Portland harbor facilities have favorably impressed Frank C. Wright, associate editor of the Engineering News-Record, for in giving his observations on a recent visit he says: The new No. 4 terminal, formerly called St. Johns terminal is an admirable piece of work, quite the most modern and efficient river terminal for ocean going vessels on the continent. Here again in a minor port one sees the latest and best ideas of port development worked out in a successful manner. The grain elevator is now complete.

The I. G. H. Y. Club held its semi-annual election of officers at the Y. W. C. A. in Portland last Monday night. We hope great things from the new officers and are expecting and planning the best year yet for the Club. Our next meeting will be at Mabel Reed's on East Charleston street next Monday night. Be sure to come. We always have a good time at Mabel's.—Reported.
