

-- A GREAT -- CONSOLIDATION SALE

Even $10,000 worth of furniture was not enough to satisfy the demand of St. Johns home lovers, the people who delight in attractive homes, who know values, and will buy when they get good values for their money. We Proved That.
We greatly appreciate the response

NOW FOR ANOTHER SURPRISE

We thought we were through, but Mr. Feldstein suddenly decided to consolidate his unloading sale at the Washington Street Store in Portland with the St. Johns branch, instead of dividing his time between two places, he can now concentrate on one. The saving in time and expense goes to St. Johns residents

FOR MONTHS the Feldstein Furniture Co. has been selling better furniture for less money than any other store in Portland. NOW we will beat all sales records for QUALITY, VARIETY and LOW PRICES. Don't Take Our Word For It, Come and See For Yourself. All prices in plain sight. Every piece of Furniture plainly marked with the regular price and the CONSOLIDATION SALE prices. Figure out the savings and put it in the bank.

The REVIEW is entered at post office in Portland, Oregon, as mail matter of the second class under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

Some high points in the Real Estate Broker's law in effect May 25, 1921: If you sell or trade, or offer to sell or trade, rent or offer to rent, any real estate not your own with the promise or expectation of a commission or reward you are a real estate broker in the eyes of the law. Before beginning the business of real estate you must obtain a license from the Real Estate Commissioner and furnish a bond of $1000 to the State of Oregon for the protection of your clients, and establish and maintain an office for transaction of business and keep your license posted in a conspicuous place therein. A licensed real estate broker is forbidden by this law to divide his commission with any one not a licensed broker. Any violation of the law by a licensed broker carries a penalty of forfeiture of license, and liability on his bond for any damage a client may suffer from misrepresentations or fraud, and violations of the law by any one engaging in the business of real estate broker without having first obtained a license and posted a bond, carries a penalty of a fine and imprisonment until the fine is paid. Reported.

Chas. L. Graden wishes to announce that he has severed his connections with private corporations and will engage in the general practice of law with offices at 7.9 Gasco building, Portland, Oregon.
