COMMUNITY SINGING AN AID TO COMMUNITY LIFE

So Says Walter Jenkins, Chautauqua Song Leader.
"Community singing is a powerful means of attaining a feeling of solidarity, which should exist in a community between man and man," says Walter R. Jenkins, the well-known song leader of the Northwest who is to be at the Chautauqua. Mr. Jenkins is one of the most able leaders of community singing now before the public. During 1917-18 he was Northwest Song

Leader for the Army and Navy Camps and since that time has been Secretary of the Portland Community Service Inc.
His enthusiasm and "pep" make him an instant favorite before all audiences. In addition to leading community singing at Chautauqua on the fifth day he will also present some splendid baritone solos.

FINE FUN—FINE MUSIC
Ada Roach and Ruth Freeman Touch High Spots in Music and Entertainment at Chautauqua

Ada Roach and Ruth Freeman are two folks who can entertain delightfully and have the time of their lives doing it. Their love of the work undoubtedly accounts to quite an extent for the enviable place they hold in the entertainment world. It is doubtful if there is a more popular duo on the platform today. Ada Roach is an Irish Gem. She sings and tells stories in a manner that captivates everyone. Ruth Freeman presents dialect numbers and plays the violin with real artistry.

Noted Writer at Chautauqua
The Big Khaki Tents Lure Peter Clark Macfarlane From His Study

Peter Clark Macfarlane, who has been coaxed out of his cozy California study for the summer by the Ellison-White Chautauqua, could well rest a claim for fame on many other things besides his widely circulated stories and books. His fame as a writer is wide-spread throughout the land. It is not so well known that he is a remarkable interviewer of great men. There are few great personages of the last decade who have not honored him with something of their confidence: Roosevelt in the wilds of Arizona, Goethals in the heart of the Canal Zone, Woodrow Wilson on the porch at Sea Girt, the silent Colonel House, and mysterious General Ike Wood and Admirals Ike Sims and Rodman and Piske. Macfarlane is an intensely interesting speaker.

VILHJALMUR STEFANSSON
Famous Arctic explorer and discoverer of "the blonde Eskimo." He came to Chautauqua with a remarkable illustrated lecture on his many years of exploration work in the frozen North. This story has been attracting greater crowds throughout the great cities of the country than any lecture event in recent years.

PETER CLARK MACFARLANE
Noted American writer and correspondent who makes his initial Chautauqua appearance this summer before Ellison-White audiences. Macfarlane is one of the leading contributors to the Saturday Evening Post, Colliers', and many of the leading magazines. He is rated as one of the best public speakers in the country.

THE JUGO SLAV ORCHESTRA
An orchestra from Central Europe that is entirely unique upon the American concert platform. First Western Chautauqua tour follows many seasons of European successes and notable Eastern engagements. They play various sizes of the tamburica, their household instrument for generations.

An organization created and coached by Thurlow Lieurance, noted American composer and authority on Indian music. One of the finest stringed orchestras in the Chautauqua world. Jane Peterson, Chicago contralto, soloist. Two concerts on the last day.

"That's my kind of a shoe, fellows!"
"Get those on and I'm ready for anything. Ready for fishing, a hike, a race, or a game and ready for work, too. I don't have to change them when I go to town. See those tire-tread soles and pneumatic heels. I don't pound leather when I can walk on air. They're the best shoe I ever had."
The Hood Wurkshu deserves its popularity, nor is this popularity confined to the younger members of the family. A shoe for comfort and ease in hard service; a sturdy, tough, unusually long wearing shoe, combining lightness with strength, and economy with good looks.
