Tax Review is entered at post office in Portland, Oregon, as mail matter of the second class under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

The coupe, with its treacherous glass, claimed another victim on Monday afternoon when Mrs. Cora M. Davis, 280 East Morrison street, a public welfare worker, suffered severe cuts on her right forearm when an automobile struck the car in which she was riding. Mrs. Davis was riding in a car driven by W. H. Farring at East Eleventh North and Skidmore streets when the automobile of Mrs. F. C. Forbes collided with it. Farring received a wrenched back and bruises upon the head. Mrs. Forbes was unhurt. Both of the injured were treated at the Good Samaritan hospital—Oregonian. Mrs. Davis is quite well known in St. Johns.

A young man in a crowded subway train showed bad temper when a middle-aged man was jostled against him. The younger man was on his way that morning to interview the manager of a concern where he had been recommended for a good position. When he was ushered into the office the applicant was overcome with confusion when he saw that the manager was the man whom he had treated so rudely in the subway. We ought not to be polite merely because it pays in a business way, but because it is the manly and considerate thing to do. Politeness calls for a certain amount of self restraint and personal sacrifice, and it pays to practice it, not so much for the impression we wish to make on other people, as for its reaction on our own personality.

All over the country home building activity is very pronounced. This is about the best sign there is. Various forms of community houses are doubtless a necessity and are being provided, but the independent family home is the ideal. Should you ever wish to sell you may make or lose money. It depends largely on the size of the lot. The land is fairly sure to appreciate in value. Depreciation of the house is inevitable. But it does not greatly matter. We do not wish to commercialize our homes. They promote comfort. They increase liberty. They create self respect. They stabilize character, says the San Francisco Chronicle. Especially is it desirable that manual workers own their homes. The personal results and social effects are the same to them as to others. There is the added advantage that when work is scarce they are invariably preferred by employers because the possession of a home is evidence of character and probable permanence, and employers do hate continual turnover of workers. Every western state should encourage the home building movement as it means development of our great payroll industries, such as lumbering, mining and transportation.

SUMMONS

In the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon for the County of Multnomah.
Allie H. Strimling, Plaintiff, vs. Frank T. O'Connor and Nora O'Connor, his wife, Defendants.
To Frank T. O'Connor and Nora O'Connor, his wife, the above named defendants: You and each of you are hereby required to appear in said court and cause and answer the complaint filed against you in the above entitled suit, on or before Monday, the 10th day of August, 1932, and date being six weeks from the date of first publication of this summons and if you fail to appear and answer, the plaintiff will apply to the court for the relief prayed for in their complaint herein to-wit:
A judgment and decree forever restraining, terminating and declaring null and void that certain contract entered into on or about the 15th day of March, 1932, by and between the plaintiff herein and defendant, Frank T. O'Connor and Nora O'Connor, wherein plaintiff agrees to sell and defendant purchases that certain real property described as the North Ten (10) feet of lot five (5) and the South Thirty (30) feet of lot six (6) Block Four (4) East Addition to East Portland and now within the corporate limits of the City of Portland, Oregon.
And terminating and terminating all right, title and interest of the defendants and each of them, in and to said premises in said contract described and herein before set out, and restoring the said real property to plaintiff, and for their costs and disbursements incurred in said suit, and such other and further relief as the premises to the court may seem just and equitable.
This summons is served upon you by publication thereof by order of the Honorable Robert Tucker, judge of the above entitled court, made and entered on 21st day of June, 1932, by which order it is decreed that this order be published in the St. Johns Review once a week for not less than six successive weeks, the date of the first publication thereof being June 23, 1932, and the date of the last publication being August 11, 1932.

Patton Brothers Win
High Class Performance of Musical and Artistic Worth Promised Chautauqua Patrons

Here's a "different" program by an altogether "different" company. Instead of the usual girl entertainment group, so common in Chautauqua, you will have opportunity to enjoy a real red-blooded "man" company when the Patton Brothers come to town. The boys—all brothers—are full of "pep" and enthusiasm, and their program, all written in musical form, consists of especially costumed "episodes." No expense has been spared in costuming and providing special scenic effects. The result is a high-class performance of musical and artistic worth—lacking only in the cheap "jazz" element, so common in entertainment nowadays. And yet it is a program of real "punch"—a personality program, if you will, for the work of each of these clever young artists stands out in bold relief. They will give two programs on the third day of Chautauqua.

Will Delve a Bit in "Spiritism"
Paul Fleming, Noted Magician, to Stage "Ghost Dance" at Chautauqua

Sh! Spooks! You bet—and they'll appear right before your eyes when Paul Fleming summons 'em from ethereal realms to dance about on the Chautauqua stage! Impossible, you say? Well, after you've seen the growth of the magic orange tree, the puzzling appearance and disappearance of the golden ball, and dozen of other mysterious maneuvers, you won't be one bit surprised when the spirits assemble for the regular evening jamboree. Of course, it might be well to remark right here that the whole thing is accomplished by trickery, but they'll be there just the same. With his company of three persons, Mr. Fleming will present the finest and most elaborate program of magic ever seen on the Chautauqua platform. It's a program that will be remembered and discussed for weeks.
