The Review is entered at post office in Portland, Oregon, as mail matter of the second class under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

Telephone users of St. Johns will be given a completely reorganized telephone office and tastily improved service through the two million dollar reconstruction program of the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph Company, according to C. E. Hickman superintendent. One of the first changes to be made under this program will effect the St. Johns district. Work has already been started to shift 300 stations in the St. Johns industrial section from the Woodlawn to the Columbia office. Since the entire Columbia section will have the prefix changed to Empire within a year, these 300 telephones are to be given the prefix Empire to prevent a second change. This new name will be assigned on these 300 telephones with the December issue of the telephone directory. With the issue of June, 1922, directory it is proposed to change the office name to Empire and to prefix all numbers under 1000 with a sufficient number of zeros to make a total of four digits. This latter change is necessary to make the St. Johns service conform with the "six digit system" to be established all over the city. When the changes are complete the subscriber will not have to call interchange operators for connections between manual and automatic or machine-switching calls. Complete details of the changes to be made and instructions will be sent out prior to the reorganization and improvement of the St. Johns service, according to Mr. Hickman.

The 1925 Fair was the prevailing topic at the meeting of the Fraternal Boosters, Wednesday, October 26th. Mr. Fisher and Mr. English made very interesting and enlightening talks on this subject. The proposition of consolidating the clubs of the Peninsula in one body, that co-operation and unionism may be established, was voted upon favorably. This does not signify that the Boosters have abandoned the northern Peninsula site, as we are for St. Johns first, last and all the time while a ray hope exists. But should this site prove to be a second choice, it behooves us as citizens of Portland, to get behind the next best location and boost, as the Peninsula is the logical place for it. The questionaire of the Mock's Bottom site has been reported ready for presentation by the Overlook Club. As a matter of representing the Peninsula by districts, one member of the Boosters was appointed as representing the St. Johns district, to certify that the people of the Peninsula as a whole are for the Peninsula, not endorsing the above site, but representing the Peninsula and St. Johns district for the Peninsula.—Pub. Truth crushed to the earth shall rise again, and that's where truth has it on the run-down pedestrian, says an observing exchange.

Our revival campaign is progressing slowly, but steadily. Several of the Lord's children have told of great blessings received, as the messages go forth revealing the love and goodness of our Heavenly Father in His dealings with mankind. My heart has been pained since my arrival in St. Johns, as I have been informed that there has not been a revival of much note for some years. Surely this distresses the heart of every one of Emanuel's followers, for it reveals our weakness, does it not? When we read the history of past revivals, we find that a great concern for the souls of men and prevailing prayer were the chief characteristics. John Knox cried, "Give me Scotland or I die." In the revivals of Wesley, Charles Finney and others this was true. Brethren, are we going to give the battle over? Let us pray for a revival in St. Johns. We invite all to attend the revival in the old Methodist church each evening at 7:30. Sunday also at 2:30. If you are a Christian, a back slider, a professor or an infidel; if you never go to church; if you have lost confidence in Christianity; if you think you are too bad to go, come. Jesus loves you and so do we.—B. J. Franklin, Evangelist.

The local telephone office presented a scene of excitement and merriment last Tuesday evening, October 25th, when the operators gave a "kid" party. The rest room was gaily decorated in orange and black streamers, jack o' lanterns, cornstalks and leaves of red and gold. The huge ghost of Halloween was pleased to be amid such revelry in his honor, for he looked down on the "children" with smiling, ghastly countenance. Rather startling came tripping in with lace dress and a perfect "Mamma's Angel Child." Anne of Green Gables spoiled the cider and Polyanthus gave her an all day sucker to make her happy. Golden Lucks was there, having just barely escaped the three bears. Mary, Mary, quite contrary, was quite amiable especially after doughnuts and coffee were served. Everybody danced and played while various talented ones played the Victrola and sang songs. As a chaperone was omitted there were lots of quarrels and occasionally blows were in evidence. One little girl who wore rompers, aured much because others called her a boy. But all this was forgotten when a popper appeared with popcorn and butter. An interesting feature of the evening was the awarding of prizes to Miss Blaise Pratt as the most likable and Miss Emily Honger as the most comical. As children are not allowed to stay out late the party ended "early," everybody declaring that kids have more fun than grownups. Those present were the Misses Mary Jones, Maude Sprout, Emily Honger, Gladys Berry, Geneva Short, Flore Harris, Anna Hendricks, Notay Leland, Alma Russell, Viola Dibble, Jessie McGrath, Josephine Donlon, Mabel Pratt and the Messrs. Frank, Prior, Rena Funderburk, Harriet Wakefield, Ruby Thompson and Ida Pershweiler.—Reported.

