The Cash and Carry Grabateria The Changing Times

The era of Chain Stores came about because a group of men with large capital could, by starting stores in different localities increase the outlet of merchandise emanating from one source.

The Chain Store system is nothing more than any other store except the buying part is concentrated at one place. The buyers for these stores have their headquarters at the source of production and they buy direct from the packer or the producer.

It goes without saying that a buyer who can buy the same sort of merchandise for several hundred stores can command a better price than a buyer for just one store.

The secret of advantageous grocery prices in St. Johns is this ability to buy in connection with many other stores. That is why you have had established by this store better prices than prevail almost anywhere in Portland.

Coupled with this buying capacity, the activity of the owners, the acquaintance with the locality because of our long residence here ought to convince any one that we can do business at less cost than the average grocery.

'We always believed that "a word to the wise was sufficient."

The meetings at the Free Methodist church are still in progress and gaining in interest, for which we thank God. Some have been saved and there is deep conviction on the people. We expect the meetings to continue next week. All are welcome.—Rev. L. B. Belcher, Evangelist; E. D. Blackman, pastor.

Mrs. Bert Olin and family have returned to St. Johns after attending at the bedside of her mother, Mrs. T. E. McCracken, who passed away at the home of her son. She was one of the early pioneers that came to the Willamette valley in 1847, settling near Dallas, Oregon, where she was laid to rest beside her husband, C. C. McCracken, who passed away about 7 years ago.

The monthly business meeting of the I. G. H. Y. Club was held at the Y. W. C. A. club rooms in Portland last Monday evening at six o'clock. Committee members reported their duties discharged in so far as lay in their power. New committees were appointed to take charge of new branches of the work. One of our old members who has not been able to attend our meetings for some time was able to be with us at this meeting. After the meeting was over we took dinner at the Hazelwood where a table had been reserved for us. Then we went to a show. Two of those present were unable to stay with us after dinner. We got home about eleven o'clock. The next meeting will be at the home of Faith Greene next Monday night. All members be sure to come.—Reported.
