COMMUNITY CHURCH

The Community church Christmas program was held on Friday eve. Santa Claus was somewhat late but finally came with a little remembrance for each.

Four new members were received into the fellowship of the church at the Sunday morning service. In the evening the service was quite in keeping with the season, being taken from Dicken's "Christmas Carol." Monday morning, however, was reserved for the most inspiring and helpful meeting of the year. The Christian Endeavor was in charge. Through the time set for the service was 7:30, the attendance was good and all felt that the day had been started right.

Sunday morning, the pastor's topic will be "Pressing Onward." In the evening "Man's Resolution." The Community church is not so much interested in a creed as it is in striving to learn the will of Christ.

On Tuesday, December 19th, the annual Christmas party of the Altruistic Club, Pythian Sisters, was held at the home of Sister Lillian Walker, on Wilamette Boulevard. The rooms were tastefully decorated in red and green crepe paper in keeping with the holiday spirit, and dinner "like mother used to make" was served at noon. All present were kept busy making and filling bags for the Christmas tree, Friday evening, Dec. 22nd. After the regular business meeting, the Christmas packages were opened and Christmas favors of small bags of candy were distributed. Those present were Sisters Hendricks, Berry, Jones, Nelson, Walker, Weimer, Brice, Douglass, Gronacey, Swift, Treber, Jacobsen, Hoover, Campbell, Clarke, Bernice Gronacey and Oihus, Mrs. Woolley being a guest of the day. The next meeting will be with Sister Alice Weimer, 303 E. Burlington St., January 9, 1923. All Pythian Sisters are invited.

Christmas Eve was celebrated at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Thompson, 1021 S. Jersey St., with a Christmas tree. The room was draped with green boughs covered with silver taw as was also the tree. White, glistening snow was the covering beneath the tree. The room was lighted with red and green lights and many beautiful and useful gifts were on the tree. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Avey, Mr. and Mrs. McCaughin, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Thompson, Mr. Tom Thompson, Miss Lucile Avey, Mrs. Frances Avey, Miss Annie McCaughin, Allen McCaughin, Maurice McCaughin and Walter Thompson.

Unemployed girls and strangers are of especial interest to this department and an ad is run in the papers in the help wanted column offering protection to these girls. The 18 year old law for girls is of particular interest to this division, for girls, particularly the type who become delinquent, look forward to the time when they will become 18 years of age and in their own words "my own boss." Under the present 18 year old law, they can leave home, which most of them do, and go to some apartment house to live as they please, go joy riding and to public dances mixing generally with undesirable, or they can get married which experiment often ends in the divorce courts within a few weeks. They cannot vote, however, and only under certain conditions hold property and at any time before they are 21, married or single, if they become delinquent can be committed to the state training school for girls. Why, then, says Mrs. Nickerson, would it not be best to put this "of age" up to 21 and in that way let our girls find themselves before they become delinquent?

THE WOMEN'S PROTECTIVE DIVISION

The Women's Protective Division is not a detective agency as many people are prone to believe but rather organized for the purpose of protection and prevention not prosecution nor persecution, although protection many times requires prosecution to more than one person, according to Mrs. G. B. Nickerson, who spoke at the Y. W. C. A. regarding this department of the city's work.

This woman's department has seen 17 years of continuous service in Portland, having been retained through the administration of five mayors and six chiefs of police, which speaks well for the efficiency of the department. At present there are 9 women known as operatives, all of whom are educated women under the civil service, but they are not police women as they are sometimes erroneously called. For this department the city provides a suite of five rooms in the Worcester building, not at the police station. These rooms are kept open from 8:30 a. m. to midnight including Sunday and holidays and here women and children may go for protection, not persecution. Two well furnished, well heated, comfortable rooms are maintained where often mothers with children seek refuge from a drunken husband and father, or delinquent girls are cared for pending the time for her case to be called. There is splendid co-operation between the police officers and the women of the protective division—each calls upon the other as occasion requires. During the year just passed, 5279 important investigations were made and 2242 girl cases have been cared for, 502 homes, 937 hotels and offices have been visited.

Every day the women operatives of this department are in the police court and never a week passes without cases in the circuit and federal courts. One operative is assigned to department and office work and another as dance inspector. The division has general supervision of 45 theatres and moving picture houses, 21 parks and play grounds and 23 recreation resorts.

