me that he has prevented after swarming by hiving the swarm on the old stand, then placing the old hive by its side, with its entrance near that of the newly hived swarm. The old hive is then closed, except that a bee escape is placed in the entrance on the side next to the new hive. Of course every bee that leaves way into the new swarm. All of the working force and all of the young bees when they come out to play are thrown into the new swarm. In seven or eight days the old hive can be given a new stand, the same as in the Heddon plan, but it will be completely robbed of all the bees except the young, downy, just hatched ones, which is not the case with the Heddon plan, and after swarming will positively be prevented in every case. If no increase is desired, the escape can be left in place for a longer period-21
