EVENTS OF THE WEEK

A GRAND MASQUERADE - The Res masque ball was a surprise be eause of its magnificent success. The Armory was crowded. About 250 enacquers took part in the grand prom-enade. The music, lead by Mr. Everest was excellent. The feature of the evening was the war dance of the Delawares The bold braves that took part in it were decked out in all the picturesqua-tioery of the savage, and it was preceded by a march to the music of the tom-ter

The main treuble is proficient. The main facts in the events oroximately thus: Two prisoners had been taken by the Delawares from the Horons, one of them a white woman; a Huron messenger came asking their release; but the Delawares resolved to burn Uncas, the male prisoner, at the take, such being the dictum of Tame-nund, the aged Delaware medicine man, in the council of the braves; Uncas-open his garments and displays the totem of the eagle on his breast; his captors instantly relent for they recognize him as their kin, and Uncas signi-fies his readiness to lead them on the warpath against the common enemy; the war dance follows with Uncas in the center of the howling savages who cleave numerous imaginary craniums with their swinging tomahawks. Un-fortunately the Indian that beat the tom-tom imagined he was clubbing salmon and broke his drumstick. Many striking characters were represented The one that undoubtedly earned the prize was Johnny Morrissy as a Chinese coolle.
