A. W. Markle Editor

Published Friday of Each Week

404 N. Jersey St. Phone Col. 321

Subscription price $1.50 per year.

The Review is entered at post office in Portland, Oregon, as mail matter of the second class under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

Subject for Christian Science services Sunday: God the Only Cause and Creator.

Where is that wonderful old-fashioned grandmother with her quaint little bonnet, her long skirts, her se-date colors?

Oh bring back those country newspaper days when one old subscriber provided the fattened turkey and others brought the fixin's!

A New York woman recluse who saw only a grocer during the last six years of her life has died worth $190,000. She must have seen him first.—Ex.

Henry Allen was taken to the Sellwood hospital on Tuesday. At last report he was getting along nicely and he expects to return home in two or three days.

If the powers insist on a radical reduction of the land forces, how are we going to guard our mail trails and keep West Virginia in the Union?—Engene Guard.

The management of the Portland ball team is having difficulty picking out a manager, but from the showing they made last year, they better be looking for some ball players.—Medford Mail-Tribune.

There are 24,420 acres of unappropriated and unreserved land in Benton county according to the United States land office. No occasion for anybody being without a home here.—Corvallis Gazette Times.

If the parole and pardon were taken away from judges, governors and presidents there would be more of an even shake up of big and little criminals and more respect for law and courts.—Oregon City Banner-Courier.

Well if we don't build any new battleships for 10 years we might afford to cancel those foreign loans. And if those foreign nations quit building battleships they can well afford to pay us what they owe—so the question would still be unsettled.—Eugene Guard.

Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints: Sunday school Sunday morning at 10:30 at Bickner Hall. Cottage meeting every other Friday evening at 7:30, 524 East Mohawk street. All welcome; no collections.

I have a five room modern house, 60x100; fruit trees, nice yard, 942 North Ivanhoe street, St. Johns, for which I have power of attorney, good till January 4, 1924. I would like to trade for two small houses or one house and one vacant lot. Send letter to Mrs. C. M. Sowers, 2216 Willamette boulevard.

Officials of the Union Pacific system will meet the tariff sheet of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railroad leading into Seattle and Tacoma for freight originating east of Chicago and destined for the Hawaiian Islands, according to a statement made public by Harry L. Hudson, traffic manager for the Port of Portland, and dock commissioner.

The improvements which have been made on the Morrison street bridge, at the nominal cost of some eighty-six thousand dollars, has practically demonstrated the valuable and far-seeing policy of ex-county commissioner A. A. Muck. During his incumbency of the office it was a much mooted question as to whether the county should build a new bridge entailing an outlay of three million dollars or repair the present structure. Mr. Muck battled for the latter proposition and the work, lately completed, has shown the sagacity of his advice. By giving the people a repaired structure that is safe to bear the burden of traffic for the next twenty-five years, he has done valiant service and deserves credit.—Democracy.

"Hark! The Herald Angels sing, Jesus, the Light of the World."

Over nineteen hundred years ago the shepherds on the Plains of Judaea followed the Star of the East to the lowly manger in Bethlehem, where the Redeemer of the World was born, December 25th. For centuries all Christendom has observed this sacred day; and millions will bow at the Sacred Shrine as reverently as even the defenders of the Cross in the dark days of the Crusades. These ideal soldiers of the Cross defended the Christian religion in actual warfare and subdued the followers of Mohammed, who sought to supplant the Cross with the Crescent. Observation of the Christmas spirit is a time honored custom; and what e'er we may believe along doctrinal lines, the fact remains that nothing satisfies Christian nations more than the Christmas tree, Yuletide services and united families around the fire-side. Civilization has always followed the Cross, and unborn generations shall rise to rejoice in the Christmas spirit with as much zeal as those living in the present day.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Mr. John Moga, a University of Minnesota graduate, and a recent member of the Oregon state bureau of mines, has taken Miss Bracht's place for the present.

On Thanksgiving day James John played Castle Rock a scores tie. The rain prevented much headway, but there was some spectacular playing on both sides.

From the enthusiastic reports of the James John squad there is no doubt that they appreciated to the full the Thanksgiving dinner given them by the Castle Rock squad.

Another issue of the Alumatum, the popular forerunner of the Tumulal, is to be published next week. The four mimeographed sheets carry news of interest to the student body.

Foot ball is over and basket ball has started. At a meeting Monday night Henry Bauer was elected captain and Orval Johnson, manager. A good spirit for the game was shown by the thirty boys who appeared for the tryouts.

Miss Bracht, who came to the mathematics department of James John this Fall, departed suddenly November 23rd. On Thanksgiving day she was quietly married to Mr. Earnest E. McKean. The students of James John High School wish her happiness in her new home.

The students of the James John High School enjoyed a "deci dance" in the gymnasium Wednesday, November 24th. The orchestra started the program with a string fox-trot. Between intermissions and at the close of the program, Ruby Brous served lemonade to the tired dancers.

Last Wednesday, November 24th, the students of James John High School held an assembly in honor of Thanksgiving Day. After Dorothy Public Welfare Commissioner had made an announcement concerning the carnival, and Clifford Coon, foot ball manager, had made known the facts about the Thanksgiving's foot ball game, Miss Van awarded the scholarship and progress banner. The first of these the seventh termers captured and the second went to the fourth termers. Both classes worked hard and certainly deserved the honors won by them. Mr. Dunkelberger closed the assembly by leading the students in Thanksgiving songs.

The Sunday school lesson at the Community Church last Sunday was made very real when Mr. Stadelman told of a ship wreck that he had been in. The Sunday school is making plans for a Christmas program which will include a tree. The morning service was a continuation of the Thanksgiving spirit. In the evening there was a splendid attendance to greet the Christian Endeavor workers from over town. These people presented the advantages of young peoples' work and outlined some of the methods. Officers were elected, Miss Mabel Reed being chosen president. In addition to the regular morning services there will be Christian Endeavor at 6:30 p. m. Music week will be observed by a musical program which will begin at 7:30. Next Monday night we will have our next regular monthly meeting. Beginning at eight o'clock there will be a twenty minute song service, after which Robt. Allingham will speak on Community Ideals. The ladies will serve refreshments. You are cordially invited.—Reported.

Today the Careful Buyer and the Square Shooting Merchant Rule the Market

Now more than ever people are demanding full value for their dollars. Among the women especially we notice more concern about prices. There is more looking around and comparing of prices than was true a year ago. Yet there is more money in the banks and more people are saving money than has been the case for many months.

Folks who know what's what are the kind of people I welcome at this store. I have deliberately given myself the job of supplying good furniture and household articles at LOWER PRICES THAN YOU CAN GET ELSEWHERE. I want you to compare prices and ask questions. I want you to know and be satisfied that I am giving you full value for every dollar. I want people to buy here with confidence in my claims and my goods. I want you to know that I stand back of every thing I sell and that I guarantee ABSOLUTE SATISFACTION. Without satisfactory goods and satisfactory service, prices don't mean much. Prices alone shouldn't satisfy you. Although I mean to keep my prices attractive at all times, I want to do more, it's more than a question of just meeting competition. I'm here to build up and maintain a reputation for fair dealing, honest values and full satisfaction. If I had no other ideal than self interest I would have to treat my customers the first time so that they will come back again and often.

Visit my store, if I don't have what you want I'll try to get it for you. Come and see what I can do for you. You don't obligate yourself by a visit. Let me prove to you that good furniture doesn't mean unreasonable prices and that low prices do not mean poor furniture.

If you haven't inspected my line of furniture, you'll be surprised at the really good things you can get here at moderate prices.
