The Review cannot be responsible for lack of clarity or any other changes in the pictures. The Review is not responsible or liable for pictures sent in saying their author has taken them when in fact they may not have.) Contest ends October 21, 2016.

Letters to the Editor are welcome and encouraged. They must contain a name; Anonymous letters will not be read or published. Letters may be altered for really-really bad grammar or space when necessary, but it is the publisher’s intent to leave them as they arrive. It’s good for community members to use this space to express opinions, concerns, ideas, or other sentiments, but they are not necessarily the views of the editor/publisher. Don’t be shy. Don’t worry about spelling. Don’t worry about grammar. Just write your letter and send it. Your thoughts & concerns are important.

About the St. Johns Lombard Plan
Dear Editor,
The St John’s Lombard Plan (SJLP) has been brought up by many folks when discussing the possible reconfiguration of the intersection of N Lombard and N Richmond (Ivy Island). I think it’s important to know the background of how the SJLP came to be and how extensive the public involvement was. Understanding the plan and the goals of St John’s residents who helped create the plan will make it clear why redesigning that intersection will make St Johns safer and save residents money by having a developer pick up the costs.
The SJLP is a planning document that was adopted by City Council in 2004 after a two year process that included Citizen and Technical Advisory groups, outreach to multiple communities, and a lengthy process that was open and transparent. Among the goals of the SJLP was to foster revitalized SJ Town Center and Lombard corridor commercial areas, to provide opportunities for new housing along the Lombard main street and the SJ Town Center, and to provide for a balanced multimodal transportation system. Knowing that intense development was likely to be coming soon, having design guidelines and planning priorities in place was of great importance. SJLP was the result of collaboration of City and neighborhood interests. Council passed the SJLP with no opposition.

Recent development plans at N Lombard at Richmond have led to the offer of the City vacating its ownership of “Ivy Island” and transferring it to the developer who is building a large mixed use project. This is in exchange for the developer paying for and managing the intersection improvements the City wants to see happen. This is an opportunity for the City and St John’s, and hopefully the developer, as it:
Removes the unsafe ‘slip lane’ currently serving as the entrance to downtown St Johns and creates a safer intersection design that
