A Delightful Picnic

One of the most delightful picnics of the season was held at Dodge Park Memorial Day, May 30th. It was an ideal day and the park is delightfully situated at the confluence of the Sandy and Bull Run rivers where Nature seems to have done everything to make it attractive and inviting. The first to arrive of the jolly crowd at the park acted as hosts to the others as they came and bid them welcome for the day. And, oh, such a day!—each one vying with the other to make it pleasant. Not a grouse, not an unpleasant word or act to mar the harmony and enjoyment of the day. There were diversions for every one after the dinner—and such a dinner! Something unusual and unique, the children were served first, and then the grownups were told to be seated, and such a repast must be partaken of to be fully appreciated. After dinner all hid themselves to the river bank where the ladies and children enjoyed wading and only two of the men were brave enough to take a swim. There was a number of games played, among which were Duck on the Rock, Bob, Bob, Bob and See the Ghost Over There—ask Mrs. Kewell about that. Last but not least was the base ball game between the ladies and men and of course the umpire beat the men. Among those who enjoyed the day were the following: Dr. D. O. Webster and wife, W. S. Ormandy, wife and daughter, Mrs. Bessie Post, H. C. Kasmyer and wife, Emmett Blew, wife and three children; Percy Johnston, wife and baby; M. R. Morrow and wife; H. J. Simmons and wife, Marion Johnston and wife, J. M. Blair, wife and son; W. H. Ball and wife, E. F. Monahan, wife and daughter; E. J. Kewell, wife and son of 1554 Atlantic street; Manly Smith, wife and two sons; Alex Seales, wife and two daughters; T. J. Manahan, wife and great granddaughter. Thus closed the end of a perfect day.—Reported.

On Wednesday afternoon, May 31st, Mrs. Ida Muhm, grandmother of Ethel Vivian Muhm, gave a birthday party in honor of her grand daughter. Her many little friends were present. A dainty lunch was served to the youngsters. Mr. Dohner prepared the birthday cake with its seven candles. Those present were Dolly Sears, Mildred Hendershot, Margaret Hendershot, Catherine Miller, Winifred Fairchild, Eloise Fairchild, Lucile Crow, Blanche Nelson, Freda Rose, Louie Mesanger and Gladys White.

May 31st, 1922—Editor St. Johns Review—Dear Sir: I wish to say that I am willing to wrestle Phil Turner on the conditions he named last week, any time a meeting can be arranged. Yours very truly, F. M. Orchard, 510 E. St. Johns avenue, Portland, Ore.

Explains a Terrace

A Terrace is one of those cute residential monstrosities where they build twenty-five houses exactly alike. Each has a "wonderful yard," and they set exactly eighteen inches apart, just far enough to allow a cement walk between. Your neighbor can sit in his dining room, reach over into your dining room, borrow the salt shaker, use it and set it back without leaving his chair. When you do your daily dozen in the morning you put your fist thru your neighbor's library window and knock a bottle full of perfectly good imitation gin off a shelf. Relations become strained. Not only relations but people you never knew before. If you leave your bedroom open at night you are liable to roll over and hit your neighbor in the jaw and he'll think his wife did it and get sore. You can start a nice vegetable garden, but the only place to start it is under the cement sidewalk between the two houses. If you buy a Ford you have to keep under the front porch, as there isn't room to run it between the houses to the garage. The flu can travel from one end to the other of a twenty-five house terrace in four minutes. When you come home late at night the only way you can identify your own house is to have your wife leave her foot sticking out of the window. And even then somebody is liable to come along and hang a May basket or a spare tire or something on it. And then again if three or four neighbors tried that scheme on the same night—People who live in these terraces mow their lawns with hairclippers. Women don't have to go calling on their neighbors. All they have to do is just to open all the windows and talk.—Exchange.

Executive Secretary Henry W. Kent, speaking before the Business Men's Club of Lents last week, said: "It is the business of every man, woman and child in Portland—yes, in Oregon, for that matter—to do what he or she can, when the opportunity is presented, to help build pay rolls for pay rolls mean prosperity. The Rose Festival, specially thru the beautiful picture presented in the Grand Floral Parade, advertises Portland and Oregon and the entire Northwest as no other activity does."

Deborah Livingston W. C. T. U. will meet at the home of Mrs. W. R. Hollenbeck, 207 N. Syracuse street on Monday afternoon June 5th. Musical numbers will be furnished by the James John high school girls' glee club. Mrs. G. W. Overstreet, president of the Union, is especially requesting all members to bring her copy of the Union Signal, as a discussion will be held from the paper.

