

The Christian's Call

Sinner, would you along Life's Way
Go straying farther every day—
Spurning the Love of Christ, our Lord;
Turning a deaf ear to His word?
Would thou, that knowest what is right,
Cleave to Satan with main and might?
Would you the dark way slowly lead—
Caring not that Christ did bleed?
I say, repent; awake and walk,
For Christ, my friend, you cannot mock.
Most willing is He you to forgive,
If willing thou art and wilt receive.
Our banner fair is floating high—
We'll hold it there until we die.
We'll fight like men on land or sea,
And life is ours eternally.
—Alfred G. Fry.

In spite of snow and winds many of the little folk and some of the older ones too were in their regular places at the Community Sunday school. Mrs. Shaw was unable to be with her class because of sickness. Dora Adams led the Christian Endeavor. The meeting developed into a lively discussion over the topic, "Conscience." The evening service was planned with the young people in mind and was well attended, considering the weather. Everybody is busy this week getting ready for Christmas. The program which is to be Friday night at 8 o'clock promises to be full of the right spirit. Mrs. M. Smith and Mrs. J. M. Blair are in charge of the affair and they surely are doing a good job of it. The regular services will be held next Sunday, with two special numbers by the choir. The sermon will be in keeping with the Christmas thought, "No Room in the Inn." Christian Endeavor will be led by James Vrooman. The evening service will be especially for young people, with two numbers by the choir and plenty of congregational singing. All of our hearts have been cheered this week with the news that Mr. Bonham, one of the church trustees, is gaining in health and will soon be home.—Reported.
