Endorse the St. Johns Site

Portland, Oregon, October 28, 1921. Mr. Thos. Autzen, Chairman 1925 St. Johns Exposition Site, 404 Willamette Boulevard. Dear Sir: The Fraternal Boosters of Portland take this means of notifying your committee that they endorse the site adjacent to the Municipal Terminal No. 4, commonly called the St. Johns Fair Site, for which your committee is answering a questionnaire.

We have offered our services as an organization and also as individuals to do anything within our power to advance the facts and merits of the proposed site but, up to this time, have not been requested to do anything. We have, through the press, told of the wonderful advantages of this site.

At this time we wish you and your committee to realize the fact that there are two sites on the Peninsula, and if the facts are brought forth from the questionnaire that the St. Johns site has no chance, the Fraternal Boosters are for the Peninsula. They have selected a representative for the Mock's Bottom site merely to show to the committee who will select the site that the people of the entire Peninsula are represented and are for the Peninsula. The Boosters are endorsing the St. Johns site until this site is eliminated and are unanimous in one thing and that is that the 1925 Fair should be placed on the Peninsula. Respectfully yours—Fraternal Boosters of Portland.—R. Corcoran, President; A. Siferte, Vice-President; C. R. Zurcher, Treasurer; Joe Roberts, Secretary; W. R. Ashby, Trustee; M. C. Soule, Trustee.

The trouble with convincing a jury that an accused man is insane is that it involves a further long struggle to convince the asylum authorities that he is not.—Eugene Register.

Speaking of batter reminds us that in the good old days Grandma used to keep the batter working all winter, adding more flour as the jar got low, but never dumping the mixture. Now we make pancakes out of a paper box.—Journal.

Diogenes told Alexander the Great to get out of his sunshine, and if the Grecian variety was anything like Oregon's October brand, we'll say we'd have told Alexander the very same thing.—Exchange.

Rabid coyotes are prevalent in the northern part of Malheur county. Two men have been bitten near Bridgeport and taken to Baker for treatment.

In the time of King John that part of Ireland which was subject to English rule was divided into 12 counties, and the entire district was known as the Pale. From this originated the expression "Beyond the Pale," meaning outside the law or beyond jurisdiction. Inside the Pale English law was acknowledged and obeyed, while the land outside was in an almost constant state of uproar and dissension.