Unemployed girls and strangers are of especial interest to this department and an ad is run in the papers in the help wanted column offering protection to these girls. The 18 year old law for girls is of particular interest to this division, for girls, particularly the type who become delinquent, look forward to the time when they will become 18 years of age and in their own words "my own boss." They cannot vote, however, and only under certain conditions hold property and at any time before they are 21, married or single, if they become delinquent can be committed to the state training school for girls. Why, then, says Mrs. Nickerson, would it not be best to put this "of age" up to 21 and in that way let our girls find themselves before they become delinquent?

OLD SANTA IN ST. JOHNS

Santa Claus was no respecter of persons in the St. Johns district this year, for through the efforts of the Bachelor Club which furnished food, clothing and cheer baskets, and the Community Club which furnished toys for every little boy and girl whose parents were unable to provide for them, was visited on the night before Christmas in some cases by Santa Claus himself. Other organizations and clubs including several of the girls clubs from the Y. W. C. A. which furnished Christmas dinner for several families and the Camp Fire girls who made "Puss in Boots" amounting to $30 which they presented to the Community Club for distribution, assisted in making this the very best Christmas that the St. Johns children have ever had. Churches and lodges held Christmas trees with programs and many distributed candy and nuts which also added to the happiness. And now the glittering trees, heavily laden with bright colored ornaments and candles, the joyous happy shouts of the children are once more a memory for Christmas once more has come and gone.

Y. W. C. A. NOTES

The annual Christmas party will be held Saturday evening, Dec. 30, from 7 till 10 o'clock. All Club girls and parents are invited.

The building has been a scene of Christmas activities for the last week, arranging for the Girls' Club donations and distributing the toys furnished by the Community Club and Camp Fire Girls who furnished several beautiful dolls, "Puss in Boots," and other supplies for a Christmas dinner.

Sewing Class will begin again on January 8th and gymnasium on the 4th of January.

W. C. T. U. NOTES

The regular business meeting of Deborah Livingstone Union will be held in the lecture room of St. Johns library next Tuesday, Jan. 2, instead of the day previous, it being New Years day. Members of the Union please bear this in mind.

Only the Golden Rule of Christ can bring the golden age of man.

The joy of life is doing good according to a plan. We have learned that if prohibition does not always prohibit, neither does civilization always civilize; nor education educate; nor Christianity Christianize. The fight for a clear brain is a fight for Christianity. —From Writings of Frances E. Willard. (Reported)

HEAR REV. HUNDERUP

Rev. August Hunderup, assisted by the pastor, Rev. H. H. Farnham, are holding Evangelistic services at the Evangelical church, cor. Ivanhoe and John St., every evening until further notice at 7:30 p. m.

Rev. Hunderup is a preacher of unusual ability, a natural orator, well versed not only in Scripture but current affairs. He appeals to every one and if you hear him once, his magnetism, his strong and forceful sermons will carry you back again and again. Don't miss him.

PHONE GIRLS HAVE PARTY

Operators of the Empire telephone office enjoyed a Christmas party in the St. Johns branch Y. W. C. A. on Saturday evening, Dec. 23. More than 75 persons were in attendance. A short program included a vocal solo by Mrs. G. Silverman; piano solo, Thelma Kirkpatrick; reading, E. M. Harris; piano duet, Mrs. E. Day and Mrs. Messenger; vocal solo, Mr. Landeen, switchboard man from the main office, and a reading by Mr. Sloan, switchboard man from the Garfield office. A four piece orchestra furnished music in which the guests indulged following the program. Success of the party is due largely to the hearty co-operation and management of Miss Irene Burke, chief operator of the Empire office. During the evening the girls were presented with two large boxes of candy, gifts of the Peninsula National Bank and each girl an individual box of candy from Dr. B. F. Husson, St. Johns dentist, as a token of appreciation of the excellent service obtained through this office and to wish the girls a very Merry Christmas.

The Past Noble Grand Club will meet with Sister Dora Amrein, 623 E. Charleston St., January 4th, 1923. Birthdays for December and January will be celebrated. A pot luck dinner will be served at noon. All welcome.

THERE is no sympathy so helpful to a family that is bereaved as that of true friends and no help so reassuring as that of the good funeral director.

Acting in your stead, he understands that he must act in your spirit, performing each task with the reverence and tenderness with which your own hands would perform it if they could.

Sympathy which cannot be gracefully conveyed by words is revealed through his acts of service which bring the comforting assurance that every attention has been given with thoughtfulness and skill.
