

FROM "THE SCANDAL"
Bachelor Club's Official Paper

Because of numerous questions being dropped into the Scandal Box by certain Bros. from the north end concerning the advisability of an early marriage the editorial staff wishes to inform these Bros. there is no Cynthia Grey column in this paper. However, now that the subject is before us we will give brief space to its discussion.

The Scandal believes that bachelorhood is the natural state of man, but if brothers wish to cultivate abnegation, sacrifice, obedience and long suffering, let him marry. You cannot measure your happiness by the amount of wood piled up in your basement or your knowledge of furnishing a home complete, and the Bros. who are about to make the fatal mistake would do well to learn the following quotations:

"He travels farthest who travels alone."

"Man and wife, united for the cause of strife."

"An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure."

"Marriage is like a bird cage in a summer garden—those inside want out, and those outside want in."

"When a man marries the second time, that is the triumph of hope over experience."

"Across the way she seems a beauty,

A girl you really desire;

At hand all beauty seems to vanish,

Of her face, her figure, at once you tire."

From time to time the club has won trophies whose value cannot be estimated in dollars. Perhaps the football championship of 1921 should be placed as the greatest achievement in the line of sports. A beautiful cup, emblematic of the Club's football ability, has a permanent place in our club rooms.

We could not pass over the splendid work of Guff, Bat, Grit and Scoot in the Amateur Boxing and Wrestling Tournament held at B'nai Brith Club. Out of the four men entered two championships and one second place was annexed.

Bro. Bones' speed boat "Scandal," named in honor of this illustrious paper, won the motor boat race during the Rose Festival Regatta in 1921.

This year we did not enter a speed boat, but we sure entered a battleship. The big float that represented the battleship Oregon was a Bachelor Club creation. The efforts of Bro. Grit made this float possible, that took first prize in the class entered.
