VOLUME 16

ST. JOHNS, PORTLAND, OREGON, FRIDAY, APRIL 16, 1920.

NUMBER 23

IN THEIR NEW QUARTERS

Doric lodge No. 132, A. F. and A. M., recently purchased and is rapidly completing the renovation of three buildings in the heart of St. Johns' business district to house its lodge room, a general lodge hall for other fraternities, a number of offices and several stores. The Masonic lodge room will be used exclusively by Doric and by Minerva chapter, No. 105, Order Eastern Star, and is fitted up with expensive furniture and accessories. The property and renovations will total a cost of $25,000, and perhaps more. The lodge rooms and offices are on the second floor, and the ground floor is already being occupied by business firms. The Doric Masonic Building association is the name of the business organization formed entirely of members of the lodge. Its officers are Charles H. Carter, president; F. P. Drinker, treasurer; A. W. Davis, secretary; John M. Blair, trustee. The money to make the payments needed to purchase the property was raised by subscriptions. The lodge had less than 125 members at the time of making the purchase a few weeks ago. It now has more than 25 applicants awaiting degrees, with more coming at every stated meeting.

The following are the officers of Doric lodge: A. R. Davis, worshipful master; John M. Blair, senior warden; James A. Stephens, junior warden; Frank P. Drinker, treasurer; Ross Walker, senior deacon; A. L. Smock, junior deacon; Charles B. Russell, senior steward; Walter S. Ormandy, junior steward; Charles Stratton, tyler; Charles E. Hutchinson, chaplain.

The lodge was chartered June 11, 1908, and its first worshipful master was Dr. Joseph McChesney.

The following are the charter members: Charles Bredeeen, C. A. Wood, J. E. Williams, W. D. Weeks, R. M. Johnson, W. H. John, W. C. Alderson, S. Charles Davis, Joseph McChesney, P. W. Hinman, A. R. Jones, J. F. Hendricks, Marion Johnston, Thomas Satten, P. J. Miller, W. J. Peddicord, A. W. Davis, J. H. Donnet, H. H. Evans. The first six have appeared before the Great Master of the Universe, but the remainder are still active members of the order.

The following are the past masters of the lodge in their order: Dr. Joseph McChesney, A. R. Jones, S. Charles Davis, E. S. Harrington, Charles A. Fry, Randolph Graden, John N. Edlefsen.

Doric lodge is composed of many of the leading citizens of St. Johns, and its enterprise and enthusiasm manifest in the upbuilding of the city is appreciated by all.

Minerva chapter, No. 105, Order Eastern Star, the sister of Doric lodge, was organized 1912 with 42 charter members, and at present has 140 active members.

It has the following past matrons: Mrs. R. R. Davis, Mrs. Diana Day, Mrs. Anna L. Harrington, Mrs. Olive Ingledue, Mrs. Zella E. Johnston, Mrs. Myrtle A. Weeks, Miss Dixie M. Lewis.

Its present officers are Mrs. Catherine E. Stephens, worthy matron; Hal J. Davis, worthy patron; Miss Alda Overstreet, associate matron; Mrs. Bessie V. Post, secretary; Mrs. Mary Carroll, treasurer; Mrs. Stella C. Lewis, conductress; Mrs. Grace L. Blair, associate conductress; Mrs. Ida M. Canon, chaplain; Mrs. Flora Moxon, marshal; Mrs. Bertha Borden, organist; Mrs. M. Skinner, Adah; Mrs. Katherine Davis, Ruth; Mrs. Elizabeth Hanson, Esther; Mrs. Lola Ormandy, Martha; Miss Nettie Johnston, Electra; Mrs. Josephine Hendricks, Warder; O. H. Bigelow, sentinel.—Journal.

A cooking club was organized at the North School Wednesday, April 14th, with the following officers and membership: Katherine Bonham, president; Dollie Harris, vice pres.; Alice Glaub, secretary; Audrey Waite, Justine Ford and Marion Banbury. The club will work under the direction of T. D. Kirkpatrick, Urban Club Leader, and this work of the Extension Service of O. A. C. in Agriculture and Home Economics. This club will enter all competitive contests. The club leader is Mrs. Hagenbuch.—Reported.

