Onward Progress.

Onward is the watchword! What the coming years may have in store is beyond human conception! We are apt to think very few improvements can be made over and above those which have already been made. But the world is moving on, and the idea is beyond our faintest realization to estimate or speculate as to what there is in store in the coming ages. If the past is a criterion for future contemplation, we are simply lost in amazement and mystery as to what the untold and undeveloped future may have in store. We should be profoundly glad that it has been our proud privilege to have lived in this progressive day and generation, and have participated in the enjoyment of all its untold advantages and promising opportunities. We esteem with adulatory feeling what American progressiveness has accomplished in the world of comradeship. Who shall attempt to compute the transcendent fulfillment in the years to come? With trenchant power and prestige let us hope and strive to move proudly onward in the redemption of a world from hatred, violence, intolerance and selfishness. "United we stand; divided we fall." If we but comprehend the meaning conveyed to us from the above quotation, and realize that each of us are duly qualified to take an active part in life's drama, endeavoring to put to the front and uphold any movement for good that may be on foot in our several communities, we will join hands relative to the planning and working out of greater accomplishments. In evidence of our faith within ourselves we undertake to grasp the reins of progress, endeavoring to guide it into even wider fields to greatness. With hearts as broad as our vision, with a power of will as strong as that crushing hand clasp, shown only when presented in the attitude of implicit sincerity. The qualifications required to take an active part in life's drama for the furtherance of good we may do our fellow creatures and our several communities is within us all.—Publicity Manager Fraternal Boosters.

A Portland man lost his eyesight through drinking poisonous moonshine and is suing for $3000 damages. We are beginning to understand now why they are called blind-piggers.—Astoria Budget.
