Statement of ownership and management required by the act of Congress of August 21, 1902 of the St. Johns Review, published weekly at St. Johns, Portland, Oregon, for Oct. 1, 1920.
County of Multnomah
Before me a Notary Public in and for the State and county aforesaid, personally appeared A. W. Markle, who having been duly sworn according to law, deposes and says that he is the publisher of the St. Johns Review and that the following is to the best of his knowledge and belief a true statement of the ownership, management, etc., of the aforesaid publication for the date shown in the above caption, to-wit:
That the names and addresses of the publisher, editor, managing editor and business manager are:
Publisher, A. W. Markle, Portland, Oregon.
Managing Editor, A. W. Markle, Portland, Oregon.
Business Editor, A. W. Markle, Portland, Oregon.
That the known bondholders, mortgagees and other security holders owning or holding ten per cent or more of total amount of bonds, mortgages or other securities are Markle Estate, Clearfield, Penna.
That the names and addresses of the stockholders, owners or proprietors are Markle Estate, Clearfield, Penna.
Sworn to and subscribed before me this 20th day of Sept., 1920. A. W. Davis, Notary Public.

The Review is entered at post office in Portland, Oregon, as mail matter of the second class under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

Nearly 22,000,000 bushels of wheat will be produced in Oregon this year. All cereal crops will be larger than in 1919, according to government figures, which estimate an increase of 5,190,000 bushels on this particular grain alone. The potato yield will be close to 6,000,000 bushels. Other increases over last season will be in oats, barley and rye.

This country is all right in every way. It is second to no other on earth. It has immeasurable resources, developed and undeveloped, and our present national debt, a large part of it for money advanced other nations, great as it is, is smaller than that of any of the other great powers. It will be paid, as in the past, long before falling due. Alarmists, big or little, will not disturb the American people, who will as heretofore move forward in the even tenor of their way to our common destiny and heritage.
—Byron Times.

What would happen to Oregon if the constitutional amendment to limit legal rate of interest in this state to 4 and 5 per cent should pass? The answer is simple. From an industrial standpoint the state would be wiped off the map. Even the U. S. Government cannot borrow money at 5 per cent today. Then what chance would the individual borrower have of getting money at any such rates in Oregon. The passage of such a bill would be industrial suicide for Oregon.

In the old days when horse-drawn vehicles were commonplace the best-kept farms were equipped with automatic gates so that drivers could open them by pulling a rope. Now the same principle has been applied to garages with the result that a Portland man has invented an automatic door opener and the Universal Garage Door Opener company has been formed to put it on the market. By means of the invention a man may open the door through applying pressure to an electric plug, while still seated in his machine.

Recipe for a Man: Follow directions carefully and results are guaranteed. Take a healthy body with a normal brain and carefully remove all envy, jealousy, malice, hatred and fear. Add equal proportions of honesty, truthfulness, courage and fidelity, mix with a large portion of the milk of "Human Kindness" and "Brotherly Love"; add equal parts of optimism and caution; stir with energy and vigor; flavor with "pep" and "ginger" and season with experience; relish by a process of education; mould in moral environments; garnish with an attractive personality and serve according to the Golden Rule.

There are persons who constantly clamor. They complain of oppression, speculation and pernicious influence of accumulated wealth. They cry out loudly against all banks and corporations and all means by which small capitalists become united in order to produce important and beneficial results. They carry on mad hostility against all established institutions. They would choke the fountain of industry and dry all streams. In a country of unbounded liberty, they clamor against oppression. In a country of perfect equality, they would move heaven and earth against privilege and monopoly. In a country where property is more evenly divided than anywhere else, they read the air shouting agrarian doctrines. In a country where wages of labor are high beyond parallel, they would teach the laborer that he is but an oppressed slave.—Daniel Webster in the Senate in 1833.

The hunter who can't tell a man from a rabbit has nothing on the small-town citizen who shoots his wife for a burglar.
