The play, "A Commanding Position," given by the Girl Reserves at Y. W. C. A. building last Saturday evening was a delightful affair and immensely enjoyed by the large number in attendance. The fine orchestra music was also a pleasing feature. It was composed of John Oliver, violin; Archie Maher, cornet; R. E. Hurd, 'cello; Mr. Spencer, clarinet; George Marlett, drum, and Randolph Howard, piano. Ruth Weiss, with Veda Carl accompanist, rendered a solo; Dorothy Walker and Lucile Avey gave a dialogue, and the male quartet of the M. E. church, consisting of Messrs. Barneycoat, Thompson, McKeig and DePee, rendered delightful selections. Following was the cast for the play: Miss Skinfint, Hazel Fox; Marian, Nina DePee; Ethel Chloride, Rosalind Ogden; Doctor, Edith Bottom; Mrs. Murphy, Eva Bottom; Mrs. Sofly, Miriam Bachman; Jane, Isla Hayner; Nurses—Gladys Dickson, Vesta Barrett, Gladys Jeans, Mildred Glaub, Geraldine Bartlett; Patients—Ida Vrooman, Velma Fairchild, Alma Muck, Erma Bigler, Kathleen Markle. Mothers—Evelyn Merritt, Margaret Robertson, Vera McCauley. Social Workers—Helen Bender, Elizabeth Hendershott, Laura Bado. Neighbors—Hilda Gertz, German; Gertrude Ratcliffe, Italian; Rosetta Skells, Negro. Children—Winifred Fairchild, Alice Foss, Reba Moore, Marjorie Russell, Alice Zink, Wilma Seales, Adeline Bartlett, Lillian Clark, Peggy Harrington. Accompanist, Mrs. R. G. McCall. Stage, Calvin Robertson, Ernest Vrooman. Ushers, Lauretta McCarthy, Thelma Young.

Observations of the Fraternal Boosters' Club:
 Our sidewalks are being overgrown with grass and weeds. In many places where banks along the walks much dirt has accumulated on the latter. Shade trees overhanging the pavements are allowed to grow so low that the limbs annoy pedestrians and obstruct the way. In cultivating gardens many people are careless of the walks and force the earth out onto the pavement. The drinking fountain at the corner of Jersey and Burlington should be replaced by one of more inviting and respectable appearance. The attention of the authorities whose business it is to attend to those matters is respectfully solicited.—Reported.

"Papa, is there a Christian flea?" "Why, what on earth put that idea in your head?" "The preacher read it today from the Bible—the wicked flea when no man pursueth." "Why, Tommy, that means that the wicked men flea?" "Then, papa, is there a wicked woman flea?" "No, no. It means that the wicked flees, runs away." "Why do they run?" "Who?" "The wicked flea." "No, no! Don't you see? The wicked man runs away when no man is after him." "Is there a woman after him?" "Tommy, go to bed!"—Everybody's.

The beautiful float of the Bachelor Club won first prize in its class at the floral parade last Friday afternoon. It was indeed a work of art and its superb beauty won the admiring plaudits of the thousands of onlookers. It was constructed to represent the battleship Oregon. Thousands and thousands of roses were utilized in its embellishment and the effect was entrancing. Many expressed it in their opinion to be the finest float in the entire parade. The Bachelor Boys are to be congratulated upon their splendid float.

"Meet me," sighed she, softly,
 "Where the springtime zephyrs blow;
 Where the woolly lambskins gambol,
 And the hillside cattle low.
 Meet me at the roadside,
 Where the pussy willows sway;
 Where the crocus lifts its petals,
 And the sun and shadows play.
 Meet me where the plowman
 Turns the fragrant furrow true
 Where the robin sings his sweetest,
 And the morning sky is blue.
 Meet me," then she whispered,
 With her cheeks a rosy hue,
 "But don't you dare come near unless
 You bring your motor, too."
 —Marshall N. Dana.

AUSTRALIAN PRESS PAYS TRIBUTE TO J. C. HERBSMAN
 Chautauqua Lecturer Praised as Noted Orator in glowing Terms.
 One of the finest tributes ever paid to J. C. Herbsman, the lecturer, who will discuss "Life's Balance Sheet" at Chautauqua on the sixth afternoon, appeared in the Melbourne (Australia) Times, under date of Nov. 17th, following Mr. Herbsman's electrifying speech in the Australian city. "He is one of the most notable orators that has ever visited this country," said the paper. "After hearing his address in which he urged the closest co-operation between English-speaking peoples, one cannot fail to realize that if there are many Americans of this calibre, then Australia will derive an inestimable advantage in an international exchange of ideas."