The Dorcas Club of the M. E. church will hold their regular business and social meeting next Saturday at 2 p. m. in the basement of the new church, after which light refreshments will be served. We hope to have a large attendance as the Queen Esther girls are to meet with us. All members in arrears please bring dues.—Reported.

Last Thursday noon the domestic science class of the James John High prepared a delightful luncheon for the local branch of the Social Welfare Society. Eleven were present. Much credit is due the "Misses" Mary Taylor and Fern Clute for their effective decorations. The table and room presented a Halloween appearance carried out in the color scheme of orange and black. While serving both girls wore Halloween costumes and were masked.—Reported.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

The classes of history and commercial geography had an enjoyable hike to Terminal No. 4 Wednesday afternoon, superintended by Miss Davis, Miss Gore and Mr. Durckleberger. The object of the trip was to see the three boats in the harbor. The classes were allowed to go on the Northumberland, a British vessel, and one of the largest ever in a Pacific coast harbor. It was taking on a large cargo of apples from the Oregon country. The classes were also permitted to inspect the Japanese passenger ship. The main object of the trip, however, was to see grain loaded in bulk on the Abercrombie. Before leaving the classes were taken through the elevator under the direction of an expert guide.

The prizes for the paper campaign were awarded in assembly Thursday morning. The eighth termers having secured more pounds of paper per capita, won the first prize, a J. J. Hi banner. A second prize was awarded by the Hi Y boys to the class having the greatest number of pounds. This prize, a dish of ice cream, served to each member of the class, was awarded to the fifth term class. As a reward for our efforts in this campaign a maquerade party has been planned for the members of the student body. Committees have been appointed and are now planning the evening. A good time is assured and all are eagerly awaiting October 28th.

Thursday noon of October 20th a Halloween luncheon prepared by the Domestic Science girls of the James John High, was served to eleven members of the St. Johns Community Welfare Committee by Mary Taylor and Fern Clute. These girls were dressed as witches and the room was decorated with beautiful flowers and the usual Halloween symbols. The guests assured the girls that they were served with a most delicious luncheon.

Friday afternoon the girls of the Hiak Klatawa Club met to initiate the new members. At four fifteen o'clock about twenty-eight girls were blindfolded and the sophisticated members, taking the initiates by the hand, led them through the mysterious rites deemed necessary for initiation, lastly exacting vows to be true members of the Hiak Klatawa Club. After this games were played until refreshments, consisting of sandwiches, salad and apples, were served. The happy crowd of girls broke up at six o'clock and the new members felt themselves duly included in the club.

The Girls' Athletic Assn. met Oct. 20th for the purpose of electing a faculty advisor and a new basketball manager. Miss Gore was chosen faculty advisor and Laura Lott, basketball manager. The organization of tennis and volleyball teams was discussed, but nothing definite was decided upon. The basketball captains from the various classes decided to meet Wednesday for the purpose of drawing up a schedule for the basketball practice.

The fifth term class party was given Friday evening at the home of Helen Bade. The success of the party was aided by Mr. Getz, the chaperone. Games and dancing were the chief forms of amusement for the evening. Delicious refreshments of pumpkin pie with whipped cream was served.

The girls' literary clubs of the different high schools were entertained Monday afternoon at the Washington High. The entertainment consisted of a play, several songs and a reading. The remainder of the time the girls spent in dancing. After this refreshments were served. Each president of the various clubs was called upon to give a short talk. The James John Philathenaeum members enjoyed the afternoon.
