“Old Review Issues” need to be found and recorded electronically for history

saddened, the words, “Don’t kill it; I’ll buy it,” flew out of my mouth before I had time to plan a way to publish two newspapers a month, alone.

Gayla Patton
Editor

At that time, the Review was still weekly because it had a full staff available to do so. But, it wasn’t making the money the other monthly paper’s he had purchased from the Pry’s were making so his choice was to stop publication of it.

The front page article on that final issue was about it being the Review’s last. After 90 years in publication, it would be such a shame to let that happen and I thought, “I’ll buy it, and figure out the dynamics later.”

As we agreed on a price, Roeper and I literally ran to the warehouse to yell out to press workers: “Stop the presses!!!” Seriously, that’s what we yelled.

Now, you can’t make this stuff up and as it turned out, it was one of the best decisions I’ve ever made in my life.

Here’s my dilemma. On my Bill of Sale, it says: all former issues of the Review belong to me. However, when the filing cabinet (full of history), was delivered to me, there unfortunately were only a handful of the old hardbound issues delivered with it. I asked at the time where the rest of them were, and the delivery people didn’t know. I was extremely concerned about this and Roeper said he’d try to find out where the rest of them were. He never did.

It would be some years later that I would find out that some how, in some way, the St. Johns Heritage Society had most or at least, many of them.

For many years I have attempted (via letters, notes, and conversations) to get these old issues returned, but my correspondence has never been answered. Now I’m asking that if you, or someone you know can help have them returned to their rightful owner, I would appreciate it.

To compile and create a lasting history for North Portland, it is imperative these old newspapers be returned. Their old pages have now become yellow, faded and crispy with time, and soon will start to disintegrate. It’s imperative that if the history between those precious pages be saved, they need to be turned into electronic records. And so, I would be very much appreciative, if those old issue were returned to the Review office as soon as possible.

If you can help accomplish this, please call or email the office at: 503-283-5086 or reviewnewspaper@gmail.com.

I will gladly pick them up anywhere, anytime. I am absolutely willing to still lend issues to the Heritage Society, or whoever has them, for their pleasure to read, when requested.

Until next issue, stay safe.
 Gayla

The REVIEW is published with advertising dollars. Support the advertisers in this issue; they help bring it to you.

St. Johns Bridge Contest Rules:

For each issue the editor will choose two pictures to be used as either a Masthead or as a Photo of the Week. A third pictures may also be used as space allows.

At the end of 2015 (most likely in November.) the pictures will be voted upon by readers for which photo reader’s liked the best. The winner will receive a $100 cash prize from the Review.

Pictures must be:

*Sent in high resolution (200+) and sent to reviewnewspaper@comcast.net or reviewnewspaper@gmail.com in JPEG format.

* Pictures may be cropped (by the Review) to fit the paper’s perimeters. For photos appearing in the Masthead they need to be vertical more than horizontal. Masthead pictures are 10.25” across, and 3” to 5” tall. Pictures of the Week can be vertical or horizontal and any size.

* Pictures appearing in the paper must belong to taker of the picture, but the Review has the right to use them in current and future issues.

* Color pictures are preferred, but outstanding black & whites might be used.

* Photos used in 2013 and/or 2014 may be sent and used again.

* If multiple photos are sent at one time by a photographer, the Review will use judgment for the picture (or pics) we think will print best in the paper.

* Since this is a first, these rules may change during the year, or more suggestions and rules added. (We’ll learn as we go.)

* One vote per person. Voting begins in November where all the year’s pictures will be re-shown.

(Disclaimer: Pictures appearing in the paper are reformatted to tiff’s at 600 resolution for printing presses. After placement in the paper and being printed on newsprint, the photos may lose a certain amount of clarity. The Review cannot be responsible for lack of clarity or any other changes in the pictures. The Review is not responsible or liable for pictures sent in saying their author has taken them when in fact they may not have.)

Stumper #1:

Did you get 5000? If so, it’s wrong. Don’t believe it? check with your calculator.

Stumper #2:

Think the answer is Nunu? Of course not. Her name is Mary. Read the question again.

Stumper #3:

Answer to First Question: If you answer that you are first, then you are wrong. If you overtake the second person, you take his place, you are second.
