The REVIEW is entered at post office in Portland, Oregon, as mail matter of the second class under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

Eighty-four motion picture reels out of a total of 6294 that were viewed last year by the motion picture censor board were condemned, according to the annual report of Mrs. E. T. Colwell, secretary of the board.

Henry Gilliard, eldest son of Mr and Mrs. Samuel Gilliard, of 616 N. Edison street, recently composed a poem which appeared in the Portland Telegram that was a prize winner. Henry is a pupil of Williams school, and is in 4b grade.

Josefa and Rosa Blazek, the world renowned "Siamese twins," died at a Chicago hospital Wednesday, the former's death occurring first and was followed in a few seconds by the death of her sister. Rosa was the mother of a 12 year old son, her husband having been killed in the late war.

The regular open meeting of Holmes Lodge No. 101, Knights of Pythias, will be held Friday evening, March 31. Every member of the Order and every Pythian Sister is urged to attend. Personal invited friends are also welcome. Prominent members of the Order including Past Chancellor "Jack" Clark, Past Chancellor Leslie E. Crouch and Dow V. Walker will speak. Entertainment and refreshments.

Free illustrated lecture at the St. Johns Branch Y. W. C. A. on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. This lecture will be delivered in costume by Dr. Wherahiko Kawai, who very graphically describes the wonderful arts and crafts and high Christian ideals of America's little known Samoan Islanders, and exhibits during his fascinating recital, the most astonishing oratorical and musical gifts. Wit, pathos and mimicry—with native character sketches, masterpieces in the way of mental photography—are cleverly introduced and rivet attention from beginning to end. Everybody welcome. An offering will be taken.

A complete and most enjoyable surprise party was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Hall Wednesday, March 22d, in honor of Miss M. Plasket, it being her birthday. The evening was spent in viewing a wonderful collection of scenes of Oregon, photographed by Mr. Raker and his daughter, Miss Mary, in their travels by auto. The stereopticon slides were hand-somely colored and showed great care in the making. Mr. Raker is a member of the "Audobon Society" of Oregon. Music was another feature, and Mrs. Hall favored the guests with one of her "best" readings. After a sumptuous repast the guests left, saying it was an evening long to be remembered. Miss Plasket was the recipient of many useful and handsome gifts. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Hall, Mr. Raker, Miss Mary Raker, Mrs. McNamara, Mrs. Buey, Mr. McNamara, Homer Plasket, Miss L. Currier, Miss M. Plasket, Miss N. Johnston, Mrs. Mabel Fenton, Miss Jean Grice, Mrs. G. A. Roberts, Walter Roberts and Verne Hall.

He bought a half pint in a wrynd where bootleg is dear; he looked before, he looked behind to see no cops were near; then took his drink—it made him blind, and he's been blind a year. He was a large and stately man, an athlete, trim and strong, built up along the Milo plan, no pistons hitting wrong; and now a sightless also ran, he toils and gropes along. He really didn't care for drink, he had no costly thirst; but he was eye a haughty gink, his motto, "Freedom First," he said, "I'll sip the scarlet ink, though all the statutes burst. My fathers fought at Bunker Hill that people might be free, and no outrageous Volstead bill can come and hogtie me; so mark my curves and watch me swirl a bowl of graveyard tea." He poured the deadly bitters down, and then fell on the floor, and had a fit and rent his gown and his long whiskers tore, and he hobbles thro' our town, he'll see it never more. The bootleg merchants boost the tomb, and for the death cart root; they kill the young men in their bloom, and do not care a hoot; the stuff they sell is liquid doom, distilled from Dead Sea fruit. It's made and sold by reckless knaves, this substitute for rye; its victims fill ten thousand graves, and hundreds daily die, and over them the willow waves, the sexton heaves a sigh.—Walt Mason.

My Life is Led

By Ernest Ross, one time managing editor Portland Oregonian.
My life is led on level lands,
My heart is by the Western sea;
I thought I pace its yellow sands
And breathe its airs so wild and free.
Each morn the wind of memory stirs
The music of Willamette's flow;
Each noon the scent of forest fires,
Each evening Hood's effulgent glow.
My lot is cast on the level plains;
Its scorching sun; its Winters keen;
My heart is where the gentle rain
Bedews the landscape ever green;
Whose mountains lift the soul on high;
Whose roses perfume all the air,
Whose every breeze that wanders by
Releaves the heart from sin and care.
My lot is on the prairies cast;
My heart is in the hills and pines,
And when for me life's storms are passed
And when for me life's day declines,
May my enraptured vision fall
On yellow sands and ocean's swell
On mountains watching over all,
On rivers I have loved so well.

Little Girl

Little girl you look so small,
Don't you wear no clothes at all!
Don't you wear no shimmy shirt,
Don't you wear no petty skirt?
Just your corset and your hose,
Are these all your under-clothes?
Little girl, when on the street,
You appear to be all feet,
With your dress so very tight,
Surely you're an awful sight.
Nothing on to keep you warm—
Crazy just to show your form,
Little girl, you won't live long,
Just because you dress all wrong.
Can't you wear more under-clothes?
Than your corset and your hose
After while I do believe
You will dress like Mother Eve.
You've a very narrow skirt,
Are you sure it doesn't hurt?
That's a mining little stride,
Where the street is wild and wide.
Are you sure there's room in-side,
What would happen if you slip,
Aren't you afraid 'twill rip?
You had better take a sack,
So if anything should crack,
It would serve you coming back,
Little girl.—Contributed.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Community church met on Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Nourse. We had a splendid meeting. Mrs. Phillips and Mrs. Briggs from the First Congregational church visited us. We were very glad to have them with us. Our society is growing in numbers and interest. Any lady not attending somewhere else is always welcome.—Reported.

