the new steel mill for the Pacific Coast Steel company at Wilbridge. William Piggott, manager of the company, whose headquarters are in Seattle, was here recently to look over the work. It is planned to employ 700 men in this plant when operations start.

St. Johns Methodist Episcopal church, Conference Sunday. There will be no preaching service in the morning. Sunday school at 11:00 a. m. as usual. Epworth League at 7:00 p. m. Dr. Borden, who is a great favorite with this church, will preach at 8 o'clock. A hearty welcome to him and to all.—J. H. Irvine, pastor.

So many of the business men have desired to make their announcements to the people of St. Johns in this issue that reading matter space is rather cramped. In fact, we had to refuse some advertising this week in order to get any news in the paper. However, if we are assured of enough advertising encouragement we may decide to enlarge the paper during our "Get Better Acquainted" campaign.

On Thursday afternoon, October 9th, there will be a meeting in the St. Johns Library Auditorium for all St. Johns women, and especially with babies. Dr. Moore of Portland, baby specialist, who has worked much with the babies of France and Belgium, will conduct a free clinic from 1 to 2 and examine the babies. Mothers can talk over their experiences with each other and Miss Eldridge of New York, representing the American Nurses' Association, will talk at 3:30 on Community and Home Sanitation. Our own community nurse, Miss Hendricksen, will be present. Tea will be served and there will be music, making the afternoon a pleasant social affair as well as informative. Everybody welcome from 12:00 to 5:30.

MULTNOMAH THEATRE ST. JOHNS

Open Sundays 2:15 to 11:00 Mondays and Saturdays open at 6:30 Other days at 7:00

ADMISSION, 6c, 11c, 15c

NOTE: We show nothing but good, clean pictures—the best to be had. However, because of the prices we are charged for some of the especially big productions, such as "Mickey," "Daddy Long Legs," "The Brat," "Paid in Advance," "His Majesty the American," "The Hoodlum," etc., we shall have to add five cents to our regular admission prices, on these particular nights. For such pictures over town in the big shows, you pay from 30c to 50c. As these big pictures are few and far between, and as we know you wish to see the very best, we shall endeavor to show them all.

Why the Electric Cleaner

There is really no comparison between the ease and thoroughness with which an Electric Cleaner removed dirt and the difficulty of sweeping. True, one CAN clean rugs and carpets without an electric cleaner. A broom or carpet sweeper will brush up 80% of the dirt; and if you like the exercise and have plenty of time and strength a broom and carpet beater will do the work after a fashion. In the same way one can wash without soap. Water alone will remove some dirt if applied with enough "elbow grease." But people use soap because it cleans more easily and better than water alone. For the same reason people use Electric Cleaners because they clean more easily and far better than other methods.
