THE ST. JOHNS REVIEW

H. L. RAY, Editor and Publisher

Published Friday of Each Week

404 N. Jersey St. Empire 0321

Subscription price $1.50 per year.

THE REVIEW is entered at post office at Portland, Oregon, as mail matter of the second class under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

The police department has announced its intention to enforce the law against riding bicycles at night without lights. At this season of the year when the streets are so often wet and oftentimes frozen it is very dangerous for bicycle riders to go without lights. Automobiles are often wrecked in trying to avoid accidents with bicyclists who tempt fate by riding on the streets with no lights as warning. It is a good law that needs rigid enforcement.

If some disease were to hit our country more deadly than small-pox or malaria, drastic measures would be taken to control it. Automobiles yearly kill more Americans than typhoid, malaria and small pox combined. What are we doing to curb this great slaughter? It is a rare case where punishment is meted out to any one causing such accidents. Authorities agree that nearly all of this loss of life and limb is preventable, yet the slaughter continues.

What we need during this coming Christmas season is more of the Christmas spirit and less of the Christmas spirits.

Christmas Time

Xmas time is here, bringing with it a feeling of good-fellowship to all mankind, with thoughts mostly of others rather than ourselves, and 'tis well that it is so; but to give others to the extent of our own bodily neglect is folly indeed.

Now, more than at any other time, we should be able to feel well in mind and body but this is an impossibility with a mouth in an unsanitary condition.

WHY NOT SPEND PART OF THAT XMAS MONEY TO PERFECT YOUR OWN HEALTH?

Come in today for a FREE EXAMINATION. Our prices are so surprisingly low that your own needs can be taken care of and leave plenty of means for the wants of your friends.

Photograph Compliments of Oregon Journal.

The "Gypsy Rover," a romantic musical comedy, presented on Friday and Saturday evenings by the James John high school glee clubs was greeted with a well filled house on Friday evening and a capacity house on Saturday evening, proving the popularity of the youthful stars who vied with each other for honors in presenting the different characters. The play centers around Rob (Earl Tormey) lost heir to the Sir Gilbert Estate, who having been kidnapped in his infancy by his nurse Mez (Kathryn McCheaney) who later became the wife of Mar'o a gypsy, (Maxwell Adams) was reared among the gypsies believing Mez and Mar'to to be his parents and himself to be one of the gypsy band, Meeting Lady Constance (Madeline Brown) of the English nobility riding in the woods one day with her fiancée, Lord Craven, (Leonard Harrington) the charming gypsy Rob falls desperately in love with her and they later plan to elope which plan is frustrated by Lord Craven who reports the affair to her father, Sir Martinale (Fred Robinson). Rob is captured and placed in prison but afterward escaped and affairs right themselves when he is found to be the lost heir and claims the hand of Lady Constance. Other characters who added life to the production were Zara and Sinfo (Margaret Holbrook and Bill Fox) gypsy lovers, and Nina and Captain Jerome (Ruth Weiss and Thurman Hart) members of the English social set. Sir Francis McCarle and Sir Toby Lyon (Leland Moybach and James Tormey) were London society men, and Jack Van Hoeter was a splendid lackey. Zoe Gore was director of the operetta.

SHINGLE MILL AND TIMBER LIMITS TRANSFER

W. T. Hartford & Sons have purchased the G. W. Girt shingle mill and timber limits at Maygar, Ore., and is known to be the best stand of cedar in the state, clear from limbs and knots for 100 feet high. It will take five years to cut it out. Mr. Hartford has a gang of men at the mill and a family or so. Also he has had a bunch of men cutting cordwood at his camps at North Plains since June and expects to have several thousand cords of old growth fir wood seasoned for next fall's market. He is feeding this winter 25 months or so and tiding them through the winter. Any one in the market for 100 per cent vertical shingles leave orders at 314 Central Ave and Chicago Street.

Whenever you need printing call the Review office. We can take care of your requirements and at less price than you will pay at most shops. A supply of new job type enables us to do clearer, better work than ever before.

Greetings

The spirit of the Xmas Season brings appreciation of the liberal patronage extended to us. To all our patrons and friends—May your Christmas be merry and success attend you during the coming year.

Men's Bathrobes $6.50 — ROGERS.

Mrs. Norah McCann and J. J. McCann were called to Tacoma, Wash., on account of the death of Mrs. Mary Ternes, aged 62 years, who died Sunday afternoon at that place. She had lived in Tacoma for almost 35 years and for 20 years was a zealous charity worker. Death followed an illness of 10 days, which was contracted while working on the community chest drive. Mrs. Ternes was one of the originators and sponsors of St. Anne's orphanage of Tacoma. She was a member of the Catholic church and a charter member of the Catholic Women's Club of Tacoma, and the first of such members to be lost from the roll. Besides her husband she is survived by six sisters, Mrs. Edward Heneberry, of Everett, Wash., Mrs. Norah McCann of Portland, and four sisters and two brothers in the east.