One man playing two cornets at once will be a part of the DeMoss program at the Community church tonight.

Last Saturday some of the boys of the Community S. S. went down to the Y, where they sang for a while, then enjoyed a swim. Next Saturday all of the boys will meet at the St. Johns church at 11 o'clock and practice for an hour, then go on a hike. Any boy under 15 years will be eligible. They will be properly cared for by one or more men. The official board of the church met Tuesday night and outlined plans for the summer's work. The Children's Day program will be given one week from Sunday, at which time there will be reception of new members. Next Sunday the Memorial services for the St. Johns M. W. A. will be held at 11 o'clock. Friday evening the DeMoss Concert Company will be with us. The Christian Endeavor is back of this and will share the proceeds. These Endeavorers, by the way, are a live bunch. Not only do they have good meetings on Sunday evening, but have social times that are worth while. Last week they had a skating party at the Oaks. Our congregation sings—Reported.

The clergyman's eloquence may have been at fault, still he felt annoyed to find that an old gentleman fell asleep during the sermon on two consecutive Sundays. So after service on the second week he told the boy who accompanied the sleeper that he wished to speak to him in the vestry. "My boy," said the minister, when they were closeted together, "who is that elderly gentleman you attend church with?" "Grandpa," was the reply. "Well," said the clergyman, "if you will only keep him awake during my sermon I will give you a nickel each week." The boy fell in with the arrangement and for the next two weeks the old gentleman listened attentively to the sermon. The third week, however, found him fast asleep. The vexed clergyman sent for the boy and said: "I am very angry with you. Didn't I promise you a nickel a week to keep him awake?" "Yes," replied the boy, "but grandpa now gives me a dime not to disturb him."—Christian Intelligencer.

This year the Bachelor Club will represent the lower peninsula with a float. The boys are going out after the prize and are sure they can enter a float at the given time that will be a pride to the community, if sufficient roses are available. The Club calls upon the citizens of St. Johns for help in supplying these roses. The immense float they propose to enter will require thousands of roses and each home where they bloom are requested to help. Any one who shall have roses to spare please call Col. 578 evenings as soon as possible, that your name may be listed. An automobile will call for the roses the day before the parade. Your co-operation will be greatly appreciated by the Bachelor Club.

St. Johns Community Club

The St. Johns Community Club is co-operating with the Portland Woolen Mills in sponsoring a vaudeville entertainment at the mill club house on Tuesday evening, June 6th. The entire proceeds from the entertainment will go toward the scholarship for Miss Louise Jennings, an employee of the mills, who is endeavoring to win a scholarship to Bryn Mawr college this Summer. Included on the program will be Hawaiian music and dances, two comedy skits, a monologue, aesthetic dancing music by a brass band and a male quartet.

William Waxmuth, son of Mrs. Odella Waxmuth of 210 Catlin street, will be graduated from the school of agriculture at Oregon Agricultural College on June 5th. Mr. Waxmuth, upon completion of his first two years of the school of agriculture at Oregon Agricultural College, was elected dairy manufacturing for his major course of study for the junior and senior years of his academic work. The major which Mr. Waxmuth selected is designed primarily to train the student for the practical side of dairy work and at the same time give him the necessary technical work along with the practical. Mr. Waxmuth has taken such courses as milk and cream testing, commercial butter, cheese and ice cream making, and creamery management. In addition to the dairy work he has taken work dealing with crops, soil fertility, farm mechanics, farm management in the school of agriculture and certain educational subjects in other schools of the college. At the Pacific International Livestock Exposition in Portland last Fall Mr. Waxmuth won first prize in milk judging. The O. A. C. creamery is now manufacturing for commercial purposes two flavors of ice cream suggested by him. The student who completes work such as Mr. Waxmuth has should be able to engage in management of creameries, government inspector of dairy products or other similar work with success from the start.

A pleasant surprise was given Mrs. Sterling May at her home, 1035 S. Ivanhoe street, May 24. The afternoon was spent with fancy work, after which a delightful lunch was served. Those present were Mrs. Edward Bowe, Mrs. Richard Bowly, Mrs. Chas. Wright, Mrs. Scott Wagner, Mrs. Edgar Smith, Mrs. Ed. Conant, Mrs. Samuel Shackleford, Mrs. Totten, Mrs. George Thygeson, Mrs. Rhudy Bower, Aileen Bowe, Buddy Bowe, Harold Smith, Van Totten, Naida May and Eleanor Thygeson.
