Mr. Ermon E. Mastick and Miss Alys R. Catto were united in marriage by Dr. H. F. Jones at his office on Saturday, November 20th, and will make their home in Portland. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Catto and has many friends here who wish the young couple unbounded happiness.

Hugh Gallagher, eastern agent of the Pacific Steamship company, spent Friday in Portland and was the guest of Engineer G. B. Hegardt on a trip to municipal terminal No. 4. He expressed surprise at the wonderful terminal development in Portland, saying that shipping facilities of this port are as good as any in the country.

I'd rather be a Could Be
If I could not be an Are,
For a Could be is a Maybe
With a chance of touching par.
I'd rather be a Has Been
Than a Might Have Been by far;
For a Might Have Been has never been,
But a Has was once an Are.

Mrs. Samuel Strange of Lucerne station, was instantly killed when she was run down by an S. P. & S. train near Linnton Saturday. According to Deputy Coroner Calkins, Mrs. Strange was attempting to beat the train across the tracks when she was struck. Her husband was prostrated over the death of his wife.

K. C. Couch has launched into the general insurance business at Hillsboro and already is developing a fine business. Mr. Couch has been one of St. Johns' most active citizens, having been identified with much of the important development that has taken place here, and St. Johns will miss him.

Clifton J. Crouch and Miss Alice Haven were married at noon October 21st in the First Baptist church of Riverside, Cal. The bride is a charming California girl, daughter of Prof. Haven of Leland Stanford University. The groom is the second son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Crouch, former residents of St. Johns, and a brother of Mrs. Harry J. Simmons. He is a graduate of James John high school and has been attending the University of Southern California. The young couple have taken up their residence in Long Beach, Cal., where the parents of the groom reside. He has a wide circle of friends in this city to whom he was known as "Bill," who wish him joy.

The Review this week is being given over to Thanksgiving matter, and in consequence, of which day the Review appears earlier than usual.

The Danville, Kentucky, Advocate showed just how serious they take politics down there. The editor inserted this notice in the election edition: "The Advocate will miss the next issue. The whole force was getting returns last night and we are all going to sleep—the loss of sleep and the news we got is enough to put us to sleep."

St. Johns is to have a wool scouring plant capable of scouring one million pounds of wool a month, as part of the equipment of the Western Wool Warehouse, according to an announcement made Saturday by S. F. Wilson, vice president of the company, which recently incorporated for $2,000,000. The wool scouring plant will be the best west of Boston, and only large public one in Portland, Mr. Wilson says. Contracts have already been left to girdle with trackage the three acres of water front property acquired by the warehouse company from the American Marine Iron Works, at the foot of Richmond street. The property has a modern two-level dock, 360 feet in length. Construction of the first unit of the warehouse and the scouring mill will begin immediately afterwards. It is proposed to have the first units of the warehouse ready for the spring wool clip. The warehouse will be independent. It is expected to provide accommodation for fifteen million pounds of wool. Wool will be accepted without the obligation to consign and the grower will have at all times control of his clip, while it will be the only wool warehouse in the West under regulations of the United States wool warehouse act and conducted subject to the regulations of the chief of the bureau of markets, Mr. Wilson says. Seventeen prominent Portland and Oregon bankers and wool men are on the directorate.

Decision was reached Friday by Port of Portland and Public Dock Commissions to conduct the drydocks of the two commissions under one management. The new drydock of the Dock Commission will be located on land owned by the Port Commission and adjoining present dry docks on south. The present machine shops and other supplementary equipment of the Port Commission will also serve the new drydock of the dock commission. Supervision of the combined docks will be under the Port commission.

The present drydock of the Port body is in need of extensive repairs and filling of ground will be necessary for the construction of the new drydock. After improvements have been made the two drydocks and repair plant will have the following: An additional area of 2.6 acres filled to a height of 35 feet above and an area of 3.5 acres filled to a height of 24 feet; track for locomotive crane and freight cars on all piers, fills and to all shops; piers of an aggregate length of 2000 feet; berthage for four large steamships and miscellaneous dredging plant; storage for dredge equipment; machines shop and carpenter shop for drydock and dredge repairs; locomotive crane and derrick, and electric power lines to drydock, pumps and fire protection mains and compressed air to all piers. The total expense of the repairs and new installations will approximate $254,500, of which $109,400 will be met by the Port Commission and $145,000 by the Dock commission. Steps immediately will be taken to install the new drydock of the Dock Commission, the pontoons for which are rapidly nearing completion.
