The Cash and Carry Grabateria The Changing Times

The era of Chain Stores came about because a group of men with large capital could, by starting stores in different localities increase the outlet of merchandise emanating from one source.

The Chain Store system is nothing more than any other store except the buying part is concentrated at one place. The buyers for these stores have their headquarters at the source of production and they buy direct from the packer or the producer.

It goes without saying that a buyer who can buy the same sort of merchandise for several hundred stores can command a better price than a buyer for just one store.

The secret of advantageous grocery prices in St. Johns is this ability to buy in connection with many other stores. That is why you have had established by this store better prices than prevail almost anywhere in Portland.

Coupled with this buying capacity, the activity of the owners, the acquaintance with the locality because of our long residence here ought to convince any one that we can do business at less cost than the average grocery.

We always believed that "a word to the wise was sufficient."

It would seem like a good plan for St. Johns to have a little agricultural fair of its own. There would surely be an interesting exhibition, judging from some specimens that have been advanced.

Mrs. A. J. Poe, who resides on the Roberts tract in North St. Johns, brought in an interesting exhibit Monday. It was the leaf of a tobacco plant grown on her place, and measured 19x36 inches.

It is high time that the city authorities spend a little time and money in taking care of some of our streets that are not hard surfaced. A little grading and rolling would do wonders before the wet weather sets in again.

Glover & Allen, who have purchased the Schiesser restaurant on North Jersey street, have had the room remodeled and have put in a quick lunch counter on one side and a card room on the other divided by a partition.

Frank Gasser, assisted by his brother, George, handled about eighty-five tons of cherries which they delivered to the canneries in fifteen days, which is going some. They are preparing to handle prunes, pears, apples and other fruit as they ripen.

As an illustration of what St. Johns soil will do in the potato line, H. A. Longstaff of 921 N. Hudson street brought in the product of one hill that made a most beautiful display. They were fine, large ones and there were a lot of them for one hill.

Mr. W. H. Dearing and Mrs. Nellie Boone were united in marriage July 29th. The groom is the well known and well liked South Jersey street confectioner, and the bride is a charming St. Johns lady, and a sister of Thomas Glover. Their hosts of friends unite in wishing them a most pleasant journey down the sea of life.

While his mother waved affectionately at him as he started down the chutes at Columbia beach Sunday afternoon, Leonard Murphy, 11 years old, was sliding to his death in the Columbia river. The lad lived with his parents at Vancouver. The family had gone to the beach opposite Vancouver for a Sunday outing and Leonard had spent much of the afternoon in the water. "Come in, now," the mother admonished about 5 o'clock. "You have been swimming too long now." "But I'm muddy; let me slide down the chute once more and get cleaned off," the lad rejoined. So he slid once more. He struck the water and sank.
