The BRUNSWICK Method of Reproduction

Two Original Ideas Made It Famous

THE BRUNSWICK Phonograph is the creation of the highest type of phonograph-building genius.

It is a combination of the good features of all makes.

Old time crudities are discarded.

Added to that is its famous Method of Reproduction.

Making possible the Method are two exclusive features. By them, all record music is played finer, sweeter, richer.

They are the ULTRONA and the TONE AMPLIFIER.

The ULTRONA—a scientific Brunswick creation—is universal in adaption and simple in structure.

It plays all records infinitely better.

It is not a makeshift contrivance nor so-called combination attachment, but a patent that involves genuine fundamental principles of sound.

With but a slight turn of the hand it presents the proper needle and diaphragm to any make record. Every artist, every band, every selection, whether foreign or American, may be played at its best on The Brunswick.

The TONE AMPLIFIER

is part of The Brunswick Method of Reproduction. It solves an old problem in acoustics.

It is oval in shape, and moulded of rare hollywood

Like the sounding board of a fine violin it is built entirely of wood. It is absolutely free from metal.

By this method of projecting sound, tone waves are unrestricted and allowed to unfold into full rounded tones that are rich, mellow, and, above all, natural.