SENATOR CHARLES HALL

I submit my candidacy to the Republicans of Oregon for the nomination for Governor. Following are some of the principles for which I stand:

1. I have made no pre-election promises and I will make none, except those herein stated.
2. Taxes on general property must be reduced. I favor substituting not to exceed ten departments for the seventy or more existing State Commissions. (Illinois System).
3. Not only reduction of taxes, but improved marketing facilities and increased credit are essential to insure the prosperity of the farmer.
4. A more equitable adjustment of the automobile license tax with due regard to the actual value of the car. Gasoline tax for highways only.
5. As to my attitude on the labor question, I refer to my employes, and my Legislative record.
6. Completion of the State Highway System with special attention to market roads.
7. The public school is one of the fundamental factors in our system of Government. I favor compulsory attendance in the primary grades. Teach pure Americanism to all pupils, beginning at an early age. Continue to strengthen and build up this typical American institution.
8. Strict enforcement of all laws.
9. I am against Japanese land ownership or control.

Senator Charles Hall of Marshfield, who has long been mentioned as one of the strongest prospective candidates for Governor, has announced definitely that he will enter the gubernatorial race. This announcement has been expected by his friends for some time, as strong pressure has been brought to bear upon the Coos and Curry Senator since his name was first mentioned as a prospective candidate.

He was born on a farm in Jefferson County, Pennsylvania, and came to Oregon in 1901. Shortly thereafter he began his business career as a clerk in a drug store at Clatskanie, Oregon. Eventually he acquired ownership of the drug store, sold it and bought a drug store in Hood River, where he lived until 1914. In Hood River his ability for organization asserted itself. During the eight years he spent in that town, he was one of the builders of the telephone system there, the Oregon-Washington Telephone Company, and built the Central Building, Oregon Hotel and the Hotel Buildings, and owned and planted a number of orchards in the Hood River Valley. He also served as Director and President of the Hood River Commercial Club.

His activities were transferred to Coos Bay in 1914 and immediately thereafter a number of new organizations in that district came into being. He organized the Coos and Curry Telephone Company of which he is President today; organized the Bank of Southwestern Oregon in 1917 and was President of that institution until 1921.

Outside of his business activities in Marshfield, he soon became one of the prominent citizens of that district. He was one of the original promoters of the State Highway program. He was elected Senator from the Eighth Senatorial District comprising Coos and Curry counties in 1920.

Senator Hall soon became one of the leaders in state-wide politics as a fearless exponent of the highway program. As a legislator he played a prominent part in all important legislation during both sessions in 1921. He risked censure from the opponents of the 1923 Exposition Bill when he refused to listen to any proposed inroads into the road funds for the purpose of financing the Fair. Hall's undeviating course in this latter action brought forth the highest praise from all parts of the State.

Since his debut into state-wide politics, the leadership in various non-political movements has gravitated naturally to him. He is a member of the Oregon Land Settlement Commission and served for three years as President of the Oregon State Chamber of Commerce and is now a director of that organization.

Friends of Senator Hall proclaim him as a natural leader, and point with pride to his record of achievements in public and private life. Others concede that his judgment is sound and admit that no outside pressure or logrolling can swerve him from any program or movement to which he has dedicated himself.

Mr. Hall was married in 1906 in Portland to Ann English. They have three children, two boys thirteen and seven, one girl nine.

They're Coming Home

By JOHN E. DOLSEN.
The years are so long now and dreary and lonely
Since the children have gone into homes of their own,
The house seems deserted, for John and I only
Are left in it now, and we live all alone.

It often seems strange, even yet, to be sitting
With no one but John through the evenings long,
And I listen at times for the quick, eager fitting
Of footsteps overhead or for snatches of song.

While the children were little our work was much harder,
'Twas often an almost impossible task
To pay all the bills and keep food in the larder,
To watch them and answer whatever they might ask.

Still I oftentimes think, though I've grown so much older
And more nearly disabled than ever before,
That all of the cares I would willingly shoulder
If they were all with us and children once more.

And every year as it draws toward Thanksgiving
We make them all promise to visit us here,
And I sometimes tell John there'd be more joy in living,
For me, if Thanksgiving came four times a year.

I'll begin preparations next week to receive them,
And, though they've all grown to be women and men
And have homes of their own, too, I'll almost believe them
To be just my own little children again.

I am going to have the best dinner we ever
Yet had in the family Thanksgiving day,
And I know it is well, too, for maybe we never
Will all get together again in this way.

John says I am foolish and that 'twould be better
To have just a plain dinner, without fells or pies,
But I tell you last night when he read Ethel's letter
I noticed that he, too, had tears in his eyes.

Why They Wear Out

Every battery has two kinds of wear—the natural slow wear due to use, and the more rapid wear that comes from abuse.

Keep the proper amount of water in your battery by putting in a little every two weeks. Test with the hydrometer to make sure there's enough charge. Come in to Battery Headquarters at the first faint sign of trouble.

Then your battery will wear out slowly and gradually, giving you uninterrupted service at lowest cost per month and per mile.