DOING GOOD WORK

There seems little connection between the Salvation Army and the paper famine. Yet the industrial homes of the Salvation Army annually salvage upwards of 100,000,000 pounds of waste paper to help relieve the shortage. One newspaper publisher, investigating the work of the Army waste paper harvesters, declared the salvaged paper sent to paper mills last year would print one edition of newspapers with a combined circulation of 1,250,000,000 copies, or supply a newspaper of 3,424,657 circulation with paper for a year. This represents the saving of paper alone and takes no cognizance of the work of redeeming men from the gutter and placing them on their feet while they work at baling and sorting the waste paper handled. Hundreds of men who come to the Industrial homes of the Salvation Army are given a new viewpoint, healed in body and mind and made over into useful citizens—saved from waste even as they save discarded newspapers and magazines from waste. During the past ten years these men, while finding renewed manhood, have saved more than three quarters of a million tons of waste paper. Still there are thousands of tons total loss because the public's aid in conserving waste paper has not been solicited. In Portland hundreds of tons of paper are sorted and baled at the Industrial home at 26 Union Avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Yandle and two small sons and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Peterson and daughter, Helen, motored out 18 miles south of Silverton, Oregon, Saturday and attended a surprise dance at Alford Hults, given in honor of Mr. Hults' 34th birthday. There were about 54 guests. Mrs. Hults was assisted by several of the neighboring ladies in serving the midnight lunch, which consisted of coffee, sandwiches, pickles and cake. There were fifteen cakes including the birthday cake baked by Mrs. S. W. Milligan of Silverton which was decorated with 34 candles. The evening was very much enjoyed by all, especially Grandma Hults, who is 72 years old. At a late hour the guests departed wishing Mr. Hults many more such occasions.

A dispatch from Eugene to the Oregonian Wednesday states: "Mr. and Mrs. David Byerlee of this city will sail from an Atlantic port some time in August for Bolenge, Africa, where they will engage in missionary work. Both are graduates of the Eugene Bible University. Mr. Byerlee also was instructor in music in that institution. Mr. Byerlee is a practical printer and will manage a printing establishment on the local papers in that capacity for a number of years." Mr. Byerlee is well known in St. Johns, where he resided a number of years. He learned his trade at this office. His many friends here will wish him "Bon Voyage" and plenty of good luck at the other end.

After all, high prices are not a question of the profiteer. The trouble is simply that too many men are taking profits from the production and distribution of goods. The manufacturer gets the profit due him; a broker gets profit; a jobber gets a profit; a wholesaler gets a profit; and then the retailer gets his legitimate profit. Figure it out yourself on a pair of socks.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

The eighth term girls met on Monday and Tuesday at study period to discuss graduation.

In the first term class meeting held Tuesday evening it was decided to have masquerade party in the Y. W. C. A. rooms Friday evening.

On Wednesday after school a party of girls under the chaperonage of George and Miss Kincaid paid an interesting visit to the Portland Woolen mills.

The first of a series of luncheons to be served on Thursdays to prominent people in the community was served last Thursday under the capable management of Catherine Banbury and Lucy Thomas.

Life On Mt. Olympus, an interesting playlet, written by Jewel Montague and Joy Efield, two enthusiastic members of the Latin club, was given by the club at their meeting last Friday evening.

"Ye Poet's Club" is soon to be organized with Sybil Barrett, Cecile Roberson, Charlotte Jones, and Stanley O'Connor as charter members. The club will have a large part to play in the literary life of the school in the near future.

The fourth term biology class, under Miss Brewer, visited the Central Library on Friday afternoon to see the butterflies exhibited there. They also visited the public market to observe the many different kinds of fish and vegetables. They visited Rutledge's seed store and a florist's shop.

The one topic of conversation in the halls is track, as the interclass meet is to be held April 23. Miss Clinton, Mr. George, and Mr. Kalmbach comprise the faculty committee on arrangements. The class captains are as follows: Oliver Jessup and Gertrude Hanson, eighth termers; Harriet Padden, seventh termers; Owen Robertson and Viola Kryer, sixth termers; Margaret Clemmens and Peter Ermler, fifth termers; Gladys

Britton and Henry Bauer, fourth termers; Sylfi Larson and Orvil Johnson, third termers; Etta Bass and Harold Llewellyn, second termers; Florence Thompson and Ralph Fairchild, first termers.

The High School division of Campfire Girls hiked to Holbrook Wednesday evening.—C. A. W.

A small boy of the Jewish persuasion who was playing at the end of the pier fell into the sea and was only rescued after great difficulty by an intrepid swimmer, who dived off the end of the pier and succeeded in getting the boy into a rowboat. Half an hour afterward, much exhausted by his efforts, the rescuer was walking off the pier when a man came up and tapped him on the shoulder. "Are you the man who saved my son Ikey's life?" he said. "Yes," answered the much exhausted hero. "Then," said the Hebrew in indignant tones, "were's his cap?"—Tit Bits.

