Grants Car Line Franchise

The Multnomah county commissioners Monday granted to the city of Portland and the commission of public docks a franchise under which a street car line may be operated between the tracks of the Portland Railway Light and Power company and Municipal Terminal No. 4, located near St. Johns. The franchise is for a period of twenty-five years, revocable at any time that the city and dock commission fail to comply with its requirements.

Some unique problems are involved in the various franchises, ordinances and resolutions being prepared by Deputy City Attorney by L. E. Latourette for the improvement. Construction of the railway and widening of the street are planned. The city's franchise will give permission for construction of two blocks from Fessenden street north to Catlin street. The county's franchise will permit construction from that point on for a distance of nearly a mile to the viaduct over the railroad tracks just east of the big pier. The city has jurisdiction in the matter of widening the street from Fessenden to Bruce street. It is proposed to open the street for 10 feet more on the west side, and the county will also widen the road on the north. The franchise will be issued to the commission of public docks, which is undertaking to finance the project. The dock commission will also bear the cost of widening the street up to a total expense of $4000. If the work costs more, a special assessment will be levied against the property owners. It will be necessary to cut off the fronts of two buildings. In a sense the city, in this development, will have its first municipally owned railway, although the franchises include operating clauses for the Portland Railway, Light & Power company. The P. R. L. & P. will furnish equipment and operate the railway. The street is being widened because it is the main traffic artery from the Peninsula district, and with the great volume of business now being done

Sad Drowning of Little Boy

There were several inaccuracies in the report of the drowning of Lester Leroy Webb as published last week. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Webb and the fatal accident occurred at the edge of the meadow near A. A. Muck's residence north of the woolen mills. The little boy was on a plank at the time. The water had risen considerably and a large number of carp were among the high grass. The boy had a pole in his hand and was striking at the fish. The lad's uncle, Henry Wilson of Syracuse street, was near at hand and also the boy's older brother, Ralph. They presumed that Lester was perfectly safe as the plank easily bore his weight and it was not realized the water was so deep as it proved to be. All at once they noted the boy was not on the plank, and they rushed into the water toward the plank. Ralph got in beyond his depth but persisted in trying to get to where they had last seen Lester, and it was with the utmost difficulty that his uncle could get Ralph, who was unable to swim, to shore. The body of Lester was found a little later and although persistent efforts were made to resuscitate him, it was without avail. It is presumed that Lester had reached out too far in striking at a carp, lost his balance and fell into the water which was about six feet deep. It was a very distressing accident. Lester with his parents had only been here from Nebraska for about a month.

at the terminal there is much transportation over the road. With the addition of street car tracks along this street, it will be too narrow to adequately accommodate the traffic.—Telegram.

Will Continue Free Paper

Last October the publisher of the Review decided that for a period of six months the paper would be placed in the various homes of St. Johns free of charge. The main object was to make every home familiar with the home paper, in expectation that people getting used to having the paper regularly would probably want to have it continued. The plan was carried out, and beginning with the first issue in October last the paper has been delivered free to the homes in St. Johns. When the six months period had expired, upon the expressed desire of some of the leading advertisers, it was decided to continue the plan for three months longer, which was done, and with last week's issue the Review has been delivered free in St. Johns for nine months. In that time the cost of news print has advanced about half a dozen times; ink, distribution, etc., has also made a marked advance in price. On distribution we have three men who are licensed distributors employed and it takes practically all day Saturday to make the distribution complete. Advertisers have found the free paper to be such a splendid advertising medium that they are loath to have us return to a subscription basis, which of course would mean a smaller circulation. But the increased cost of publishing and distribution is a problem to be fully considered. However we have decided to continue the free paper for an indefinite time, but advertising rates will be increased to some extent. The cost for those advertising regularly, however, will not be increased at this time, but all advertising for a period of less than 6 months will be increased. The paper will be placed in each home as heretofore, but all persons will be given an opportunity to subscribe, with the guarantee that if the free paper is discontinued at any time, for the remaining portion of the year the paper will be delivered by Uncle Sam's carriers. The rate of subscription will be one dollar per year. When the paper goes back on a subscription basis in St. Johns the subscription price will be $1.50 per year. Those who care to subscribe may do so. It is an entirely voluntary matter. The paper will be delivered at the home just the same. In case of those who by reason of living on the outskirts of St. Johns fail to be reached by the carriers sometimes and desire to have the same delivered through the mails, may be accommodated by paying one year in advance. Uncle Sam does not deliver free papers. Reviews sent out of the St. Johns district will be charged for at the rate of $1.50 per year. How long the free paper will continue will depend upon the advertisers. When advertising falls below a certain amount, reversion to the subscription basis will follow as a matter of course.

