

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Among this week's activities is that of electioneering for the new Student Body officers to be elected next week.

Rev. Johnston of University Congregational Church, held the students spell bound as he talked on his "Memories of Africa," at assembly on Tuesday morning.

The Hiak Klatawa girls, under the splendid supervision of Miss Von, are going on a week-end excursion, to Eagle Creek on May 22nd. They will go by boat to the Cascade Locks, and then hike the rest of the way.

The Senior play "Engaged By Wednesday" was a huge success. "Martin Henry" was a delightful gloom chaser and Ruth Hoffman as Lucile was a charming leading lady. Messrs. Bay and Getz proved amply their ability as coaches.

The Sewing and Art exhibits were put on display in Bonham & Currier's store windows to remain until Monday. The Domestic Art class with the aid of Miss Straube also put on an exhibit with the other high schools of the city at Coffield's on Morrison and West Park, on Thursday, Friday afternoon in the Auditorium at Meier & Frank's the Fashion Show was given; the girls taking part from James John were Irene Faulkner, Idrys Weimer, Anna Poe, Helen Anderson, Helen Gatzke, Jane Bedford, Vieta Hayes and Nettie Dawson.

The living demonstration given by the Domestic Science and Home Nursing classes on Thursday from 11-2 and from 4-5:30 in Ormandy Brothers store windows was very interesting. Those taking part in the Domestic Science exhibit were Lucile Bailey, Laura Lott, Florence Blomgren, Marjory Dotson, Anna Mead, Catherine Banbury, Lucy Thomas, Veneta Brown, Charlotte Reid and Agatha Waite. Those in the Home Nursing exhibit were Lela Taylor, Helen Gatzke, Hallie Mason, Sibyl Bugbee, Hazel Williams, Margaret Bueerman, Viola Keyser, Mildred Brandon, and Laura Norene.

Ye Poet's Club is one of the lively clubs of school. There are thirteen lucky poets in its mystic circle and on the thirteenth of every month they reunite in their poetic rites. Their officers are Stanley O'Connor, Poet Laureate; Raleigh Myers, Promulgator of Public Benefits; Sybil Barrett, High Guardian of State. Miss Clinton is Faculty Advisor. Sybil Barrett, Cecile

A comprehensive exhibit from the Portland Flouring Mills of the different processes by which bread is made, of the different kinds of flour used, and of the uses to which grain is put, is on exhibit this week at the St. Johns Branch Library. The exhibit comprises over forty separate parts and is most interesting and instructive to both grownups and children.

Good Thoughts Should Be Pushed Along.

Some person had good thoughts and the Woolen Mill Club House was built. Some one else had a good thought, it was pushed along and right now the Baptist Church is being repaired and altered to house the Y. W. C. A.

Some other person had good thoughts and a Library Building for housing books, which are the expression of good thoughts, was built.

All the Churches, Schools, Fraternal Orders are good thoughts "pushed along." It is good thought that enables the local industries to close their mills so that each week the employees may have half a day for recreation.

There is an agitation right now looking to the closing of all the local mercantile establishments in St. Johns on WEDNESDAY at noon each week during the months of June, July and August.

We believe that agitation is the result of good thought; why should the sales people of the stores, the owners and their families be denied that sort of thing. Particularly so when it is unquestionably a popular idea.

This firm hereby goes on record that it favors giving the Mercantile Fraternity WEDNESDAY afternoon during the three summer months and closing the stores during that time.

And this is due notice that our store will be closed tight at twelve o'clock each Wednesday beginning June 2d.

ACME QUALITY VARNOTILE

Tramp, scuff! Tramp, scuff! All day long. No unprotected floor can stand it. The surface goes, the wood warps and splinters. Your floor is a sight!

It is cheaper to walk on Acme Quality floor varnish than on a bare floor. Varnish saves the surface and thereby saves all. A varnished floor is easier to clean than a bare one. It looks better. It is better.

We keep a complete line of Acme Quality floor varnish. Stop in and we will tell you something of floor economy.