A man may use the mole on the back of his neck for a collar button; he may give his children a penny to go to bed without their supper, and steal the penny from them after they go to sleep to fool them again next night; he may stop his watch at night to save wear; use a period for a semicolon to save ink; pasture his grandmother's grave for hay; but a man of this kind is a scholar and a gentleman compared with a man who takes a newspaper from one to three years and when asked to pay for it will put it back in the post office marked "Refused"—that he don't want the blamed thing now.—Sillwood Bee.

George Heinrich, 13-year-old boy of 1516 Meers street, is missing from his home and his parents are of the opinion that he left with Jesse Cook, of 683 Tioga street, who is also missing. Jesse left a short time ago and was returned to his home by police officers, but has disappeared again. When last seen the Heinrich boy wore a pair of khaki trousers, blue mackinaw, low shoes and torn gray hat.—Telegram.

The young people of the Evangelical church and members of James John high school reserves' club gave a farewell party honoring Miss Dorothy Currin Monday afternoon in the Y. W. C. A. club rooms. Music and games furnished the entertainment. Refreshments were served. Dorothy will leave with her mother for Klamath Falls today, Friday, where her father, C. S. Currin, has already gone to take charge of the drug stores in which Currin Bros. are principal owners.

The United States Civil Service Commission announces an examination to be held on April 24th for the position of clerk and carrier in the Portland Post Office. Salary, $1200 per annum. Men only will be admitted to this examination. Further information and application blanks may be secured at the Information Window, or J. S. Howe, Local Secretary, Board of U. S. Civil Service Examiners, new post office building, Portland, Oregon.

The world do move. Following is the first paragraph of a letter sent by the Director of the Government Savings Organization for the Twelfth Federal Reserve District to parents of new born children: "The Government of the United States is vitally interested in the fact that you and your wife have been blessed with the advent of a child. This Government is the society of American people, and it is fitting that it should be interested in its new members." The letter goes on to ask parents to assure the education of their children by buying a War Saving Stamp every week.

A surprisingly large number registered at the office of Attorney Frank A. Rice during the week or so that the books were open here, and which closed Monday with a registration for the day of 156. In all there were 525 registrations, which is said to be approximately 15 per cent of the entire vote of the district. The registration is largely due to the efforts of the St. Johns Community Club.

Mr. C. A. Ray is expecting his mother from San Diego, Calif., to spend three months with him.

Beggars Who Float in Bowls.

In various countries during past ages beggars have carried bowls, but China is probably the only country in which bowls carry beggars. The bowls are boats, round in shape, and large enough to carry two legs, one of whom manœvers the craft beside an incoming steamship while the other, usually an aged Chinese woman, does the begging from the passengers, sometimes making it easier for them to contribute by reaching upward with a bag on the end of a long pole. The dexterity of the beggars in handling their seemingly impossible boat gives entertainment in return for alms, says an exchange. The craft has no visible distinction between bow and stern, and the paddlers, coming out from the ends, sit, one might say, at opposite ends of the diameter, looking forward, and each paddling vigorously over his own side of the bowl.

Leap Year Missed.

The rule used to tell if a year is, or was, a leap year is to divide it by the figure 4. If it may be done without a remainder it is generally supposed to prove that the year is a leap year. This is correct in respect of all years save in the case of the 100 years, that is, the beginning of a century, as 1700, 1800, 1900. In those years the test is to divide by 400. If these tests are applied to the last 100 years we shall find the year 1900 is not divisible by 400 and neither was the year 1800. Leap year occurred every four years after the year 1800 until 1896, but there was no leap year between 1796 and 1804 (a space of eight years). Neither was there a leap year between 1896 and 1904.

The Ring-Ouseil.

The migrant ring-ousel builds year after year in a granite quarry, and I have often heard him there. It is a solitary, forgotten place, and he knows it better than most people. His song differs from the intimate music of his kinfolk, the blackbird and thrush. It is thinner, colder, more elfin—the pure tinkle of a mountain brook. With some birds you feel that they like you to listen to them; not so the shy ring-ousel. One pays something in time and patience for his song, and values it the more.—Eden Philpotts.

Bunched Them All.

I asked Billy if he loved me and he said "Yes." Then I asked if he liked Aunt Nell better than me and his reply was: "I like both." I continued asking similar questions in regard to other members of the family. Finally the child grew impatient and said: "Oh, gee whiz! I like the whole bunch of you!"—Exchange.

No More Birthdays.

"Pop?"
"Yes, my son."
"What are the 'middle ages'?"
"Why, the middle ages, my boy, are the ones which when the women reach they stop counting."—Yonkers Statesman.