Another feature in connection is that we would like every home to feel a personal interest in the paper to such extent that they would contribute news items of which they may have knowledge. In fact we would like to have the community at large edit the paper in a way by supplying the news. In this way surely the Review would be to all intents and purposes strictly a home newspaper. You furnish the news and we will return it to you in printed form.

Isabella Snook was born in Jefferson county, Iowa, January 19th, 1857, and died at her home on Dwight street, Portland, June 7th, 1920, aged 63 years, 4 months and 22 days. She was the mother of nine children, four of whom are living. She was a kind, loving mother and a loving, affectionate wife, and leaves to mourn her death a husband, O. J. Mafford of this city, and four children: Mrs. F. H. Lane and Mrs. J. T. Ankrom; Mr. Mert Mafford of Goble, Oregon, and Mr. Floyd Mafford of Hood River, Oregon; two brothers, Dr. Wm. Snook of Portier, Iowa, and Edward Snook of the same place; also nineteen grand children, besides scores of friends. The funeral services were preached by Rev. Reed. Bring in your job printing.

The "Oregon Grape" Thimble Club, was pleasantly entertained at the home of Mrs. Alice Weimer, 303 E. Burlington, on Wednesday, June 16th. Dinner was served in a magnificent manner by committee, after which the regular club meeting was held. A very pretty home wedding was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Chipman, on Wednesday, June 30th, at high noon, when Alta Elizabeth Faulkner became the bride of Henry L. Smith. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. H. Irvine under a canopy of white Syringa. Preceding the ceremony Athill Irvine sang "Rose of My Heart." The wedding march was played by Irene Faulkner. After the ceremony the wedding party partook of a delicious luncheon. The bridal party departed on the 4 o'clock train for their future home at Roslyn, Wash.

Mrs. Nettie Dunsmore entertained about fifteen members of the Altruistic Club, Pythian Sister, last Tuesday at her home, 607 Fessenden street. Mrs. Dunsmore was most ably assisted by her two daughters who prepared a very delicious dinner at the usual hour. Quilting occupied the time, when the meeting was called to order. After the reports were read the meeting was adjourned until July 13. It was decided to meet with Mrs. Bell at an all day session at her home on Richmond street.

Members of Deborah Livingstone Women's Christian Temperance Union of St. Johns were entertained at an all-day meeting at the home of Mrs. J. DeLieber near Vancouver, Monday. Since Mr. and Mrs. DeLieber moved from St. Johns to their present country home three years ago an annual event has been the fried chicken dinner given to members of the St. Johns W. C. T. U., and Mrs. DeLieber announced Monday that the invitation would be extended each year. Those who attended Monday were: Mrs. J. C. Scott, Miss Katherine Scott, Mrs. E. A. Olsen, Mrs. Ogden, Mrs. G. D. Eatinger, Mrs. Margaret Lemmon, Mrs. S. C. Cook, Mrs. Amanda Foul, Mrs. S. L. Irwin, Mrs. J. D. Kerr, Mrs. A. Kerr, Mrs. J. Ordway, Mrs. T. H. Skells and daughter Rosetta, Mrs. O. W. Lindquist, Mrs. Flora Sururrier, Mrs. Sarah Turrel, Mrs. Caldwell, Mrs. Sair, Mrs. F. N. Sandifur, Mrs. T. H. Short, Mrs. J. Sterling, Miss Alsberge, Mrs. Eugene O'Hara.

There was once a young Californian who often visited a leading hotel in Santa Barbara because they have such excellent honey there—a honey that the bees make from a certain flower. The young man got married in due course of time, and the wedding trip must include Santa Barbara, so the bride might taste of his superb honey. But the first morning at the hotel there was no honey on the breakfast table. The bridegroom frowned. He called the old, familiar waiter over to him. "Where's my honey?" he demanded. The waiter hesitated, looked awkwardly at the bride, then bent toward the young man's ear, and in a stage whisper stammered: "Er—er—Mamie don't work here no more, sir."

After coming home from Sunday school Johnny's father asked: "Well, my son, what part of the sermon did you like the best?" Johnny stood thinking a moment and then said, "Well, Pa, I liked the part where they passed around the hat. I got a quarter; how much did you get?"—Ex.

An Apostle of Americanism

Here is a Man From the Labor Ranks Hitting Hard at the "Reds" and Radicals

Straight from the labor ranks comes E. B. Fish, the two-fisted fighter for true Americanism, who is to address Chautauqua audiences the third afternoon of Chautauqua, on "The Cause and Cure of Industrial Unrest." Less than a year ago he was a machinist in an Everett, Washington, shipbuilding plant. The spread of radicalism threatened labor conditions in the Northwest, and Fish left his job as machinist on marine engine beds, and went out to preach Americanism to his fellow laborers. In less than a year he has probably done more than any other man in the Northwest to oust the "reds" out of that country.
